MINTON BOASTS HE'S A PRODUCT OF A 2 PCT. CLUB

Astounds Senate in Hatch Bill Blast.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Senator Minton.

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Senator Sherman Minton, Indiana Democrat, took the senate floor today and amazed his colleagues by asserting he was the product of a 2 per cent club. He further stated that the Hatch clean politics bill now before the senate would destroy such "organizations of the little fellow" and with them destroy the Democratic party.

Vote on Bill Today.

After the debate in which Minton participated, Senator Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky announced that opponents of the controverted proposal had agreed to permit a final vote tomorrow.

Altho the senate's passage of the bill when it reaches a final vote is assured, Minton, leader of its opponents, intimated there is no certainty that President Roosevelt will sign it when and if the house passes it. The Indiana senator had just come from the White House, where he had luncheon with the President.

[Latest developments in the legal action against the Horner 2 per cent club, which has been intensified by the mysterious death of F. Lynden Smith, former head of the organization, are on page 6.]

Calls Self Rubber Stamp.

Frankly calling himself "a rubber stamp" and "a 100 per cent New Dealer," Minton intimated that the administration is not eager to see the Hatch bill passed. His observations tended to confirm the word previously circulated by New Dealers that Mr. Roosevelt did not mean it when he gave lip service to the Hatch bill at his press conferences last week.

Minton, in his defense of 2 per cent clubs, referred to the provisions of the bill which forbid all nonelective officials and employés of state, county, and municipal agencies which are financed in whole or in part by the federal government to take an active part in politics. The measure also forbids all elective officials of such agencies to coerce or intimidate their subordinates on the pay roll.

Rips Into Republicans.

The self acknowledged rubber stamp New Dealer and 2 per cent club representative inveighed against the Republican minority for voting unanimously, on amendment after amendment, in support of the Hatch bill.

"Rubber stamps!" he cried. "Rubber stamps. They don't want to purify these rich campaign contributors. They want to purify the little fellows. They want to purify these 2 per cent clubs. I'm a representative of a 2 per cent club.

"I'm a 100 per cent New Dealer, but they're 100 per cent Hatch act. Being a rubber stamp myself, I've long since given up hope of getting anything from the rubber stamps across the aisle."

Denies Democrat Split.

Minton denied the contention of many politicians that the Hatch act controversy had split the Democratic party. "When this fight is over," he said, "I'll be back on the side of my leader, Senator Barkley."

Minton denounced the Republicans for voting solidly against an amendment by Senator John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.], a foe of the Hatch bill, to limit campaign contributions from any individual to $1,000. The amendment was defeated by a vote of 45 to 36.

Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.], another New Deal 100 per center, then offered an amendment to strike out the section of the bill barring political activity by state machine pay rollers concerned with the spending of federal funds. All similar amendments have been rejected.

Minton tomorrow is expected to make his last stand against the Hatch bill on an amendment to blanket into the civil service system all federal pay rollers who are barred from political activity by the Hatch act of 1939.

Ocean Air Line Maps 9 Hour Hops to Hawaii

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Juan T. Trippe.

Plans for daily flights, in huge four motored land planes, between the Pacific coast and Honolulu on a nine hour schedule—this calls for cruising speeds of 270 miles an hour—have been completed by Pan-American Airways system. Juan T. Trippe, president of the company, announced the flights here yesterday and said they are expected to start by midsummer, 1942.

Speaking before the Chicago Association of Commerce in the La Salle hotel, Trippe said the company's board of directors has approved a development program calling for a radically new type of air liner.

Planes to Exceed Clipper Speed.

"The plane we have in mind," said Trippe, "is much larger than the Douglas DC-4 or the Boeing 307 type. It will be considerably more powerful and much faster than the Boeing Clipper ships that we are now flying over the Atlantic and Pacific oceans."

He added that his company expects to sign a contract for the purchase of several, probably three, of the new airplanes within one month.

The present Clipper ships weigh 82,500 pounds, their four motors develop 6,000 horse power for take-off, and they cruise at approximately 140 miles an hour for long range flying.

Trippe said in an interview after his speech that commercial aviation is about ready to begin stratosphere flights, enabling cruising speeds to be greatly increased, fuel consumption markedly reduced, and pay loads proportionately enlarged.

Time Can Be Cut in Half.

Pan-American's present schedules over the 2,400 mile sea flight from San Francisco to Honolulu allow for 16 to 22 hours in the Boeing boats. By turning to the highly efficient land planes these schedules can be cut approximately in half. And long range cruising speeds can be increased as much as 150 miles an hour.

The establishment of the fast daily service is dependent upon approval by the Civil Aeronautics authority of Pan-American's petition to be allowed to use both Los Angeles and San Francisco as terminals.

Trippe also said that Pan-American is ready to begin flying passengers, mail, and express from the United States to New Zealand in Boeing Clippers beginning May 15. This service is awaiting final approval of the CAA. It would originate in San Francisco.

CONGRESS DISCOVERS IT COSTS MONEY TO SHAKE ROYAL HANDS

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—It cost congress $2,294 to shake hands with the king and queen of Great Britain last summer.

The item was disclosed today when testimony before a house appropriations subcommittee was made public. The house and the senate split the bill evenly.

The reception, held for their majesties in the capitol rotunda, lasted less than an hour. The expenses were largely for floral decorations, velvet ropes and other incidentals.

BURIES $100,000; FEARS PENALTY IF HE DIGS IT UP

Death Valley, Cal., March 13 (AP).—Death Valley Scotty says there is $100,000 lost in the desert mountains and he wants to know whether the United States government will fine him or send him to jail if he finds it. It is in yellowbacks—10 $10,000 gold certificates.

Knowing that gold certificates were called in seven years ago, the desert recluse wrote to the secretary of the treasury saying he buried the money in the mountains about 1909 and afterward cloudbursts covered it up.

"If I can find it, will I be fined or imprisoned?" he wrote.

In Washington the treasury said that 52 gold certificates of $10,000 denomination which should have been turned in to the government in 1934 are unaccounted for.

Police Silence Mike Boyle's Tavern Music

Every nickel-in-the-slot music box in Englewood's taverns was silent last night by order of Capt. Eugene Barry of the Englewood police. The reason: George Steder bought one of the automatic phonographs, or juke boxes, and felt that he was competent to buy new records and take out the nickels.

Steder, a retired printer and member in good standing of the Typographical union, has a small tavern at 958 West 59th street. Neighbors who are his principal patrons asked him why he didn't have some music.

Buys Box on Instalments.

Two months ago he bought a juke box on 28 weekly instalments.

He did not know that most of the 10,000 music boxes in Chicago's taverns had been installed by members of the International Association of Automatic Electrical Phonograph Owners. Nor did he know that members of Michael J. Boyle's Electrical Workers' union, local 134, service the music boxes—collect the nickels, bring the new records, and make repairs.

Last Friday a young man called on Steder. "Nice music box," he said. "I'm from the Electrical Workers' union. I'm going to service it."

"There's nothing wrong with it," Steder replied. "I own it. I'll take care of it."

Union Wants a Percentage.

"O no," said the young man, as Steder told the story. "We're going to service it and take a percentage of the money."

"I'll have to think about it," Steder told him. "Come back Monday."

On Monday morning an expensive car drew up. One of the two men inside stepped out and began picketing Steder's tavern with a sign proclaiming the tavern unfair to the union.

Friends of Steder told Capt. Barry about the picketing yesterday. The captain said he wanted no music box trouble and silenced them all.

FIRES 4 TIMES; CABINET MAN, 2 OTHERS STRUCK

Seized After Attack in London Hall.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lord Zetland.

LONDON, March 13.—Sir Michael O'Dwyer, former lieutenant governor of the Punjab in India and an advocate of stern measures in ruling subject people, was assassinated by an Indian gunman tonight. The assailant, firing four shots, also wounded a cabinet member, Lord Zetland, and two other former officials of British rule in India. Lord Zetland recently was assailed by Mohandas K. Gandhi, Indian nationalist leader.

The attack occurred in Caxton hall in London soon after O'Dwyer had completed a speech before the Royal Central Asian society and the East Indian association.

Without warning, the Indian arose from his chair near the speakers' table, pulled out a pistol, and fired. O'Dwyer slumped to the floor, instantly dead with a bullet in his chest.

Cabinet Member Struck.

Lord Zetland, since 1935 secretary of state for India in the cabinet, fell by his chair, grazed by a bullet which later was found lodged in his coat.

The two others wounded, Lord Lamington, former governor of Bombay, and Sir Louis Dane, O'Dwyer's predecessor as lieutenant governor of Punjab, were hit in the arm. They were taken to a hospital, where their condition was described as not serious.

After he had fired his pistol, the Indian made a dash for liberty, crying "make way." He was quickly overpowered, however, by individuals from the crowd. Police then took him away, and later revealed his identity as Mahomed Singh Azad. He was charged with murder.

Description of Shooting.

A description of the shooting was given by Sir Percy Sykey, who also spoke at the meeting.

"I had just finished my lecture," he said. "The place was crowded, with about 50 people standing. Sir Michael O'Dwyer had just finished his speech and Lord Zetland had announced the meeting was over when suddenly I heard what I thought was a bomb.

"I turned around and saw Sir Michael on the floor. I rushed after the assassin. I had noticed him leaning against the wall during the lecture. He went forward as he fired and then tried to escape, but the revolver was wrested from his hand and he was overpowered by the mob. When I turned to learn the condition of O'Dwyer he was dead."

Believed in Vigorous Rule.

O'Dwyer, during the days of his authority over the Indians, believed in stern measures in controling them. There was conjecture that the assassin may have been a relative or close friend of one of the 400 Indians killed when British troops opened fire on a throng at Amritsar, India, April 13, 1919.

O'Dwyer was lieutenant governor of the province at the time, altho the command to open fire was given by Brig. Gen. R. E. H. Dyers.

O'Dwyer, an Irishman, was 76 years old. Often critical of Gandhi, he once called the Indian leader "the biggest impostor that ever fooled the credulity of a people or frightened a cowardly government."

Lord Zetland, who recently appealed to Indian Nationalist leaders to show "a genuine will to succeed and a spirit of compromise" in their demands on the British, was the subject of a personal attack by Gandhi a week ago when Gandhi blamed him for closing the door to negotiation on the issue of India independence.

FINN ARMY CHIEF PRAISES MEN FOR HEROISM IN WAR

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Baron Mannerheim.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, March 14, Thursday.—Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustav Mannerheim, commander of the Finnish army, in a final order of the day, today praised the valor of the Finnish soldiers and acclaimed them as heroes.

The military leader estimated that 200,000 Russians and 15,000 Finns were killed in the 105 day war that ended yesterday.

[Foreign military observers in Copenhagen estimated that more than half a million men were killed or wounded in the war. They placed the total at 565,000, divided as follows: Russians, 250,000 dead, 250,000 wounded; Finns, 30,000 dead, 35,000 wounded.]

Glorious Finnish Army.

Mannerheim addressed his order of the day to the "soldiers of the glorious Finnish army." The order said:

"Peace has been concluded between our country and the soviet union, an exacting peace which has ceded to soviet Russia nearly every battlefield on which you have shed your blood on behalf of everything you hold dear and sacred.

"You did not want war; you loved peace, work, and progress; but you were forced into a struggle in which you have done great deeds, deeds that will shine for centuries in the pages of history.

"More than 15,000 of you who took to the field will never again see your homes. But you have also dealt hard blows, and if 200,000 of our enemies now lie on the snowdrifts, peering with glazed eyes at our sky, the fault is not yours. You merely followed the stern rule of war: Kill or be killed.

Fought on Many Battlefields.

"Soldiers! I have fought on many battlefields, but never have I seen your like as warriors. I am as proud of you as tho you were my own children.

"I thank all of you, but I wish especially to stress the valor of your officers of the reserve. Theirs has been the greatest sacrifice in this war in proportion to their numbers, but it was made joyfully and with unflinching devotion to duty.

"I then thank the staff officers for their skill and untiring labor and finally I thank my own closest assistants, my chief of the general staff, my quartermaster general, the army commanders, the army corps commanders, and the divisional commanders who have often transformed the impossible into the possible.

"I thank the Finnish army in all its branches, which in noble competition have done heroic deeds since the first day of the war. I thank the army for the courage with which it has faced an overwhelmingly superior enemy equipped in part with hitherto unknown weapons, and for the stubbornness with which it held on to every inch of our soil.

1,500 Tanks Destroyed.

"The destruction of more than 1,500 Russian tanks and 700 enemy aircraft on our soil speaks of deeds of heroism which were often carried out by single individuals. With joy and pride my thoughts dwell on the Lottas [Lotta Svards] of Finland. [These are the women who have a special organization to help the army.]

"Their spirit of self-sacrifice and untiring work in many fields liberated thousands and thousands of men for the fighting lines. Their noble spirit has spurred on and supported the army, whose undivided gratitude and respect they have achieved.

"In spite of all the bravery, the government has been compelled to

BLACKOUT REMAINS IN FINLAND DESPITE PEACE WITH RUSSIA

Street lights were a mere flicker in the blackness. Restrictions on the sale of alcoholic beverages remained in force.

Air raid wardens patroled their beats and civilian guards assigned to bomb shelters were at their posts.

There was little grumbling. Residents had become accustomed to the wartime mode of living.

UPROOTED FROM LANDS CEDED IN SOVIET TREATY

BY DONALD DAY.

Vaino Tanner.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, March 13.—A mass migration of Finns in search of new homes—comparable with the great migration of Poles who were transplanted after the division of their land by Adolf Hitler and Josef Stalin—today became the first necessity of Finland in building a new future after accepting Russia's stern peace terms.

A total of 450,000 residents uprooted from the Karelian isthmus, from the territory north of Lake Ladoga, and from Viipuri and other towns ceded to Russia, must be resettled and provided for.

Some of the victims are families who fled their homes in the war zone in the early days of the war. They must move again to relieve the lot of the persons who sheltered them in crowded homes.

Forced to Give Up Homes.

Many Finnish soldiers, when they retreat to the new frontiers fixed by the treaty, will be forced to give up their farms, some of the richest in Finland, on the Karelian isthmus. The Finnish government has little means to help the unfortunate persons.

At the same time that Finland was taking the first steps to comply with the treaty—the army begins troop withdrawals on Friday—the government began preparing for the protection of the new Finland.

Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner disclosed that conversations looking toward a defensive alliance with Norway and Sweden would be started soon. He said the initiative came from Finland. Negotiations for such an alliance were arranged before the war with Russia, but were halted by the conflict.

Aim to Resist Aggressors.

The Scandinavian defensive alliance, if it is effected, would be intended to protect the independence and boundaries of Sweden, Norway, and Finland from aggression—presumably German or Russian.

The first measure of compliance with the peace treaty begins with withdrawals on Friday, at the rate of 7 kilometers [4.5 miles] per day, to the new frontiers fixed north of the Karelian isthmus and north of Lake Ladoga.

All troop withdrawals must be completed by April 10. On that date, too, the Russians are to have withdrawn from Finland's arctic Petsamo region, the only territory which the Russians won in battle and will return by treaty. The territory to be regained includes Finland's valuable nickel mines.

Reds Get Fort in Ten Days.

The Finns must hand over to the Russians their Gibraltar-like fortress at Hango within 10 days. Hango is in southwestern Finland guarding the entrance to the Baltic sea from the Gulfs of Bothnia and Finland.

The Finns guaranteed Russia that in their withdrawals they would take all necessary measures to protect property in ceded territory against sabotage. Specifically mentioned were airfields, bridges, dams, barracks, power stations, railways, and telegraph lines.

A Finnish-Russian agreement also provided for an exchange of prisoners of war at the earliest possible moment, but a special agreement will cover the actual exchange.

Two Cabinet Members Quit.

Two cabinet ministers resigned in protest against acceptance of the Russian peace terms. They were War Minister Juho Niukkanen and Minister of Education Uuno Hannula.

Foreign Minister Tanner in a conversation with newspaper men denied that Britain and France had pressed Finland to continue the war.

He gave the western empires thanks for "large quantities" of war materials, "altho they had no obligations to Finland." He also expressed gratitude to the United States for monetary assistance and for the volunteers who came from America.

Finns Resign

a. m. [3 a. m. Chicago time] today, it became known that some of the fiercest fighting of the war took place in the final 7½ hours before peace. The Russians and Finns were attacking and counter-attacking on three fronts and air forces of both sides were active.

The Finnish aviators, however, returned to their bases an hour before the armistice. The Russians bombed two towns, wounding three civilians.

The Finnish army greeted peace silently, but with discipline. This evening chaplains conducted field services and the chief theme of their brief sermons in the barracks, snow covered forests, and field hospitals was Finland's unity, her strength, and the loyalty of her leaders.

Arctic Retreat a Task.

KIRKENES, Norway, March 13 (AP).—Fighting on Finland's arctic front died down after 10 a. m. today, with between 10,000 and 12,000 soviet troops due to withdraw under the peace treaty. In view of difficult transport conditions the April 10 deadline for withdrawal of these troops from the Petsamo area was considered very short. With hundreds of tanks and armored cars, some of the troops must march 90 miles to Liinahamari before they can return to Russia by ship.

BLAMES SCANDINAVIANS

HELSINGFORS, Finland, March 13 (AP).—Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner in a radio address to the nation today asserted that Finland was compelled to accept Russia's peace terms because of failure to obtain troops from other countries to carry on the war.

Declaring that the Scandinavian states—Norway and Sweden—did not regard themselves as being in a position to send troops to Finland because of their attitude of neutrality, Tanner continued:

"The western allies [England and France], after hesitating for some time in the beginning, have announced their willingness to send to this country a fully equipped expeditionary force if this country so requests. This promise has been frequently repeated during the past weeks.

Scandinavian Refusal.

"Our military command has carefully studied this scheme for our assistance. It has been found to be effective in every respect. Yet it contains one weak point. How are these reinforcements to reach this country?

"The only possible route lies across the Scandinavian countries, thru Norway and Sweden. The governments of these two countries have been approached by the Finnish government on several occasions with a request for permission for allied auxiliary forces to pass thru their territory. A similar request has been made by the governments of the allies. This permission, however, has been categorically refused on behalf of both countries concerned. . . .

"Thus our country has been left to settle its relations with our powerful opponent alone. . . . We have shown the path which small nations must take in the face of demands by dictator states. It has not been our fault that the democratic states have either been unwilling or unable to help us in this unequal struggle.

Couldn't Carry on Alone.

"All that can be said against us is that as a nation we are too small. In spite of the great success of our defense, we cannot alone carry this struggle to a victorious end.

"As no help is forthcoming, the outcome of the struggle is plain. If war continues, this country is in danger of being conquered and its population of being placed in a hopeless position.

"When this eventuality became plain we began to explore the possibilities of peace. . . . Contacts [with Russia] finally led to the departure of delegates of the Finnish government for Moscow on March 6 to open direct negotiations with the soviet government.

"Meanwhile, however, hostilities have proceeded as intensely as ever. It is probably a unique phenomenon that delegates of a state proceeded in the midst of a fiercely raging war to an enemy capital to negotiate without a previous armistice.

No Armistice Before Peace.

"The soviet government, however, was not desirous of agreeing to an armistice before peace had been concluded.

"During the negotiations . . . in Moscow delegates of the soviet union presented their terms for peace. These terms are unexpectedly severe compared with what the enemy has so far succeeded in achieving by war. They also greatly exceed the demands presented by the soviet government last autumn in the name of the increased security of Leningrad.

"Our delegates have attempted . . . to secure alleviation of these terms, but in vain. In spite of the severity of the terms the government has regarded assent to them as being in the national interest.

"As we have no hope of securing better terms by continuing the war it has been preferred to agree to the present terms rather than continue a hopeless war.

No Political Demands.

"No political demands have been presented to us. The soviet union does not intend to interfere in either our domestic or our foreign policy. That would indeed have been a demand which we could not have accepted.

"Further, the right of this country to self-determination remains inviolable. The Kuusinen [puppet] 'government' to which the future fate of this country was to have been entrusted according to the scheme drawn up at the beginning of the war has been thrust aside.

"Peace imposes a heavy burden on this country. In the government's opinion, the wisest course was to conclude peace while our resistance was still unbroken.

"Peace has thus returned to this country. But what a peace!

"Henceforth the nation will continue its existence in a state of mutilation. Its old frontiers have been altered. Areas of vital importance have had to be surrendered, including important industrial and agricultural areas.

"The population of ceded areas will have to seek new dwelling places.

"Our future possibilities for defense are weakened.

"With the restoration of peace we shall return to a more normal existence in the measure in which the continuing war between the great powers allows. We must begin to remedy the wounds struck by war. A new work of construction must be begun.

"Our country has been devastated before this, during the course of its history. Its population has once been reduced by nearly half. Even from such depths we have ascended again.

"Finland will become a vigorous nation and her people prosper as before.

"One thing, however, is essential. The unanimity which war brought us we shall, it is to be hoped, preserve.

"We must forget the past and look to the future. If we succeed in this, it will be a promise of regeneration for Finland, after the blow we have endured."

Tanner emphasized that Finland was drawn into war thru no fault of her own and declared it was evident from the start that the struggle would be an unequal one.

SWEDEN WARNED THAT ITS DANGER IS NOT OVER YET

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 13 (AP).—Foreign Minister Christian Gunther warned tonight that the "danger is not over" for Sweden and hinted at a possible defense alliance of the northern countries as a result of Finland's peace with Russia. Addressing the Swedish parliament, Gunther said the question of strengthening coöperation among the northern countries should be submitted to "an unbiased examination."

Gunther said Sweden had acted only as an intermediary in the peace negotiations and categorically denied Germany had tried to exercise any influence over her. Sweden put no pressure on Finland to accept Russia's terms, he added.

"The northern countries should be prepared to direct their policy more purposefully than before," Gunther said. "As a result of Finland's altered frontiers our own position has become worse, viewed generally, than it was before the conflict."

BRITAIN HINTS BIG LINER MAY BE PUT IN USE

LONDON, March 13 (AP).—Sir Samuel Hoare, lord privy seal, hinted in the house of commons tonight that Britain might use the giant liner Queen Elizabeth before the war is over.

His hint was contained in a statement balancing Britain's shipping losses against new construction — a figure which showed a net loss of 230,000 tons, but did not include the 85,000 ton Queen Elizabeth now berthed in New York.

"I would not like to say the Queen Elizabeth will not be useful for several purposes in the war later on," Sir Samuel added.

FINNISH PEACE ENVOYS NEAR HOME BY PLANE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 14, Thursday (AP).—Finland's four peace negotiators passed thru Stockholm early today en route from Moscow to Finland. The four, Premier Risto Ryti, Dr. Juho Paasikivi, Gen. Karl Rudolf Walden, and Prof. Vaino Voionmaa, dined at the airport after arriving in a plane from Riga, Latvia. They conferred with Eljas Erkko, Finnish minister to Sweden, and then left in a Finnish plane.

RUSSIANS TAKE VIIPURI IN LAST BATTLE OF WAR

Call Peace Britain's Worst Defeat in Century.

MOSCOW, March 14, Thursday (AP).—The Russian military command early today announced its troops, in a two hour assault just before yesterday's armistice, captured the city of Viipuri, which goes to Russia anyway by the peace treaty with Finland.

While the soviet people and press hailed the peace treaty as a great triumph for Josef Stalin's "policy of peace," and a shattering blow to British and French "imperialist" plans to spread the war over all of Europe, the Leningrad military command told of the fall of Viipuri.

Stormed in Two Hours.

Its communique said:

"13th March: At 7 a. m., after two hours of storming, the soviet troops occupied the town of Viipuri. On other sectors of the front there was nothing important up to 12 noon. At 12 noon, Leningrad time, hostilities ceased on all sectors of the front in conformity with the peace treaty."

Russia's foreign office hailed the Finnish peace as the worst defeat suffered by Great Britain in a century.

The soviets not only gained greatly in territorial and military advantage by the treaty with Finland but secured economic gains of great significance. Observers were impressed by the soviet's gain of extensive transit rights thru the Petsamo district to Norway, and the proposed joint Russian-Finnish construction of a railway directly linking the Russian Murmansk line with Sweden. These communications, it was pointed out, may give Russia her most important economic corridor to Scandinavia and the Atlantic.

Russia Gets Copper Mines.

Other observers noted that copper mines near Ladoga fall to the soviets. While the nickel mines in the Petsamo area remain Finnish, the soviets are expected to make a successful bid for part of the nickel exports.

Issues Final Order of the Day.

conclude peace on severe terms, which, however, are explicable. Our army was small and its reserves and cadre [frameworks of military units] inadequate. We were not prepared for war with a great power. While our brave soldiers were defending our frontiers we had by insuperable effort to procure what we lacked. We had to construct lines of defense where there were none. We had to try to obtain help, which failed to come.

Feverishly Arming World.

"We had to find arms and equipment at a time when all the nations were feverishly arming. Your heroic deeds have aroused the admiration of the world, but after three and a half months of war we are still almost alone. We have not obtained more foreign help than two reinforced battalions equipped with artillery and aircraft for our fronts, while our men, fighting day and night, have had to meet the attacks of ever fresh enemy forces.

"Without the ready help in arms and equipment which Sweden and the western powers have given us, our struggle up to this date would have been inconceivable against the countless guns, tanks and aircraft of the enemy.

"Unfortunately, the valuable promise of assistance which the western powers gave us could not be realized when our neighbors [Sweden and Norway], concerned for their own security, refused the right of transit for troops.

Russians Grow in Number.

"After 16 weeks of bloody battle, with no rest by day or night, our army still stands unconquered before an enemy, which, despite terrible losses, has grown in number.

"Nor has our home front, where countless air raids have spread death and terror among women and children, ever wavered. Burned cities and ruined villages far behind the front, as far even as our western border, are the visible proof of the nation's sufferings during the past months.

"Our fate is hard, now that we are compelled to give up to an alien race, a race with a life philosophy and moral values different from ours, land which for centuries we have cultivated in sweat and labor.

"Yet we must put our shoulders to the wheel, in order that we may prepare on the soil left to us a haven for those rendered homeless and an improved livelihood for all, and as before we must be ready to defend our diminished fatherland with the same resolution and the same fire with which we defended our undivided fatherland.

Historic Duty.

"We are proudly conscious of the historic duty, which we shall continue to fulfill: The defense of that western civilization which has been our heritage for centuries, but we also know that we have paid to the very last penny any debt we may have owed to the west."

HORE-BELISHA LEADS DRIVE ON BRITISH CABINET

Lloyd George Also Attacks Failure to Aid Finns.

Leslie Hore-Belisha.

LONDON, March 13 (AP).—Former War Secretary Hore-Belisha angrily challenged the British and French "excuse for inaction" in the dispatch of large scale aid to Finland during a stormy session of the house of commons today. The makings of a full fledged parliamentary rebellion against Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's government became apparent during the debate.

The volatile Hore-Belisha, fired by Chamberlain on Jan. 5, demanded a review of the government's "whole conduct of the war" with Germany, and denounced as a "pure technicality" the British and French stand that troops, altho ready, could not be sent to Finland until Finland formally asked for them. The troops never were sent; Finland made peace instead.

[Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner of Finland yesterday said that no request for British and French troops had been made because the Finnish government had been informed that Sweden and Norway would not permit them to cross their countries into Finland. Britain and France offered to send troops.]

Lloyd George Speaks Up.

White-maned David Lloyd George added somber warning to Hore-Belisha's cutting criticism, and disgruntled Conservatives and Liberals appeared to be uniting with opposition Labor around the two statesmen.

Reliable sources reported that a full debate on the war situation would be held March 19, with Chamberlain presenting a general review and replying to questions of an aroused house of commons.

Hardly had Hore-Belisha demanded such debate before he was joined by Lloyd George, who intoned: "It is the old trouble—too late. Too late for Czecho-Slovakia. Too late for Poland. Certainly too late for Finland.

"It is always too late or too little or both. That is the road to disaster."

Parliamentary observers felt the government might be taken to task in the severest fashion since start of the war. These elements were united in feeling the government was dilatory not only on Finnish intervention but also in prosecution of the war against Germany.

Praises Finns' Fight.

Chamberlain's voice shook as he told of the nation's sympathy for the Finns whose fight "will remain alive in the memory of all peoples."

Altho he said every Finnish request for aid had been answered, he denied under Hore-Belisha's probing that any "requests for men had been made by the Finnish government."

Firmly the prime minister insisted "it always was understood that it was for the Finnish government to decide upon the course of action."

Hore-Belisha then condemned the government for pleading "as an excuse for inaction a pure technicality"—the absence of a direct public appeal from Finland for troops. He asked a full debate on the Finnish question and the war in view of "the magnitude of these events and of their far reaching character."

The former war secretary, open advocate of outright military aid to Finland, asked whether 50,000 French and still more British troops had been ready to fight in Finland—as Premier Edouard Daladier told the French chamber of deputies yesterday.

Wants Account of Speech.

Chamberlain replied that he had "endeavored to obtain accurate accounts" of Daladier's speech but could not comment until such an account was received.

When the house uproar had subsided Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, rose to ask the house for another appropriation, £700,000,000 [$2,800,000,000] this time, for financing the war. The request was granted, 192 to 2.

Simon said that $1,200,000,000 of the $2,100,000,000 appropriated last September had been spent already and that the war was costing Britain about $26,000,000 a day, two-thirds of that going to the fighting services.

TERRORIZE FOUR IN HOLDUP.

A bandit terrorized two owners and two customers yesterday in a hat shop at 208 South Halsted street and escaped with $135. The shop is owned by Arthur and Walter Greenberg.

Admits Romance

SONJA HENIE.

HONOLULU, March 13 (AP).—Sonja Henie, the ice skater, arrived today on the steamship Matsonia for an island vacation, still denying any plans to marry Dan R. Topping, sportsman, also a passenger. Sonja and Topping ran about the decks of the ship holding hands and whispering but issuing denials there were to be wedding bells.

"No, we are not going to get married," smilingly said the film star. "Yes, we are in love—I mean we are friends." Topping nodded confirmation that they were good friends.

JAPANESE PAPER LAYS FINN PEACE TO MOVE BY U. S.

TOKIO, March 14, Thursday (AP).—The newspaper Asahi today indicated its belief that Laurence Steinhardt, American ambassador to Moscow, had arranged the Russian-Finnish peace because the United States hoped thereby to free Russia for continued pressure on Japan.

"Despite Secretary Hull's denial, there are signs that the American ambassador mediated between Finland and the soviets," said Asahi. "Why did the United States find it undesirable for the Red army to continue its hard struggle in Finland? Perhaps because it was thus incapable of turning its attention in other directions."

GERMANY SEES CLEAR PATH TO OWN TRIUMPH

Believes Northern Peace Strengthens Hand.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 13.—The Germans tonight viewed the end of the Russo-Finnish war as paving the way for "a smashing victory over the western powers which alone can give Germany the security she needs."

End of the fighting in Finland removed pressure on Germany's northern flank, Germans said, and left her free to concentrate all her energies and resources on the western front.

The Russo-Finnish treaty was described as "an empire defeat of such proportions that its full facts cannot yet be estimated."

Cite Spanish War.

The Germans believe that the empires planned a pincer assault on the Russian-German alliance by having England attack in the north and France in southeastern Europe and the near east. This plan, they feel, now has collapsed.

In Berlin the British explanation that Norway and Sweden would not allow the passage of an empire expeditionary force to Finland was regarded as "an attempt to pass the buck" to the Scandinavian countries. Germans recalled that once they decided to send the Condor legion of artillerymen and airmen to the assistance of Gen. Francisco Franco's Nationalist Spain they found a way to do it.

The United States also came in for some criticism. The German press said that altho America "shrieked loudest" about helping the Finns, when it came to "shelling out a few dollars" very little was done.

Source of Nickel.

Germany now will be able to get nickel from Finland in considerable quantities. Before she was able to import it only in restricted amounts. Nickel, requisite in the production of high grade steel, is found in the Petsamo region which, under the Russian-Finnish peace, is to be returned to Finland.

In the trade treaty which Russia is expected to conclude soon with Finland, Germans said, exploitation of the Finnish nickel mines would be conceded to the soviets who, in their turn, would supply Germany with the much needed metal.

Reports circulated in Berlin tonight that Rumania and Turkey were willing to conclude nonaggression treaties with Russia. This, the Germans asserted, would shatter all empire plans to cut off Germany from the Caucasian and Rumanian oil supplies.

SOVIET REPORTED SEEKING A TRADE PACT WITH ITALY

Reds Believed Lining Up Friends in South.

ROME, March 13 (AP).—Russia was authoritatively reported tonight to be following up her successful conclusion of her war with Finland by initiating trade negotiations with Italy in an attempt to win friends in the south.

The new negotiations were reported impending after a day in which Germany agreed to supply Italy with most of her coal needs by rail to circumvent the British blockade and the Fascist chamber approved army and navy budgets totaling $379,000,000.

Authoritative sources said a Russian trade commission may come to Rome soon to negotiate a new treaty. The commission's chief was reported to have left for Moscow for final instructions.

There was speculation that a definite move might be under way for improvement of Italian-Russian relations such as German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop was reported to have urged on Premier Mussolini early this week.

1,000,000 Men Under Arms.

Gen. Ubaldo Soddu, undersecretary of war, introducing the defense budget, revealed Italy has 1,000,000 men under arms and fortifications protecting the length of her land frontiers, including those facing Germany.

Soddu said Italy's military power had been increased since September by creation of three new army corps, 20 new divisions, and 20 additional regiments of divisional artillery. He said army personnel had been increased by recruiting 1,000 officers, 1,500 subalterns, and 6,500 noncommissioned officers. During the last year 30,000 reserve officers were trained and 18,000 specialists, tank and truck drivers, recruited.

Dim Hope for U. S. Coal Deal.

The German coal agreement dims the prospect of Italy obtaining coal from the United States because of high shipping costs, informed quarters said.

Rome trade circles understood that during an experimental period in January and February Germany sent Italy a monthly average of 500,000 tons of coal, half of Italy's needs. Because of this Italians hope to obtain 9,000,000 tons a year by rail.

This would leave 3,000,000 tons to be obtained elsewhere. An effort to cover this shortage from Britain is expected to be made in trade negotiations with Britain.

REPORT RESUMPTION OF SOVIET-JAPANESE FIGHTING ON BORDER

SHANGHAI, March 14, Thursday (AP).—Resumption of fighting between soviet Russian and Japanese troops on the Nomonhan front on the border of Outer Mongolia was reported here today in unconfirmed advices from Manchukuo. Fighting in that area was ended last September by an armistice.

The reports said the soviets had advanced five miles and were moving troops and equipment eastward on the Trans-Siberian railway.

The Russians were reported to be increasingly adamant concerning negotiations of the border demarcation commission begun after the end of last summer's fighting, but which ended when the soviet delegates walked out.

Protest Russian Flights.

TOKIO, March 13 (AP).—The foreign office today lodged a strong protest with Moscow against the alleged flight of Russian airplanes over Japanese territory in the southern half of Sakhalin Island, north of Japan proper.

CANADA FACING LARGEST BUDGET IN ITS HISTORY

OTTAWA, March 13 [Special].—Canada is facing a billion dollar budget for the fiscal year which begins next month. It is far greater than any budget in the Dominion's history. In the world war the national budget rose to $576,600,000 in 1917 with a deficit of $315,800,000. The peak budget was $786,000,000, in 1919, when the deficit was $436,300,000.

For next year the estimated war outlay is $500,000,000 with a normal expenditure for nonmilitary purposes of somewhat more. This would exceed a billion dollars. But improving conditions probably will open the way to economies which may hold total expenditures within that sum.

The economies will be chiefly in special estimates covering the railway deficit and relief items, which together totaled $122,000,000 this year. Of this, $44,000,000 was for the Canadian National railway. However, the railway's earnings have improved and a gain of as much as $20,000,000 is considered possible in the next 12 months. The relief exxpenditure may be cut in half. War expansion, moreover, is bringing a corresponding expansion in government revenues.

FINLAND WEEPS AS IT GETS NEWS OF PEACE TERMS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, March 13.—Finland greeted peace today with a hush that was funereal. Flags were flown at half staff and men and women wept in the streets as they discussed the tremendous sacrifice made for peace with Russia.

Shortly after noon, when the peace terms became known to the public, the shops and cafés, where the Finns like to chat over cups of coffee, became empty. In their sorrow the people had gone out to seek the comfort of their friends.

Not One Celebration.

A war had ended—but nowhere was there a celebration.

Newsboys stood on corners and offered extra editions of the afternoon papers, but the demand was not brisk. The news was so bad the people were not eager to read it. The newspapers appeared with deep black borders.

The atmosphere seemed one of mourning as the Finns stood about radios and heard their foreign minister, Vaino Tanner, tell them that the republic's guns, which had challenged the might of a nation many times Finland's size, were stilled, and of the peace terms dictated by Moscow. Tears filled the eyes of the staff of the broadcasting studio as Tanner spoke into the microphone.

Bitter Against Sweden.

Thruout Finland anger is expressed against Sweden because she refused, in order to maintain her neutrality, to let foreign troops pass thru the country to help the Finns.

The Finns declared their capitulation could have been averted if they had had sufficient bombers to attack soviet troops in the narrowest part of the Karelian isthmus and enough artillery to break up the Russian lines.

STABBED, BEATEN, AND ROBBED.

Juvenal Vasquec, 44 years old, was stabbed and beaten early yesterday in an alley near his home at 1135 North Wells street. His assailants then robbed him of $2.50.

FATE OF FINLAND STIRS FRENCH TO SAD REFLECTIONS

Welles' Return to Paris Hardly Mentioned.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 13.—With public opinion disconcerted over the peace treaty between Finland and Russia, French foreign office officials and the American embassy tonight said no plans had been made yet on how Sumner Welles, American undersecretary of state, would spend the day in Paris tomorrow.

It is certain that Welles will pay a courtesy call on Premier Edouard Daladier, but beyond that no other conversations have been scheduled. Welles' plane is expected to arrive around noon tomorrow from London.

In the general public emotion caused by the settlement of the war between the Finns and Russia, scant attention has been given to Welles' return. Comment on it has been reduced to a few lines with small headlines on back pages.

Express Grave Fears.

No secret was made here of the fact that the soviet-Finnish peace was upsetting. Grave fears were expressed that the peace was engineered from Berlin as one maneuver in a series aimed at liquidating the hostilities generally.

It was the sole topic of tonight's newspapers. Commenting on the dramatic end of the war, Pertinax, well informed political commentator, said that it had been a moral rather than a material blow to France and England, but he declared that material damage would be added to the moral if the British and French found themselves unable to keep Germany from getting Swedish iron ore or from keeping either Russia or Germany from gaining a foothold on the Norwegian Atlantic coast.

Blame the Swedes.

The general tendency here was to take a crack at the Swedes and lay the blame on them for the failure of any aid to reach the Finns. Papers this afternoon predicted that the Swedes would pay heavily eventually for not opening up their country for passage of an Anglo-French expeditionary force toward Finland.

None seemed to doubt that a peace offensive was in the offing, which they said would be for the purpose of allowing Russia and Germany to catch their breaths before another jump.

DEPUTIES PRESS FRANCE FOR NEW FINNISH FACTS

PARIS, March 13 (AP).—French officialdom tonight washed its hands of responsibility for the Finnish-Russian peace, but the demand of several deputies for immediate debate on the matter showed that not all France was satisfied with the government's explanation.

The government labeled the end of hostilities a "capitulation" by Finland resulting after the Scandinavian countries "deliberately abandoned all guarantees against German and Russian enterprises."

France increased her provisional 1940 war budget from 249,000,000,000 francs [about $5,321,375,000] to more than 255,000,000,000 francs [about $5,450,625,000]. The chamber finance committee approved the credits. With civil budget needs, France intends to spend 334,000,000,000 francs [about $7,139,150,000].

WELLES LEAVES ENGLAND TODAY ON WAY TO ITALY

New Visit with Mussolini to Close Tour.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 13.—With his mind packed full of British views on the war and his formal clothes full of wrinkles, American Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles tonight ended his three day social whirl with the leading figures of the British government.

Tomorrow Welles will fly to Paris, where he will board a train for Rome on his way back to Washington, D. C., to report to President Roosevelt. Nothing is known of his program in Rome, which he will reach Friday, but he is expected to see Premier Mussolini again regarding peace possibilities and Italian-American economic relations.

As he prepared to leave London, the fourth major capital he has visited on a peace mission that has met with nothing but suspicion, Welles received news from home that Secretary of State Cordell Hull denied initiating any peace moves, a suggestion that now fills the air.

Easter Peace Bid Hinted.

The most persistent report from the United States, to effect that Mr. Roosevelt intends to launch a peace drive on Easter or immediately after Welles returns with his report, is greeted with frank skepticism here because Welles' mission is regarded as a Roosevelt move to further his third term ambitions. This view and also the view that the expedition can bring no peace found Italian, German, British, and French officials in agreement thruout the tour.

Welles' most important activity of the day was his second dinner with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain. This dinner was given at No. 10 Downing street for select guests and Britain's leaders repeated what has been dinned into Welles' ears—that Britain and France can make no peace with Germany because European civilization would fall if such a peace were made. The Russo-Finnish peace, it was added, has not weakened the British-French front. Welles listened carefully but made no comment.

Long Talk with Lloyd George.

Of second importance in the day's activities was his meeting with David Lloyd George, premier during the world war. They conversed for an hour and 20 minutes.

Others whom he met were Anthony Eden, dominions secretary; S. M. Bruce, Australian high commissioner; James Maxton, independent Laborite, and Lord Derby, leading sportsman.

Questioning in the house of commons brought a statement from a government spokesman that Welles had not handed the government any memorandum concerning America's postwar foreign economic policy.

FRANCE URGED TO BAR LIQUOR USE BY WOMEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 13.—Total prohibition for women, as far as high proof liquors are concerned, was proposed today as a means of tightening France's restrictions on alcohol consumption.

A committee of food and liquor merchants whose businesses have been affected by recent restrictions laid the proposal before Paul Reynaud, finance minister.

The committee proposed that restrictions on the sale of apéritifs less than 23 proof be removed but that the sale to women of apéritifs over 23 proof should be banned. It also proposed that home brewing, declared to be largely responsible for the alcoholism that exists in France, should be made unlawful.

FRANCE PASSES DEATH SENTENCE ON WOMAN SPY

MARSEILLES, France, March 13 (AP).—The first death sentence for espionage handed down in France against a woman since the war began was imposed by a military court here on Eugenie Lupz, a German. Details were not made public. In cases of common crimes death sentences against women are customarily commuted by the French president to life imprisonment. A precedent for wartime espionage cases, however, was set during the world war, when a number of women, including the famous Mata Hari, were executed.

CALL WOODRING IN QUIZ ON U. S. AIRCRAFT SALES

Capital Storm Rises Over Empire Purchases.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring and Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, were requested today to appear before a house subcommittee early next week in connection with an inquiry into purchases of planes and munitions by foreign countries.

Representative Harter.

The call was issued by Representative Dow Harter [D., O.], chairman of the aviation subcommittee of the house military affairs committee. The action resulted from the storm brewed in the capital over the sale of military aircraft to the British and French empires despite a possible detrimental effect on this country's national defense.

Senate Inquiry Sought.

Reports that British and French purchasing agents, not satisfied with release to them of one of the army's newest fighting planes—the Curtiss P-40 pursuit ship—now want the latest secret aircraft developed for the army and navy, also brought these developments:

1. A resolution was introduced in the senate by Senator Robert M. La Follette [Prog., Wis.], calling for an investigation of whether sales to foreign countries delayed American national defense plans, involved the release of military or naval secrets, or raised the cost of this nation's armament requirements.

2. As a result of congressional curiosity on the subject, the aircraft situation was reviewed at a White House conference. Officials who attended the conference later contended that national defense requirements were being filled on schedule and that there was a misunderstanding over the release of planes for export. Presumably they had been authorized to speak by the President.

Matter Will Get Airing.

With an airing of the whole matter in congress, some observers saw a repetition of the scandal of a year ago when it was disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt had ordered the release of a secret bomber for inspection by a French military mission. Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau had been active in pressing for release of secrets embodied in the experimental Douglas bomber, against the objections of the war department.

Morgenthau is now the President's liaison representative in dealings with the British and French purchasing agents. It is understood that these agents have approached Morgenthau again with a request to have six or seven newer type planes released for export.

Current interest in foreign aircraft purchases has been stimulated particularly by the testimony last week of Maj. Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, who told the house appropriations and military affairs committees that the 170 million dollars appropriated last year for the army's plane expansion program would be 20 to 30 millions short of meeting requirements. He is understood to have testified that foreign orders were raising the cost of rearmament by the United States.

Wants All Facts Known.

La Follette, in explaining his resolution to the senate, said that the senate, the house, and the country are entitled to all of the facts requested. He asked early consideration of the resolution by the military affairs committee to which it was referred.

The White House conference was attended by Morgenthau, Woodring, Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Lewis Compton, Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson, Gen. Arnold, Rear Admiral John H. Towers, chief of the bureau of naval aeronautics, and Capt. H. E. Collins, chief of the treasury procurment division.

After the President's conference Johnson said that despite the press of foreign orders, American airplane plants are making their deliveries on schedule to meet this country's national defense program. He admitted, however, that a "bottleneck" has developed among manufacturers of high powered aircraft engines due to inability to obtain skilled mechanics and precision machine tools.

Johnson also disclosed that another plane has been released for export. This, he said, is a modified version of the army's new Lockheed P-38 twin motored interceptor, powered by Allison engines.

Admiral Towers said that four new types of navy fighting planes have been, or will be, released for foreign sales by the joint board.

Sues Ex-Husband

Mrs. Anne Fowler McCormick.

New York, March 13 [Special].—Mrs. Anne Fowler McCormick filed suit today in New York Supreme court for $33,845 against James A. Stillman, her former husband and one time chairman of the board of the National City bank. The amount is due her, she claims, under an agreement made in 1931. According to the complaint, Stillman was obligated to maintain for her a 500 acre estate at Pleasantville, N. Y. She said one wing of the house burned in 1932 and that its restoration cost $35,645, of which her former husband paid only $1,800. She is asking that he be required to pay the balance.

The Pleasantville property was awarded to Mrs. Stillman as part of a settlement reached in June, 1931, when the Stillmans were divorced.

ROOSEVELT HITS AT PEACE TERMS IMPOSED ON FINNS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—President Roosevelt said today that the end of the Russo-Finnish war does not clarify the inherent right of small nations to maintenance of their integrity against attack by superior force.

The President reiterated his condemnation of last Dec. 1 against the use of force in the settlement of disputes and the disregard for international law. The White House issued a statement that Mr. Roosevelt now wants to supplement his former declaration by saying:

"The people of Finland, by their unexcelled valor and strong resistance in the face of overwhelming armed forces, have won the moral right to live in everlasting peace and independence in the land they have so bravely defended.

Finland Gains New Respect.

"The President reiterates that the people and government of Finland have again increased the respect and warm regard in which they are held by the people and government of the United States, even tho it is clear that by virtue of an attack by a neighbor many times stronger they have been compelled to yield territory and to accept a material weakening of their own future defense of their independence.

"The ending of this war does not yet clarify the inherent right of small nations to the maintenance of their integrity against attack by superior force."

Envoy Confers with Hull.

Finnish Minister Hjalmar J. Procope said of the President's statement: "I personally appreciate it very highly as a new affirmation of the principles of justice and morality."

Procope had conferred with Secretary of State Cordell Hull and was shown a copy of the statement before it was released. The Finnish minister appeared dejected as he arrived at the state department, but emerged from the conference smiling.

GOV. JOHN W. BRICKER FILES PETITION FOR SECOND NOMINATION

Columbus, O., March 13 (AP).—Gov. John W. Bricker asked Ohio voters for a second term today, declaring his administration had kept a promise to reduce expenses and avoid new taxes. He filed nominating petitions for the Republican primary, May 14. Senator Robert A. Taft announced that he would enter the Ohio presidential primary before the Friday deadline. He said there was little political significance to the move, explaining that primary attention was centered almost exclusively on the selection of convention delegates.

"It's customary for any Ohioan who is running to enter the preferential primary," Taft said, "but outsiders seldom enter because it is a formality which doesn't mean much."

Returns by mail postmarked before midnight will not incur penalties.

More than 4,600 reservations have been received by the committee. Federal Judge William H. Holly will preside, and Dr. John A. Lapp, chairman of the group, will be moderator. Following Mrs. Roosevelt's address there will be an open question forum.

Gen. Johnson Improved After Minor Operation

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, newspaper columnist and retired army officer who once headed the National Recovery administration, was described as improving today at Walter Reed hospital where he underwent a minor operation. He is expected to leave in a few days.

NEW EXPLOSIVE FORMULA GIVEN TO COMMITTEE

Most Powerful Known, Senators Told.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13.—The senate military affairs committee burned the notes of its official stenographer today after an inventor had revealed the secret formula of a liquid oxygen-carbon explosive which, he said, is many times as destructive as TNT or any other explosive known to military science.

Lester P. Barlow.

The committee voted to destroy the notes, and burned them in a waste basket on the committee table when informed by Lester P. Barlow, co-inventor of the new explosive, that the formula never before had been revealed. Barlow and George B. Holderer, both associated with the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft company of Baltimore, Md., have developed a new bomb containing the new explosive.

Set Hearing Monday.

A resolution introduced in the senate by Senators Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] and Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.], and in the house of representatives by Ralph E. Church [R., Ill.] calls for the creation of a joint commission of observers and a $25,000 appropriation to conduct experiments with the bomb for national defense.

The military affairs committee called a joint meeting of the military and naval affairs committees of both houses for next Monday, when officials of the war and navy departments will be asked why they have not given the inventors a hearing.

Barlow told the committee today, according to members present, that he wanted to conduct an experiment in which a 1,000 pound bomb would be detonated at a height of 30 feet. Goats would be staked out at varying distances up to several thousand yards to determine the killing radius.

Safe to Handle.

Barlow also told the committee that the explosive was safe to handle, could not be exploded by fire, shock, or impact.

Army and navy officers have expressed doubt that the liquid oxygen-carbon explosive could be handled safely. Barlow contends that the army and navy high commands are reluctant to consider the explosive because it would make obsolete every airplane and every warship in the world.

ENGLAND BANS STORY OF FLYER'S RESCUE BY TWO GERMAN AIRMEN

LONDON, March 13.—Two German airmen rescued a British air force officer when he brought down his third Heinkel plane near Berwic, east Scottish coast, a few weeks ago, but the story was censored, it was revealed in the house of commons today.

John McGovern, Independent Laborite of Glasgow, was given that information when he asked Air Minister Sir Kingsley Wood why permission was denied to newspapers to disclose the full story of the rescue of Squadron Leader A. D. Farquhar and why the Germans had not received public credit for this "humane act."

Wood told him the details had been suppressed for security considerations. Pressed to specify the considerations, he said he was unable to do so. "As a matter of fact," he added, "there are other considerations."

RESCUE 22 WHEN GERMAN VESSEL SINKS IN MYSTERY

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, March 13 (AP).—The German steamer Eschersheim, 3,303 tons, sank mysteriously today near Loenstrup, off the coast of Jutland. Twenty-two members of her crew were saved.

Observers on shore said it appeared the ship was scuttled, since she settled slowly. The ship was bound for Oslo, Norway, from her home port, Bremen, with coke.

It was reported at Bergen, Norway, today that the Norwegian freighter Balder was seized near the Norwegian coast by a German warship and taken to a German port.

CHICAGOANS OF A CENTURY AGO (1)

By CALEB

ON THE writer's desk lies a real rarity of the yesterdays—a 72-page pamphlet entitled Fergus' Directory of the City of Chicago, 1839. The steel-engraved portrait gracing its frontispiece is that of Robert Fergus, and its folios represent his painstaking compilation efforts, made during a Chicago residence extending from July 1, 1839, to his death in June, 1897. As head of the Fergus Printing Company during that time, he performed this invaluable labor; and shortly after the Great Fire had wiped civic records out of existence, published his 1839 Directory on Feb. 1, 1876.

This is the first effectively authenticated Directory; although, as the publisher points out, "The first Directory of the city was carelessly canvassed for by James Wellington Norris, attorney, in the latter part of 1843. It was printed and published by William Ellis and Robert Fergus." A still earlier Directory of a sort, filling six pages at the back of a pamphlet issued in September, 1839, had carried names of business men only, and was titled The Chicago Business Directory. To that incomplete version, Robert Fergus had devoted years of checking, verifying and amplifying—and out of the 1839 population of 4,200 it carries some 1,600 names.

"There were no numbers on any street except Lake Street at that time," explains the preface, and "the numbers now given are those of the present day" (1876). For corroboration, Fergus submitted his listing to prominent fellow-citizens "whose recollections of the days of 1839 are still bright"—and these contemporaries warmly endorsed his 1839 Directory's correctness.

As appendices to this unique record appears a roster of 1839's six churches—its fifteen hotels (one of which, the Tremont House, burned down in October, 1839)—its fifteen public buildings—its mayor (Benjamin W. Raymond), aldermen, high constable, assessors, chief engineer and other city officials—a list of the mayors of Chicago and sheriffs of Cook County to 1874—the Charter Election roster of May 2, 1837—a record of the votes cast (709) for first mayor in the city's six wards—Chicago's annual population growth to 1877—and a "Historical Sketch" prepared for the Directory already referred to, launched in 1843. . . .

Delightful as an informative memoir in itself, and background for endless speculation, this Directory of a hundred years ago is one of the most fascinating affairs imaginable. Who were the Chicagoans of that day, and what were they doing?—how did they feel about the city's(!) future?—are questions that warrant the reader's interest in some deductions to be drawn from this history-haunted document in a subsequent discussion.

MAY ASK COURT TO PROBE DEATH OF LYNDEN SMITH

Slush Suit Counsel Awaits Inquest Findings.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 13.—The Circuit court of Sangamon county will be asked to investigate the strange death of F. Lynden Smith, Gov. Henry Horner's director of public works, if evidence uncovered at the coroner's inquest warrants the move.

This was disclosed today by Attorney Arthur M. Fitzgerald, counsel for a state policeman who has sued for an accounting of the funds of the Illinoisans, administration campaign fund collecting agency. Smith, who directed the Illinoisans, was named a defendant in the suit, as were eight other Horner men.

Smith Knew the Secrets.

Smith knew all the secrets of the disbursements and the collections of the Illinoisans. Attorney Fitzgerald asserted that if the inquest indicates the death of Smith might be related to the pending litigation, he will ask Circuit Judge L. E. Stone to inquire into the death and determine what that relationship is.

Judge Stone, it was explained, could have witnesses brought before him on subpena and then question them about the circumstances of Smith's death. If not satisfied, the court then could direct the state's attorney to continue the investigation and initiate grand jury action.

Smith had been subpenæd to give evidence as a witness in the suit last Saturday, the day his body was found in the bathtub of a room in a Springfield hospital.

Horner Attacks Stelle.

Today was marked by three other developments in state administration and Democratic party affairs:

1. Gov. Horner, who has been ill for 16 months and recently has been bedridden by a cold, summoned friends to his sickroom. He was said to have denounced Lieut. Gov. John Stelle as disloyal and to have denied Stelle's charges that a small ring of unelected officials has usurped the governor's powers. Horner also was reported to have given his first attention to state business in three weeks.

2. Lieut. Gov. Stelle replied to the governor with the statement that the real powers in the state government are held by Samuel L. Nudelman, director of the state department of finance, and other members of the so-called bedside cabinet. Stelle said Horner had been in the statehouse only three times since his return from Florida last April.

3. From Peoria came accounts of attempts to have state employés swear they gave money voluntarily to the administration slush fund raised by a 2 per cent levy on their salaries. Their affidavits were expected to be used in the slush trial at Springfield.

Depositions Have Been Taken.

Attorney Fitzgerald was ill at his home when he announced his intention of pressing for a Circuit court investigation of Smith's death. He said, however, that he expected to be able to appear before Judge Stone Saturday to argue a motion that the defendant Illinoisans be required to produce all their records in court.

Defendants from whom depositions were taken last week indicated that they had records and Fitzgerald hopes to secure a court order under which Smith's records will have to be brought into court. Smith was reported to have burned hundreds of pages of records last Wednesday, shortly after he returned from Florida, where he had been in political exile. Whether these concerned the Illinoisans is not known.

League Dissolved Last Fall.

The Illinoisans is successor to the Iroquois Illinois league, whose purpose also was the collection of Democratic slush funds. The league was dissolved last fall.

The accounting suit, in which the state policeman, Sylvester Steskal, is the plaintiff, charges that altho the Iroquois Illinois league was a corporation, the Illinoisans is merely an organization without legal responsibilities. The switch was made, it is charged, to enable the officers of the Iroquois Illinois league, who later became officers of the Illinoisans, to escape the necessity of accounting for receipts and disbursements.

Edmund Burke, defense counsel, is expected to move Saturday for dissolution of the temporary injunction tying up $200,000 already raised for the 1940 campaign.

Coroner Advised: Don't Rush.

Meantime Coroner W. L. Dragoo was advised by close friends today not to rush thru a suicide verdict based on the incomplete evidence now available on the death of Director Smith. Statehouse Democrats, on the other hand, were said to be urging Dragoo to close the inquest.

In the days preceding his death, Smith told intimates he feared that violence would result from his connection with the materials business, labor racketeers, and politicians concerned with public works and highway building. He was to have been a witness in Chicago before a federal grand jury investigating a reported shakedown conspiracy in this field.

Funeral services for Smith were conducted yesterday and burial is scheduled tomorrow at Pontiac, provided his sister arrives from California.

GOVERNOR RAPS STELLE

Gov. Horner was reported to have discussed state business with Adjt. Gen. L. V. Regan of the Illinois National Guard prior to the visit of his friends.

It was while talking to these friends that he assailed Lieut. Gov. Stelle. Horner was asked about the lieutenant governor's charges that usurpers now are in power. He was quoted as replying: "Any one of my fellows who works for the state and who showed less sense of honor than Stelle I wouldn't have working for the state. I wouldn't have him around as a messenger boy. I have refused to talk with Stelle because I don't trust him, in or out of court."

The governor was said to have appeared weaker than when newspaper men last saw him in January. He was dressed in pajamas, lounging robe and slippers, and occupied a chaise longue in his bedroom. He was reported to have held a cigar in his hand, altho observers could not recall that he puffed at it.

Horner was asked whether he intends to take a personal hand in the primary campaign of Harry B. Hershey, the Horner-Kelly-Nash candidate who is running against Stelle for the nomination for governor.

"Of course. Who the hell do you think I'm for?" was the reply. "I never was and never will be for the other fellow [Stelle]."

BARRED FROM GOVERNOR

Lieut. Gov. Stelle, in a speech given in Decatur, asserted he had been denied access to the governor since June. Stelle said not one constructive measure had been accomplished by the administration since Horner's return to Illinois in April, 1939, after about five months in Florida. He had gone to the southern state after suffering a breakdown in November, 1938, when he campaigned strenuously for the Democratic ticket.

Stelle, who was acting governor during Horner's absence, told his Decatur audience that not one word of criticism was uttered against his administration. He said Horner's subsequent failure to accomplish a great many problems was due to his disability and to "the disloyal clique of self-appointed dictators who have usurped control of the state government."

Asks What Has Happened.

"What has happened to the man who is our governor?" asked Stelle. "Would the man we elected in 1936 have stood idly by while Sam Nudelman extorted a 20 per cent assessment from the salaries of helpless state job holders?

[It was charged last week that a 20 per cent salary assessment for the gubernatorial primary was being made on state employés thru downstate chairmen. The charge followed discovery of such an assessment against the monthly salaries of guards at Joliet and Stateville penitentiaries.]

"Would the Henry Horner of 1938 have sat mute while his loyal friend and campaign manager came to a mysterious death and the state of Illinois was threatened with investigations by the federal government of the activities of his employés?

"Would the great humanitarian of 1932 have permitted the awful toll of 60 deaths in a state institution to go unanswered?"

The last reference was to the typhoid epidemic at the Manteno state hospital last summer.

SLUSH DEFENSE MOVE

Peoria, Ill., March 13 [Special].—Attempts are being made here to dragoon state employés into signing affidavits stating that they not only made voluntary gifts of part of their salaries to the Iroquois Illinois league for Democratic slush funds, but also condoned whatever use was made of the money. It was learned that about 50 employés of the state highway division office here were called this morning into a meeting in the state highway garage, and asked to sign the affidavits.

Signers were asked to approve all acts of the league, including its dissolution. [It was revived immediately as the Illinoisans]. That the affidavits would be used in the pending slush trial at Springfield was indicated in the wording of the opening paragraphs, which read:

"I, and every one of the undersigned, first duly sworn, depose and say:

"That I made payments to the Iroquois Illinois league, an Illinois corporation not for profit, dissolved in October, 1939, identical, except as to amount, and in underlying circumstances similar to those alleged by complaint in Sylvester Steskal vs. William J. Walsh [Horner patronage director], et al., No. 80400, Circuit court of Sangamon county, Ill.

"That at the time said payments were made by me and at all times thereafter, I believed and considered said payments to be gifts to said Iroquois Illinois league."

Records of 3 Republicans Seeking Municipal Court Jobs

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

Following are three more of a series of sketches of Republican candidates for judges of the Municipal court of Chicago to be nominated at the April 9 primary:

WILLIAM L. MORGAN.

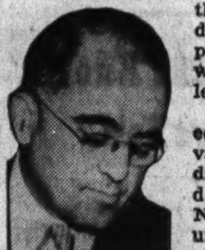
At the age of 62 William L. Morgan still plays a fast set of tennis. Perhaps he's not as good as he was 20 years ago when he won the Albany Park Tennis club championship, but he can still whip a lot of younger men. And he's no mean fellow with a fishing rod.

Mr. Morgan was a judge of the Municipal court from 1920 to 1926. He is supporting the candidacies of Richard J. Lyons for the gubernatorial nomination and Wayland Brooks for the senatorial nomination.

Former Judge Morgan was born in Anna, Ill., and took his law degree from De Paul university, being admitted to the bar in 1909. He was assistant city prosecuting attorney from 1917 to 1920. In his years on the bench he compiled a good record in the Domestic Relations court and was given the bar association indorsement when he ran for reëlection in 1926, and again in 1938.

Mr. Morgan is married and lives at 3048 Wilson avenue.

SAMUEL A. HOFFMAN.



Samuel A. Hoffman.

Samuel A. Hoffman is head of a law minded family. Two of his sons, Arthur and Theodore, are his law partners, and his wife also has a legal degree.

Mr. Hoffman's education was a varied one. In addition to his law degree from Northwestern university, he is a graduate civil engineer and bachelor of science and pedagogy of Valparaiso university. He was the principal of a college preparatory school from 1910 to 1928 and is the author of "Outline of Ancient History" and co-author of a textbook on physics.

The candidate was an assistant state's attorney from 1926 to 1929. In recent years he has been defense counsel in many important criminal cases.

Mr. Hoffman is 50 years old and lives at 2339 Commonwealth avenue. He was born in Kiev, Russia, and was brought to this country at the age of 2. He received his law degree in 1916.

WILLIAM H. HAYNES.

William H. Haynes.

William H. Haynes, colored, has been in law practice in Chicago since 1921 and has also found time to be active in social service work and civic organizations. His aptitude for these outside interests is an outgrowth of his teaching years—from 1916 to 1919 he was professor of economics and sociology at Morehouse college, Atlanta,, Ga.

Mr. Haynes is on the slate put up by the organization of the late former Senator Charles S. Deneen. He was also a candidate for the court in 1934 and 1936, receiving the indorsement of the Chicago Bar association.

He was born in Nashville, Tenn., 45 years ago. He took his law degree at the University of Chicago. He was an assistant state's attorney in 1925-'26, also in 1929, and was a special assistant attorney general under Frank J. Loesch in 1928.

Mr. Haynes is married and has two sons and a daughter. He lives at 5341 Maryland avenue.

SENATE IN N. Y. APPROVES BILL ON HATCH LINES

Albany, N. Y., March 13 [Special].—Winding up a bitter debate today the state senate passed and sent to the assembly the so-called little Hatch bill making it an offense punishable by a $1,000 fine or a year in jail, or both, for any person to use political intimidation to influence the voting power of relief recipients or promise relief benefits in return for votes.

The measure, sponsored by Allan A. Ryan Jr., Republican of Dutchess county, President Roosevelt's home county, was adopted by a vote of 27 to 16. One Democrat crossed party lines to vote with the solid Republican majority in favor of the bill.

The bill makes it unlawful to intimidate, threaten, or coerce a person for the purpose of interfering with his vote; to directly or indirectly promise any job or other benefit as a reward for political support in a political convention or election; or to deprive a person of relief for political reasons or solicit political contributions from relief beneficiaries.

DRIVE TO STOP DEWEY JOINED BY ROOSEVELT, SAYS CAMPAIGN CHIEF

New York, March 13 (AP).—J. Russel Sprague, manager of Thomas E. Dewey's presidential campaign, issued a statement tonight asserting President Roosevelt has "joined the stop Dewey movement."

Sprague referred to the fact Senator Sherman Minton [D., Ind.] had said in Washington, after lunching with the President, that Mr. Roosevelt had agreed with him that Dewey could expect no better than the vice presidential nomination.

"It is becoming clear who it is that the President is most afraid of," Sprague's statement said. "He has joined the stop Dewey movement. And it is a curious coincidence that Mr. Roosevelt should join the stop Dewey movement the day after nation-wide publication of a poll of delegates to the 1936 Republican national convention which showed Mr. Dewey leading all other candidates for the presidential nomination and having almost a clear majority."

OPPOSE NONJURY TRIAL FOR BOWEN IN MANTENO CASE

State's Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro of Kankakee county yesterday declined an offer to hold the second trial of A. L. Bowen, state welfare director indicted for gross omission of duty, before a judge and without a jury. The indictment grew out of a typhoid epidemic which claimed 60 lives last summer at the Manteno State Hospital for the Insane.

Bowen's lawyers suggested that the judge chosen be allowed to decide on a verdict by studying the transcript of evidence presented in the first trial. This procedure, they added, would save the defendant and the state a great deal of expense. The first trial ended in a disagreement on Feb. 26 after a jury had deliberated 96 hours.

Shapiro said he was willing to confer with defense counsel on procedure, but that unless they presented "reasonable suggestions" in ten days he would ask that a jury trial date be set by Judge James V. Bartley.

NEW DEAL USES WAR AS SCREEN, LYONS CHARGES

Tells Attempt to Divert Public Attention.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ottawa, Ill., March 13.—A warning against increasing American involvement in trans-Atlantic struggles, as a method of obscuring domestic issues while election day draws nearer, was given today by Richard J. Lyons, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. Wayland Brooks, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, supported this view.

This campaign team, now on the last week of their downstate pre-primary drive, toured Ogle, Lee, Bureau, and La Salle counties today, speaking at seven meetings with farmers and factory workers and ending at a rally in Ottawa.

Seek Rule at Any Cost.

"The New Dealers," said Lyons in Ottawa, "are looking to the European situation to divert attention from our problems at home and the complete failure of their governmental program. They want to hold their jobs and rule this nation at any cost. He quoted a New Deal columnist as having said: 'War will end debate, promote radical measures without controversy, improve the chances of President Roosevelt for a third term, and people will stop worrying about debt limits, taxes, the constitution, and precedent.'"

Lyons drew attention to recent utterances of Mrs. Roosevelt that America must be prepared to "sacrifice for old world peace," and remarks of Assistant Secretary of State Adolph A. Berle, Roosevelt's financial confidant and adviser, that after the war ends "we shall find ourselves helping to set up a considerable part of the world in business again." He also quoted Berle as having said: "Fantastic as it may now appear, we may soon be handing over some of our accumulated gold as a free gift to reëstablish international currency, to let other nations set their houses in order and thereby reëstablish trade and normal life."

Clew to New Deal Aims.

"This shows how the minds of the New Dealers are working," Lyons said, "and gives a possible clew as to why the New Deal government has been buying gold at $35 an ounce, chiefly from England and France, instead of paying the former price of $20.67 an ounce.

"The United States today owns 17,000 tons of gold—or nearly three times as much as in 1929. It now appears that these gold purchases were made at an excess expense to American taxpayers and wage earners of six billion dollars to permit the sellers a 70 per cent present profit, which helps them finance their current war."

La Salle County Farmer.

Brooks, who was born in Bureau county 43 years ago and who owns and operates a farm in La Salle county, said to his neighbors:

"Sumner Welles now is touring Europe as the personal representative of Mr. Roosevelt. It would be interesting to know what kind of a New Deal he is arranging. That is what happened before we were dragged into the last world war.

"Within the last few weeks, Roosevelt was quoted in the press of the nation as saying, 'It is silly to think of taking any of England's island possessions as payment on that country's debt to us.' The New Dealers don't think it is silly to take our homes when we fail to pay."

LAY DEATH TO HEART ATTACK.

A heart attack was blamed yesterday for the death of Mrs. Maggie Undenstock, 64 years old, of 4508 Highland avenue, Downers Grove. Mrs. Undenstock was found dead in some bushes near her home Tuesday. She had been missing since Saturday night.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

Do you believe Henry Horner's present condition prevents him from carrying out his duties as governor.

Where Asked.

In the loop.

The Answers.

John Thomas, Salem, Ill., business man—I don't think Mr. Horner is capable of carrying on his duties at present. He should either take care of his official business or resign and let the lieutenant governor do it. Public officials should have access to the governor at all times.

Elizabeth Snekser, 8537 Mackinaw avenue, hairdresser—If the governor is too ill to carry out his obligations—and he apparently is—then he should turn these responsibilities over to other officials. Apparently it's too strenuous for him physically to look after his duties.

Maurice Achler, 6747 Merrill avenue, manufacturer—The governor isn't capable of carrying out his duties—he's too ill. The public has the right to know about his health. If he is not able to do business he should step aside and let some one else assume responsibility.

Mae Louise Pelc, 512 Belden avenue, homemaker—I don't know whether the governor can do his work, but he certainly is entitled to seclusion until he regains his health. He should have as much time as he needs to get well. Meanwhile his associates should administer state affairs.

Frank Walsh, 3404 Archer avenue, tavern owner—I don't believe Gov. Horner is in any condition to run the affairs of his office. It should be made public whether he is sick or what is the matter with him. His doors should be open. The public is entitled to know all the facts.

$365,000 Voted for Roads and Bridges in Kane County

The Kane county board voted at Aurora yesterday to spend $365,000 this year on road and bridge projects outside cities and villages. One of the principal improvements will be the paving of a road on the west bank of the Fox river from Aurora to Montgomery.

REPORTS BUILDING UNIONS SWINGING TO LYONS-BROOKS

Electrical Workers' Head Sees 50,000 Votes.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Fifty thousand building trades unionists will throw their support in the April 9 primary to Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidate for governor, and to Wayland Broks, his running mate and candidate for United States senator, Mathew G. Lenehan, said yesterday.

Lenehan, who is financial secretary of the Electrical Workers' union, local 134, said he based his statement on voluntary expressions from members of every craft in the building trades.

Asks Views on Board.

A demand that all candidates for governor and secretary of state make public their views on the state canvassing board was issued by William R. McCauley of Olney, Richland county, Republican candidate for auditor.

"The recent disgraceful performance of the state canvassing board has centered attention on it," McCauley said.

"At the last meeting of the board, a stranger [Alexander Wilson, administrative assistant to Gov. Horner] without a semblance of legal authority, was permitted to sit on the board under the excuse that he had been requested so to do by the governor's secretary.

"The board then proceeded to permit Democratic politicians, who feared to stand on their own feet, to attach their candidacy to a petition for a man for President when the man did not have sufficient courage to sign a legal announcement of his candidacy as the law requires. If elected auditor, I will guarantee a fair and legal hearing."

Announce Green Indorsements.

Indorsement of Dwight H. Green, Republican candidate for governor, by Frank J. Loesch, veteran Chicago crime fighter, and by Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, president of Hull house, was announced by Green's headquarters.

Mrs. Bowen praised Green's honesty and courage and said she believed he would fill the office of governor with intelligence, ability, and integrity. Loesch lauded his firmness of character and background of legal experience and predicted Green's administration would be of the greatest benefit to the people.

A group of Young Republicans, headed by Bill DeCorrevont, Northwestern university football player, took part in a radio roundtable last night in support of Green. Alfred J. Borah of the Young Republicans, acted as interlocutor. Among first voters participating were Marian Irish, a personnel director; R. Esdras Turner, a colored lawyer; Robert Bergstrom, a law student, and Vivian Rankin, a salesgirl.

DIES WEEK AFTER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Catherine Pavlak, 38 years old, was found dead yesterday in her home at 4419 South Hermitage avenue, where she had lived alone since the death of her husband a week ago. Heart disease was blamed.

30 MORE TELL OF FRAUDS IN SEELEY PETITION

Thirty more witnesses testified before County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday that they were not the men whose names were signed as circulators on the petitions of Donald J. Seeley, Republican candidate for clerk of the Probate court. William John Granata, an opponent of Seeley in this contest, has objected to the petitions. Seeley has admitted that the petitions appeared to be fraudulent, but said he had been duped.

At the conclusion of testimony Judge Jarecki expressed doubt as to his authority to order Seeley's name removed from the April 9 primary ballot, holding there is no provision for disposition of such a case. The case then was continued until today.

Edward A. O'Connor, a G. O. P. candidate for state auditor, filed suit in Superior court yesterday asking that county officials be enjoined from including his name on the ballot. He was joined in the suit by Edward T. O'Connor of Peoria, a candidate for the same office. Edward A. O'Connor claims in his petition that he has discovered it is fraudulent. He said "certain persons" asked him to become a candidate and promised to file a petition for him.

They also Serve who only Stand and Wait

IN THE WEEK BEFORE NEW YEAR'S, 1940, Istanbul was quiet as Wall Street on a Sunday.

Robert Canuti, the AP's English-educated Turkish correspondent, hadn't had a first-class story for almost three months—not since the Turko-British treaty handed the Kremlin a short and snappy answer.

▶ But while man was dozing, Nature woke. Beneath the surface of ancient Asia Minor, subterranean ledges lost their age-long balance, slipped and skidded sideways.

The first totals of homeless, dead, and injured—usually exaggerated in such disasters—were not exaggerated this time. Pictures that came by "slow camel" added to the terrible tale. It was the biggest earthquake story since Yokohama.

And Robert Canuti, his months of waiting ended, had it on the wires to the western world before it was known in the streets of Istanbul. At once, the machinery of international relief began to whir, and help was on the way.

▶ Most people think of Press Association men as daring young acrobats of the newspaper world, always somersaulting from one hot story to another... now in Tokio, next in Singapore—now in Bucharest, soon at Brussels.

But the complete, the almost miraculous, world-coverage of the great Press Services comes from men who mostly stand and wait. Correspondents like Robert Canuti in the quieter capitals—and the thousands of "stringers," in the world's little towns and villages, so-called because they paste their infrequent dispatches into a string and measure their payment by the inch.

Men like these form the nerve ends of the wire services—indispensable divisions of journalism's army of 300,000 men.

▶ The development of these world-wide Press Services, accurate, unbiased, and unsubsidized, is an American achievement. It is an outstanding example of American organizing genius—and it has all happened within the lifetime of most news-readers now living. More than that, the Press Services are the standard bearers, throughout the world, of the 20th century American tradition of accuracy and fair play in news-reporting. Something new under the sun.

▶ It wasn't until the 1890s that the dream of the modern Associated Press began to take form. A few courageous pioneers—Victor Lawson, Frank B. Noyes, Melville Stone, and Adolph Ochs—worked zealously for it, and in time press associations began pointing eager fingers at the map of the world and putting new correspondents wherever a fat dot showed an important city.

By the time an emperor with a withered arm unleashed the hounds of war in 1914, U. S. Press Services had spun their webs around the globe. AP's now seasoned network was being kept on its mettle by a lusty young competitor, an independent service called United Press, fathered in 1907 by E. W. Scripps.

Due chiefly to the vision of these pioneers, the U. S., in less than half a century, has shed its news provincialism. Today... let a flood sweep down the Yangtze, a strike begin in Melbourne, a regiment revolt in Addis Ababa, and in a matter of minutes or hours the teletypes in the U. S. begin to chatter.

▶ FLASH—calls the foreign cable, and begins gasping out its own curt, staccato language... SMORNING FRENCH CRUISER AIR-BOMBED IN ENGLISH CHANNEL. "Flash," calls the New York operator. "French cruiser bombed." A rewrite man works frantically, and soon the fingers of another operator start the electric current flowing. Operators in Philadelphia, Chicago, and almost a score of other U. S. cities stand up crying "Flash." In a few seconds, every cranny of the U. S. will have the news.

From 50,000 news sources all over the globe, this river of news flows day and night. For while America sleeps, one half the world is wide-awake, busy getting into and out of trouble, busy making that vivid, perishable stuff called news.

▶ To every self-respecting newspaper, Press Association news is the breath of life. A paper pays for as much of it as it can afford and use. A country weekly can have as little as $18 worth a week, a metropolitan daily as much as $2,500. But whether a paper gets "pony" or multiple wire service, it counts its Press Association service as perhaps its most valuable asset.

▶ Press Association news is just as indispensable to The Weekly Newsmagazine as to a daily newspaper. To be sure, TIME has its own special correspondents, too—its own force of 500 news-scouts—its own check-and-query system.

But the stories from the daring acrobats and the quiet watchers of the Press Associations supply a basic pattern of the world's news... the vital pattern, which in the Newsmagazine becomes the continuing narrative history of our times, followed every week by 700,000 cover-to-cover readers.

This is one of a series of advertisements in which the Editors of TIME hope to give all the readers of this newspaper a clearer picture of the world of news-gathering, news-writing, and news-reading—and the part TIME plays in helping you to grasp, measure, and use the history of your lifetime while you live the story of your life.

FOUR DEMOCRATS SEEK 3 JOBS ON SANITARY BOARD

Incumbents Given Support of County Machine.

The candidates indorsed by the regular Democratic county organization for the three positions open this year on the sanitary district board of trustees are the incumbents, James M. Whalen, Joseph T. Baran and George Seif. All are veteran party workers.

Their only opponent in the April 9 primary election is a near west side undertaker, Anton A. Pociask. Pociask ran for alderman of the 26th ward last year on the Courtney ticket, but was defeated. This year, in addition to seeking a place on the sanitary board, he is opposing Baran for the office of Democratic committeeman of the 26th ward, which Baran has held for the last 18 months. Pociask, who is 44 years old, lives at 1335 Chicago avenue.

Committeeman Since 1916.

James M. Whalen, a native Chicagoan, became Democratic committeeman of the 6th ward in 1916, when he was 28 years old. He has held the post since. He was elected to the sanitary district in 1922, and was reelected in 1928 and 1934. As chairman of the engineering committee he sponsored many of the district's larger engineering projects, including the comprehensive bridge building program.

As a young man he worked for Montgomery Ward & Co., eventually becoming manager of the building materials department. He was appointed chief clerk of the Circuit court in 1915. In 1917 he became county civil service commissioner. He held this office until his election to the sanitary board. Whalen lives with his wife and four children at 6641 Kimbark avenue.

Joseph T. Baran has combined politics with business. He was educated in the parochial and public schools and first went to work for the Globe Life Insurance company. In 1920 he entered the wholesale meat business. He now is president of the Cornell Provision company, 1400 Cornell street.

He has been active in 26th ward politics for 20 years. In 1934 he was elected to the sanitary board for a six year term. Baran resides at 2230 Cortez street with his wife and five children. He is 46 years old.

Seif's Career Varied.

George Seif has been a miner, business man, fire chief, legal investigator, city alderman, clerk of the Criminal court and a sanitary trustee. He was born in Streator, Ill., in 1874. After leaving school he worked for a short time in the zinc mines at Joplin, Mo., then came to Chicago and got a job with a wholesale grocery house.

He resigned later to accept an appointment as assistant fire chief at Streator, then in 1905 returned to Chicago and for the next six years was connected with the law department of the Chicago Union Traction company. In 1911 he was appointed chief investigator for the city attorney's office, and in 1915 became state examiner of chauffeurs at Chicago. Seif was elected alderman of the old 35th ward [now the 34th] in 1923, and served eight years. In 1930 he was elected clerk of the Criminal court, and in 1934 to the sanitary board.

Seif is married and lives at 1628 Humboldt boulevard.

Seattle Mayor Re-elected by a Record Plurality

Seattle, Wash., March 13 (AP).—Arthur B. Langlie, 39, was reëlected mayor of Seattle for a two year term yesterday over Warren L. Cook, automobile rental agency owner. His plurality was 50,697, the largest ever accorded a Seattle mayoralty candidate. Political observers credited Langlie's plans for modernization of Seattle's transportation system, now under way, as a major factor in the big vote he received. His total was 69,931.

MRS. NYE WINS DIVORCE FROM N. D. SENATOR

Fargo, N. D., March 13 (AP).—In a 5 minute court proceeding today Anna M. Nye was granted a divorce from United States Senator Gerald P. Nye, North Dakota Republican. In her complaint, Mrs. Nye charged cruelty. Neither of the Nyes was in court. They were represented by attorneys.

Except for the fact that Senator Nye will be permitted to see his two children, Robert, 18, and James, 16, whose custody was given Mrs. Nye, terms of a settlement remained secret. District Judge M. J. Englert granted a motion on behalf of Mrs. Nye for the sealing of the entire record, including pleadings and depositions.

Judge Englert further ruled that neither party may remarry within 60 days. The Nyes were married in Bayfield, Wis., July 14, 1916.

And the Winner May Get to See Mr. Roosevelt.

Illinois managers for Vice President John N. Garner, who is contesting with President Roosevelt for support in the Democratic state primary on April 9, confounded politicians yesterday by sponsoring an essay contest for Illinois residents in which the first and second prizes, respectively, are.

1. A trip to Washington with the possibility of being presented to Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Garner, and,

2. A trip to Philadelphia and admission to the opening sessions of the Republican national convention.

Call for 400 Word Essays.

The Garnerites announced the project as a "third term tradition contest" and offered the trips and other prizes for the best answers, within 400 words, to the question, "Are you in favor of a third term for the President?"

No explanation was given as to why Democrats were offering prizes of tickets to a Republican convention, nor why Garnerites were offering the lure of an introduction to President Roosevelt.

All Persons in State Eligible.

The contest, headquarters announced, opens tomorrow and closes on April 2. Entries should be sent to Garner headquarters in the Congress hotel.

All persons in the state are eligible to compete, with no restrictions on age. Third prize in the contest will be two seats to all sessions of the Democratic national convention opening in Chicago on July 15. Fourth prize will be $50. Other cash awards also will be made.

Thru Garner headquarters it was learned that Joseph F. Ryan, an Elgin business man, yesterday inaugurated a nation-wide Anti-Third Term league, with the slogan "Third Term Leads to Dictatorship."

"Opinions expressed to me on the third term question indicate we will have a tremendous following from the start," Ryan said, "especially among the women interested in a no third term movement. Those with whom I have talked are convinced the third term leads to dictatorship."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HERSHEY ASSAILS BOSSISM ISSUE AS RED HERRING

Charges Rebel Democrats Ignore Problems.

BY LLOYD WENDT.

Insurgent Democrats who are raising a "bossism" issue in the primary campaign are seeking to evade the real issues, Harry B. Hershey, Democratic candidate for governor on the Kelly-Nash-Horner ticket, said last night. Hershey and his running mate, State Treasurer Louie E. Lewis, candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke in Woodstock, Waukegan, and North Chicago after appearing earlier in the day before Stephenson county Democrats in Freeport.

"They attempt to talk on bossism," Hershey said, referring to the campaign cry of the slate headed by Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, also seeking the gubernatorial nomination. "Bossism has been wiped out of the Democratic party in Illinois. I promise that nobody will boss me but the people of Illinois, whether I am governor or in any other capacity.

Promises Horner to Run.

"I ran for governor because I promised Gov. Horner. I want to see the splendid job he started finished as he wishes. I've made no promises but the promise to run made to him, and I don't intend to make any."

The Hershey group ran slightly behind schedule during the day as it made its way over the icy northern Illinois roads, but it was greeted by good sized crowds at each stop. In Freeport, Floyd Walker, chairman of the Stephenson county central committee, introduced the candidates; in Lake and McHenry counties Thomas A. Bolger, state representative from the 8th senatorial district, made the introductions.

Pleads for Party Unity.

"I want my party to carry on," he said. "Right now we're taking some pretty mean blows. But I'm not going to smear any one. We can't weaken our party. We've got to be ready next fall to stand up against the forces of reaction."

"Gov. Horner has paid off a good portion of the Republican debt on Illinois, and has paid the bills of his own administration at the same time," he said. "He has passed more progressive legislation than any govern we've ever had. Gov. Horner and the elected leaders of your party wanted Harry B. Hershey to carry on this fine work, and I know that a united party will back him and his whole ticket at the polls April 9."

Caravan Makes Camp Here.

Hershey and his caravan will spend today in Chicago, conferring with Chicago organization leaders.

There was also a possibility that Hershey, Senator James M. Slattery, and their running mates, would attend three night ward meetings at the Parkman school, 51st street and Princeton avenue, in the 14th ward; at 3350 Jackson boulevard, in the 29th ward, and at 1440 W. 18th street, in the 21st ward.

Preparations are under way for harmony slate mass meetings Monday and Tuesday nights, after which Hershey and his colleagues will resume their downstate tour. The Monday meetings will be held in the International Ampitheater in the Stockyards, and at Guyon's Paradise, Crawford avenue and Washington boulevard. Tuesday night the candidates will reappear at Guyon's and in the 122d Field Artillery armory, Chicago avenue and Fairbanks court.

DITCHBURNE ASKS VOTERS TO SEVER CRIME-POLITICS

The alliance of crime and politics must be broken, Harry S. Ditchburne, Republican candidate for state's attorney, asserted last night. He addressed the Illinois lodge of the Free Sons of Israel as a guest in their clubhouse, 316 North Michigan avenue.

"Hoodlums and racketeers run the town," Ditchburne said. "The gangsters and underworld have such a grip on affairs of government that men are not safe in operating their businesses today. Reports of the Chicago Crime commission afford voluminous proof of this condition.

"The decent people of Chicago must take enough interest in the government of their town if the organized forces of crime are to be overthrown."

ENGINEERS STUDY SINKING FLOOR AT COUNTY BUILDING

PHONEY CRISES HIDE SPENDING, CHURCH INSISTS

Concealed Debt Exposed by Congressman.

Washington, D. C., March 13 [Special].—Congressman Ralph E. Church, candidate for the Republican nomination for senator from Illinois, said tonight in a radio talk that the New Deal is creating real or fictional emergencies to justify tremendous spending. Under this system of deception, he said, the federal debt would rise at the end of this fiscal year to $1,500 for every average American family.

The talk, carried on in part as a dialog with Congressman John Taber of New York, Republican member of the committee on appropriations, was broadcast by a chain of Illinois stations. Church is to speak from station W-G-N at 8:15 p. m. tomorrow.

Can't Fool the People.

The candidate said the people would not be deceived much longer by this public psychology experiment, nor by the government's use of two sets of books—one for ordinary expenditures and income and another for emergency spending.

Taber said so-called government corporations are being employed to conceal budget deficits and to evade the statutory debt limitation.

"Yes," Church added, "since March, 1938, the administration has created more than 20 such corporations. An important point is that these federal corporations have the power to borrow as much as 14 billion 127 million dollars by the issuance of their own securities, guaranteed as to interest and principal by the government.

Real Debt Concealed.

"There is a formidable volume of hidden liabilities which the public debt figure does not even show, to which the New Deal has obligated every American taxpayer. We find ourselves technically within the 45 billion dollar debt limitation, but actually have exceeded it. No amount of tricky bookkeeping or political psychology can erase the cold facts."

Taber explained his protest against the proposed New Deal housing census.

"This is an election year and such a census would provide jobs for hosts of political workers," he said. "Eight million dollars would be spent asking citizens who holds their mortgages, and the amounts."

"The people naturally resent having political appointees authorized by law to ask silly questions about personal affairs," said Church. "And we should be equally resentful about spending 8 million dollars when we already are overburdened by debts. I have and will continue to offer every possible opposition to this census expenditure."

Canvass of Precinct Voting Records Will Start Today

Officials of the election board began a canvass yesterday of registration records of the city's 3,648 precincts preparatory to the April 9 primary election. Suspect notices will be mailed tomorrow to individuals whose names and addresses in the precincts records cannot be verified. Those receiving notices will have until March 25 to appear before the board to qualify as voters.

YOUNG MOTHER SHOOTS WOMAN IN COURT HALL

Fires Thru Muff Before Custody Hearing.

An embittered young mother, firing three shots from a revolver concealed in her muff, seriously wounded the woman she blamed for loss of her daughter's custody in a corridor outside the Juvenile court yesterday. Another woman, a court officer, was slightly wounded in the shooting.

The target of the bullets was Mrs. Mabel Buchanan, 43 years old, who operates a licensed foster home at 1705 West 99th street, where the child has been boarded by the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society since July, 1938. She was shot in the abdomen and breast. Three blood transfusions were given to her in Presbyterian hospital.

Mrs. Aino Orgo Tossavainen, 25 years old, 734 Briar place, did the shooting. She was disarmed by Policeman Joseph Healy.

Meet Before Court Hearing.

The women met in the hallway just before a hearing on the mother's application to reopen the question of custody of her daughter, Carmen Orgo, 4½ years old. The child was in the corridor at the time of the shooting. She was being brought to court by Mrs. Buchanan and her husband, Walter.

Miss Irene Kawin, deputy chief probation officer of the court, said that as the Buchanans and the child walked toward the courtroom, Mrs. Tossavainen accosted them and remarked, "Mrs. Buchanan refuses to give up my child." Mrs. Buchanan replied, "I have nothing to say about it." Without another word, Mrs. Tossavainen started shooting. A splinter from the corridor marble inflicted a wound on Miss Kawin's leg.

Father of Child Drowned.

Miss Dena McMackin, a case worker attached to the court, said that the child's father, Carmine Orgo Jr., Mrs. Tossavainen's first husband, was drowned in a Lake Michigan yachting accident on Sept. 12, 1937.

The mother and child became wards of the United Charities, and the case came to the attention of the Juvenile court a year and a half ago. At that time United Charities case workers reported that Mrs. Tossavainen, who parted from her second husband after less than a month of marriage, was mistreating her daughter.

On July 22, 1938, the case was brought to Juvenile court by the United Charities, and, upon hearing the evidence, the court turned the child over to the Home and Aid society.

Mrs. Tossavainen was a student for two years at Wright Junior college. She is now on relief and has been receiving psychiatric treatment, according to Miss McMackin. She is to be examined today by Dr. Harry R. Hoffman of the Criminal court behavior clinic.

PROWLER KILLING CASE TO BE GIVEN TO GRAND JURORS

State's Attorney Russell Keeney of Du Page county said yesterday that he would ask the grand jury to pass final judgment on the slaying March 3 of two Lombard youths who were shot while prowling in a Lombard jewelry shop.

His announcement was made after a coroner's jury of six Lombard businessmen returned a verdict that the youths, John McKenna, 14 years old, and Robert McWilliams, 16, were shot to death while robbing the jewelry shop of Robert A. Thomas. Thomas said he killed the youths when he found them in his shop at 25 West Maple street in Lombard.

The case will be presented to the grand jury on April 22.

PAROLEE GETS 1 YEAR TO LIFE IN 1930 ROBBERY

George Burka, 30 years old, a Pontiac reformatory parolee, was found guilty of robbery by a jury in the Criminal court of Judge James F. Fardy last night. His punishment was fixed at one year to life in the penitentiary. The jury of 10 women and 2 men disregarded a count of the indictment which would have made the sentence life imprisonment under the habitual criminal act.

Burka's case was the oldest on the Criminal court docket. He was accused of holding up a filling station at 6434 South Kedzie avenue in December, 1930, while he was on parole from the reformatory. He was identified at the trial by Edward Rodman, 1612 South Trumbull avenue, who is still an attendant at the station.

The defendant denied the charge on the witness stand. He was arrested in February, 1939, in Seattle, Wash. While being returned to Chicago by a policeman he escaped by jumping out of a train window. He was arrested later in Los Angeles, Cal.

Girl, 7, Critically Hurt in Attack by Elderly Man

Mishawaka, Ind., March 13 [Special].—Irene Miles, 7 years old, is in a critical condition at St. Joseph's hospital, the victim of an attack by an elderly man whom she is unable to identify. She was lured into his car while enroute to school. The girl is suffering from a probable skull fracture and shock.

HEAD OF MISSOURI WPA IS CONVICTED OF U. S. TAX FRAUD

Murray, Pendergast Aid, to Be Sentenced Later.

Kansas City, Mo., March 13 (AP).—Matthew S. Murray, until recently one of Missouri's most powerful figures—state WPA administrator and Boss Tom Pendergast's city public works director—was adjudged guilty today of federal income tax evasion.

Matthew Murray.

Judge Albert L. Reeves, who heard the case after Murray waived jury trial, ruled that Murray had failed to pay $6,577 in back taxes on $69,691. The government contended Murray got the money from Boss Pendergast and John J. Pryor, the machine's favored general contractor, for favors he extended. Judge Reeves said he would sentence Murray Monday.

Denies Contract Graft.

Murray, the first Pendergast man to elect to fight in open court since the government began firing tax charges at the city machine, testified that Pendergast and Pryor gave him $49,000 of the money out of admiration for him and that he regarded it as untaxable gratuities.

Murray denied that the money in any way accounted for contracts, such as a $2,221,000 state prison construction project, awarded Pendergast-Pryor interests.

Others in Prison.

Both Pendergast and Pryor are in Leavenworth penitentiary serving terms of more than a year for income tax evasion. They pleaded guilty. Also in Leavenworth on a similar plea is R. Emmett O'Malley, the man Pendergast backed successfully for state insurance superintendent. The government has contended that a $9,000,000 risk rate compromise which O'Malley approved yielded both him and Pendergast a big payoff.

CRAZED KILLER'S PURCHASE OF GUN PROBED BY POLICE

A verdict of double murder and suicide was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury in the fatal shooting Tuesday of an elderly couple by Howard L. Larimer, 18 years old, a crazed student of Morrill school for crippled children, who then ended his own life.

Capt. James Fleming of Gresham station said he was investigating to learn if Larimer purchased the new mail order gun used in the shooting with a scholarship award given him last week by the board of education.

Larimer, who lived at 2803 Union avenue, attempted to rape Bernadette Welch, 16, after invading a flat at 1258 West 83d street, where he shot and killed her grandparents, Hugh Welch, 72, and his wife, Mary Ann, 70. Larimer then put a bullet into his own head when an alarm was raised by Bernadette's sister, Mary Ann, 17, who returned to find her grandparents dead. The only witness at the inquest was Bernadette's mother, Ornila, who said her daughter knew Larimer as a school friend and that he had never annoyed her before.

GROCER'S KILLER GUILTY; PENALTY SET AT 199 YEARS

A jury of five women and seven men last night found Oscar Bragg, colored bandit, guilty of the murder of Vito Addante. The jurors fixed punishment at 199 years in the penitentiary.

Addante, a world war veteran and father of three children, owned a grocery at 369 East 54th street. Last Nov. 17 Bragg pointed a gun at him and demanded the receipts. Addante seized a gun and opened fire, but fell mortally wounded by one of the bandit's bullets. Addante's son, Pasquale, 13 years old, picked up his father's gun and routed the bandit, shooting him several times. Bragg, who is 35, was later captured at 18 East 60th street.

He confessed the murder from the witness stand and asserted that he was crazed by narcotics.

FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN ROOM.

Oscar Fell, 50 years old, was found shot to death yesterday in his room at 5031 Greenview avenue. A pistol lay beside the body. The police were told he had been despondent over ill health.

DR. SCHIRESON GETS INTO MIXUP WITH UNCLE SAM

Charged with Concealing $130,000 in Assets.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 13 [Special].—Dr. Henry J. Schireson, whose so-called beauty restoring surgery in Chicago several years ago brought him into conflict with state authorities there, is involved in federal court proceedings in Philadelphia, where he has been operating for several years.

The self-styled plastic surgeon is charged in the United States District court with having concealed $130,000 in assets when he filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition here in April, 1937. At that time he listed his liabilities as $33,901 and his assets as $334.

The government opened its case by bringing into the courtroom a heavy strongbox which federal agents had come upon in a bank vault. Two tax agents dumped its contents on a table before the widened eyes of a jury of seven women and five men.

Valuables Roll Out.

From the box cascaded a flow of bank notes, stocks, bonds, jewelry, gold cigaret cases, match boxes, cigar lighters, and knives. No estimate was given concerning the value of the articles that crammed the box to the lid.

The first government witness, Harry L. Maloney, United States collector of internal revenue for New Jersey, testified that his agents seized the box in a vault in the Merchantville [N. J.] National Bank and Trust company when the government filed liens against Dr. Schireson for delinquent income taxes from 1918 to 1937.

Assistant United States Attorney Thomas J. Curtin told the jury the strongbox was kept in the bank in the name of Schireson's ward, Rosalie Roberts. In addition to the valuables the box contained a marriage license issued to Dr. Schireson in Pittsburgh in March, 1932, to marry Miss Roberts. The document indicated a marriage ceremony was performed by a Pittsburgh alderman.

Indicted for Perjury.

Dr. Schireson testified under oath in his bankruptcy proceedings last June that he was not married to Miss Roberts. He later was indicted for perjury as a result of his testimony, but has not been tried on the charge.

It has not been revealed how government agents learned of the existence of the strongbox. The trial is expected to take several days, for the government has listed more than 50 witnesses on its side.

Dr. Schireson's license to practice medicine in Illinois was revoked in 1930 by the state department of registration and education after a hearing in Chicago on charges of malpractice. Miss Sadye Holland of Chicago testified she went to Schireson to have a scar removed from her arm and that he induced her to undergo an operation to straighten her legs. Complications after the operation necessitated the amputation of both legs.

In 1933 the Illinois Supreme court reversed the license revocation, holding that incompetent testimony was permitted at the hearing before the medical board.

2 ALLEGED SWINDLERS SEIZED BY POLICE ON CHARGE OF JOB FRAUD

Two men alleged to have swindled 17 persons thru promises of nonexistent jobs were arrested yesterday by Sergt. Frank Sullivan from Commissioner Allman's office. They are C. W. Johnson, 5851 Loomis street, and D. Bernard Berg, 1009 West 55th street. They were charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

O'Sullivan said the men had inserted newspaper advertisments for 100 men, and that 17 visited an office at 15 East 8th street and paid $2 for jobs working for the "Allied Florists' Delivery association" [not to be confused with the Allied Florists' Association of Illinois].

One of those engaged was Policeman James J. Ryan. All were told they could work six days before Easter Sunday delivering flowers, and that part of the payment was for union dues. The Florists Drivers' union, O'Sullivan said, had no arrangement with Johnson and Berg.

DELAY HEARING ON CHARGES OF UNION TERRORISM

Judge William V. Daly in Racket court yesterday continued until March 29 hearing on charges of disorderly conduct against five officials of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association.

The officials are Michael Pollack, Morton Schaps, John J. Farrell, and Robert Krueger. They are accused of conducting a terror campaign to induce members of the newly formed Demonstrators' union, composed mostly of women, to join the clerks' union.

Max Caldwell, another official, is being sought on similar charges.

Insists Government Pay for Road Damages.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 13 (AP).—Gov. Leon C. Phillips today declared martial law at a section of the giant Grand river dam and ordered National Guardsmen to bring work to a halt on the $20,000,000 hydro-electric project.

The governor said 100 National Guardsmen, mobilized earlier in the day and held in readiness at Wagoner, had been ordered to proceed to the damsite in Mayes county, northeastern Oklahoma. He seeks to block completion of the dam pending guaranties that the federal government will pay the state for damages to roads and bridges.

The guardsmen were armed with machine guns and tear gas bombs in addition to regulation rifles and sidearms. Adjt. Gen. Louis A. Ledbetter said no trouble was anticipated.

Wants to Collect Now.

"I've got to choose between being a sucker and letting the state get a judgment it can collect in 1982, or getting it now," Gov. Phillips declared. He said he did not believe the PWA was in good faith about paying the damages, adding:

"They [the PWA] told us they would wait until March 15, then they slipped in there and started closing it up.

"I was watching for them. They tried to pull a little sneak play. I am not excited. It makes no difference what happens, the state will get its roads built."

Phillips had little comment concerning critical statements in Washington by the state's two Democratic United States senators, Josh Lee and Elmer Thomas.

"If they were alert," he said, "they should be able to do something about it. Thomas got the credit for building the dam; he ought to be able to straighten it out."

Assailed by Senator.

Thomas accused Phillips of "stirring up a revolution among his own people," asserting the dam was a state project and the governor should be able to handle it, while Lee confined himself to "regret the governor is taking an attitude which can result only in loss to the people of Oklahoma."

Officials had planned to finish the dam by April 1 and take advantage of spring floods, which they now say are a menace that will cost hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage if the gates are kept open during that period.

Phillips, who seeks $850,000 damage for the state, retorted that court action would not prevail against his use of troops.

GARY THEATER LOSES SUIT ON FILM RELEASES

Federal Judge William H. Holly yesterday dismissed a suit for injunction brought by the Gary Theater company of Gary, which charged the Balaban and Katz corporation and 10 other motion picture producing and distributing companies with monopolistic practices in violation of the antitrust act.

The Gary company, which operates the Palace theater there, contended that under a clearance stipulation it was forbidden to show films until 10 weeks after the national release date—long after they had been run by competing theaters on the south side of Chicago and in the southern end of Cook county. It asked that the defendants be restrained from enforcing this provision.

Judge Holly dismissed the suit on motion of Frederic Burnham, counsel for the defendants. He argued that competition between theaters that paid high prices for films and those that paid low prices made the clearance stipulation necessary.

REDFERNS FIGHT FOR CHILDREN IN 2D DIVORCE ROW

Mrs. Jean Ford Redfern, 41 years old, 610 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park, yesterday began her court battle before Judge Rudolph Desort for custody of her two children, Patricia, 12, and Robert, 11.

Mrs. Redfern is seeking her second divorce from Harry H. Redfern, wholesale butter and egg merchant. The couple were married first in 1921 and divorced in 1935. Several months later they remarried. They separated last Jan. 4 for the second time. Mrs. Redfern charges cruelty.

Attorney Benjamin B. Davis, counsel for Redfern, charged Mrs. Redfern drank to excess and was unfit to care for the children. This was denied by Mrs. Redfern under questioning of Attorney Robert J. Cantwell Jr. Judge Desort continued the hearing until Monday. At present Patricia lives with her mother while the son resides with his father in Highland Park.

CHARGE DRINKING AND GAMBLING IN WPA YOUTH HALL

Roused Villagers Demand Project Be Abandoned.

Hanaford, Ill., March 13 [Special].—Charges that drinking, gambling, and other immoralities are permitted at a government youth center here were made today by the trustees of this southern Illinois village. They asked that federal aid be withdrawn from the project, which they described as a public nuisance.

Copies of a resolution to this effect, passed by the village board, were ordered sent to the national officers of the WPA, sponsor of the project, to the district and county supervisors of the agency, and to Sheriff Ed Powell of Franklin county.

The recreational center has been in operation nearly two and a half years at a cost to the government of about $500 a month. Seven persons are employed steadily at the project.

Once Thriving Mine Center.

Only about 400 persons live in Hanaford, which formerly was called Logan. The village, six miles east of Benton, once was a thriving mining town of about 1,500 inhabitants, but it virtually has been abandoned since the mines were closed several years ago. A large percentage of the few families who remained are on relief. The WPA recreational hall and a general store, where the community's only telephone is installed, are the town's principal gathering places.

The resolution condemning the youth center, signed by Village President C. J. Cairel and Clerk Edward J. Joplin, read as follows:

"It has been brought to the attention of the president and trustees of the village that the WPA recreational center is being conducted in such a manner as not to be a fit place for young people to congregate.

Project Labeled Injurious.

"Drinking and persons intoxicated are permitted to assemble and to indulge in immoral conduct. It is further charged that gambling is permitted to be conducted in the same building and in close connection with the project.

"We are of the opinion that such a project is injurious to the morals of the community and has in fact become a public nuisance. Therefore, be it resolved, that the president and board of trustees of the village of Hanaford condemn the conduct and management of said project and respectfully ask the proper authorities to withdraw financial aid from the same."

Roscoe Anthony, manager of the recreational center, emphatically denied the charges and blamed the action on politics. He said drinking and other misconduct were not permitted at the center and that no protests ever had been made to him by the village board.

"In fact, no member of the village board ever has been in the place," he said.

PREMIER PROMISES JAPAN WILL RESPECT CHINA'S INDEPENDENCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Japan, March 13.—Premier Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai today on the eve of establishment of a new pro-Japanese government at Nanking, promised Japan will fully respect China's independence and freedom. Japan's policy will be based on the great ideal that peace and good will should prevail among mankind, Yonai declared.

Premier Yonai.

He said the common defense against the comintern [communist international] and economic cooperation, which has been advocated by former Premier Prince Fuminaro Konoye, will be the goal of the Japanese government.

Yonai reiterated that, altho the Japanese ardently desire peace, the nation is determined and ready to carry on the campaign no matter how long it lasts "until the eyes of China's anti-Japanese and pro-communist régime finally are opened."

MAYOR TO STUDY PROTEST AGAINST N. W. DUMP SITE

Mayor Kelly said yesterday he would consider protests to the city's announced plan to establish a garbage and refuse dump in Leyden township near Park Ridge. Residents in the district have complained against locating the dump in the unincorporated area on the east side of East River road between Higgins road and Bryn Mawr avenue. On Tuesday Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, protested to the mayor that the dump would violate the county's interim zoning ordinance and would establish a nuisance.

TEXAS FUGITIVE, FREED BY COURT, TO SEEK PARDON

William P. Sabel, 35 years old, walked out of court a free man yesterday after his petition for a writ of habeas corpus to block his return to Texas as a prison farm fugitive was dismissed. The dismissal followed Gov. Horner's refusal to honor extradition papers sent here from Texas.

Sabel, a salesman living at 6417 North Richmond street with his wife and two children, told Chief Justice John Prystalski of the Criminal court that he would now seek a pardon from the governor of Texas. He walked off the prison farm at Huntsville, Tex., in 1930 when he still had 11 months of a two year sentence to serve for forgery.

AMERICAN AID TO STALIN.

If we examine the part our own government had in the war upon Finland we find no reason for satisfaction. Mr. Roosevelt took occasion, when Stalin threw his Red divisions at the Finns, to make an oratorical break in the cordial relations he had established with the Kremlin. The congratulatory messages and felicitations which had gone to the Reds on the anniversary of the revolution since recognition were omitted and Mr. Roosevelt made a sort of apology for his indorsement of government by oppression and terror. It was politically imperative at this time that there be a pretense of renunciation of the practices and principles which had been emulated by the New Deal and adopted by it as the program for America. But this parade of revised sentiments was for home observation. The Finns got little good from it and the Russians suffered not at all.

Americans may reflect that mighty little for Finland came out of the words uttered in Washington and may cast their eyes at the latest futility, the 20 million dollars made available—too late—for Finland in the Export-Import bank. That was a pretext for an appropriation of 80 million dollars which had nothing to do with Finland at all. The talk of a moral embargo against Stalin did not reach the ports from which the American supplies were being sent to help the Reds complete their conquest.

From October to January American exports to Russia totaled 41 million dollars, as against 17 million for the same period the year before, and this was trade in military supplies, such as copper, gasoline, and airplanes. In copper alone, one of the most important materials for war, Russia took none in October but in November bought more than 11 million pounds, increasing to 34 million pounds in December, and to 55 million pounds in January. To the last moment of the war the Finns had American materials used against them and Mr. Roosevelt's new and unfamiliar denunciation of his Russian friends had no effect in embargoing war supplies to the aggressor.

Americans can find no satisfaction in that record nor can they observe without a sense of shame that their government so used moral sentiments to a perverted end.

THE TRANSPORTATION BILL.

After a conference with the President, Senator Wheeler recently announced that the Wheeler-Lea omnibus transportation bill will be passed at this session of congress, despite the opposition of Secretary of War Woodring, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, and Chairman Land of the Maritime commission. The senate bill is a virtual rewriting of all existing federal transportation law.

This bill, if passed, will have the effect of making obsolete many of the decisions of the Interstate Commerce commission and the courts on transportation cases which have been rendered during the last 50 years. The necessity of retrying all these cases might be looked upon with favor by commerce lawyers, but it certainly will not be so regarded by the shippers and transportation companies involved. The bill also places all forms of transportation, except aircraft, under the dictatorial jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce commission. The managerial powers of that body are extended to water carriers. This is accomplished by giving it the power to fix minimum rates.

Senator Wheeler makes the sweeping statement that he is doing everything in this legislation to safeguard and protect water carriers. The power of the commission to establish minimum charges for them belies this assertion and alarms those shippers who have heretofore enjoyed the economies of water transportation. They know that for 20 years the commission has had jurisdiction over joint rail-and-water rates and that the rates fixed have invariably ranged from 80 to 95 per cent of the all-rail rates. Such a differential does not represent economies to the public from rail-water service, much less economies of all-water service.

There has been no public demand for the bill in question. It is the outgrowth of a report made by a committee of six appointed by the President to draft a legislative program for the railroads. This committee was made up of three representatives of management and three of labor. The shippers and the public, who pay the freight, had no representation on it. Labor is dissatisfied with certain provisions of the bill regarding consolidation and insists no employé shall lose his job as the result of combining different railroads into one system. The railroads themselves, altho anxious to hamstring their competitors by the provisions of the act, are not in entire agreement upon all of the technical features of the bill.

Proponents of water transportation, of course, are bitterly opposing its passage. Various farm organizations also are up in arms against it. A valiant fight, which has assumed the aspects of guerrilla warfare, has been made against the bill. There has been too much sharpshooting at technicalities on the part of each group affected by it and not enough blasting at the fundamentals of the proposition in defense of the best interests of the whole country.

It should be clearly recognized that the passage of this bill will be a further movement in the direction of government by men rather than government by law, a trend which has brought bad rulers and a scrimped economy to countries where it gained its end. Such transportation law will practically assure eventual government ownership, not only of railroads but of water carriers and other facilities.

After discussing the matter with the President, Senator Wheeler emphatically stated his opposition to the sale of the Federal Barge Line to private companies. This opposition on the part of the senator and his support of the provisions of this bill, which permit the government, thru the Reconstruction Finance corporation, to make loans to railroads unlimited in the aggregate and upon flimsy security and to foreclose upon railroad properties in the event of their default, clearly point to the fact that nationalization of transportation is the objective.

FINLAND MAKES PEACE.

Finland has accepted a hard peace with Russia. The territory seized by the soviets is more extensive in area than the land demanded before the negotiations broke down and the war began. In addition, the little country has suffered severe economic injuries and, altho its casualties are not fully revealed, thousands of its soldiers have died in the defense of their country. Nevertheless, all the honors, moral and military, are with the Finns.

The attack upon them was the revolting act of brutal aggression by Red Josef, who could afford to be as little considerate of the lives of his own conscripts as he was of the rights of other people. Finland could not and did not menace Russia. Stalin's alliance with Hitler carried the assumption that Germany was not to be feared. The unprovoked invasion of the small, honorable, peaceable, and valiant nation was villainous.

The Finns resisted with skill and courage so long as reason could give them any justification or their prospects give them any hope. Then they made a peace which, hard as it is, is not one imposed on a defeated and subjugated people but one agreed to as the best to be obtained by a nation still able and willing to carry on the war, however desperate its future might seem to be.

Most of the friends of Finland must feel that this peace is at this time better than a continuance of the war. Unless there is some further treachery in store for them, the people will have the greater part of their country, they will be able to recover from their injuries, they will cherish the memory of their dead, and draw upon their reserves of courage to return to their normal life. They will have their own government, they may be free of the foreign oppressor, and they can await the settlement of the larger questions involved in the bigger war.

All of Europe must await that settlement before it can know what its new conditions will be. By making peace the Finns have, so far as can be perceived at present, not only preserved their independence with honor, to the admiration of the observing world, but they have contributed to the peace of the Scandinavian peninsula. They didn't get adequate help from their Scandinavian neighbors, but it must be remembered that adequate help, even if the last reserve of men and resources had been used, was not obtainable in Sweden and Norway. They, like Finland, are little nations and the combination of all three would have been no match for the Russian mass however ill directed.

It is not without significance to people everywhere that a peace has been contracted without the destruction of one of the combatants. However dim that light may be in the darkness, it does carry its small message, of no importance whatever to warring governments, but certainly a sign of something better to their peoples. Nothing much may be expected of its psychological effect, but nevertheless it is there.

The British and the French, at the last moment, made some ambiguous statements of what they were prepared to do to help the Finns. Daladier said there were 50,000 troops ready to embark on transports. Mr. Chamberlain said the British were ready to use all available material and men against Russia. Both added that Finland had not requested such aid. All of Scandinavia was afraid that the large war might find a northern front.

French and British armies would have brought the Germans in and Finland and Sweden might have been the scene of the greatest battles of the war. In such fighting they would have suffered infinitely more than Finland has in defending itself and preserving what it retains. Whatever advantage the British and French might have expected to get from that, no perceivable advantage to civilization would have resulted from it and the Germans, at least, never believed that the campaign was seriously considered.

Editorial of the Day

"FEES" FOR DRIVING LICENSES.

[New York Times.]

Widespread acceptance by motor vehicle inspectors of "fees" from motorists taking tests for driving licenses has been revealed in an investigation made by the state department of taxation and finance. In the last four months about a thousand drivers have been questioned. Thus far 33 inspectors, more than half of the 60 employed in this area, have been named as fee takers. Those who have been named and who have not resigned have been suspended. They face removal charges under the civil service laws.

At first glance the practice may seem like petty graft, since the gratuities range only from $2 to $5. As a matter of fact, they are bribes not different in quality from any other bribes and even more deplorable in their results, since they affect a great number of people and enormously increase the hazards of life in this city. When an inspector can be bribed to pass an incompetent driver for $5 or less some one else is pretty sure to pay the penalty by going to a hospital. A competent driver, on the other hand, may be kept off the road merely thru failure to produce the expected consideration.

Admittedly these inspectors—and there are doubtless honest men among them—are overworked as a group. The rate of application obliges them to conduct about five examinations an hour, including reading and eye tests. The qualifications of a potential driver can hardly be determined in less than an hour. But if the decision depends upon a fee the technical test is worthless. The whole practice of fee giving and fee taking should be eradicated, promptly and completely. If the basic state test for public safety is tainted by dishonesty all subsequent effort to establish safety on our highways becomes a grim joke.

RUNNING BEFORE THE WIND.

In this season of the year Chicago is indeed the Windy City, in the literal sense of that phrase, for the air flows like a turbulent river of thin ice water from the northeast, day after day and week after week. It is not a high wind, but it is cruel and relentless, harrying a population that is sickly from winter's maladies, lashing at nerves that are impatient for the spring, smothering gayety, chilling good fellowship. This, we believe, is the wind that blows in Hell, according to the fifth canto of Dante's "Inferno":

"I came into a place void of all light, which bellows like the sea in tempest, when it is combatted by warring winds;

"The hellish storm, which never rests, leads the spirits with its sweep; whirling and smiting, it vexes them. . . .

"And as their wings bear along the starlings, at the cold season, in large and crowded troop, so they blast the evil spirits,

"Hither, thither, down, up, it leads them."

This March wind of Chicago is like a trade wind, irritating in its monotony, except that it bears no trade. It sweeps down a cold and empty lake from its birthplace in the barren lands of Labrador and the arctic stretches of Hudson's bay; and it enfolds the skyscrapers with the sterile and dreadful embrace of an iceberg's paramour.

After a few days of this sort of thing we cease to be a loyal Chicagoan. We get out the atlas and put a colored pin in a spot in southern France—not on the much advertised Riviera but in the old kingdom of Navarre, close to d'Artagnan's childhood home. It is the only place in the world where the winds are said to blow not at all. A city of some 33,000 people, with ruined castles to visit and pleasant views in every direction.

Boy, forward all the Linemaster's mail for the next two months to Pau, Basses-Pyrénées, La Belle, France!

A PACT WITH YOUTH.

April will come and with soft sandaled tread
And scented breath awaken earth; but those
Who lie undreaming under arctic snows
Will sense no change nor yet be comforted.
No echoes from that requiem for the dead,
The dissonance of ravening wind that blows,
Pierce their reprieve from pain, the last repose
That comes when all remembering has fled.

And we shall greet the June and jasmine flower
While Finland's fields are sere and none shall reap.
As earth renews her symphony of power,
Vicariously wounded, let us keep,
When challenged by the cycle's ordered hour,

Did You Ever Smoke a "Cocarette"?

The cigaret manufacturers who were so "cagey," until recently, about using woman appeal in their advertising were far behind the times. As early as 1883, cigarets for women were openly advertised in Chicago.

In an old playbill for the Grand Opera house ["Green Room Fun"], we find a wood cut of a sassy looking gal puffing at a cigaret, with the following text:

"COCARETTES—A delicious, fragrant smoke—Cocarettes are made of the finest Virginia tobacco, combined with genuine Bolivian Coca Leaves. The Coca acting as a Tonic and Nerve Stimulant, combined with the Tobacco, renders the use of Cocarettes absolutely noninjurious."

Trying to Collect a Bet.

If the pseudonymous Keegan Lynch will call upon the proofroom of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, he will find Mr. Al Baude, who chases errors out of this column, ready to collect that $50 bet [March 13] about the statue on the south boundary of Lincoln park. For as soon as Mr. Baude saw Keegan Lynch's challenge in proof, he came running to the Linemaster with loud cries of:

"Dr. Greene Vardiman Black, father of modern dentistry! When do I get that $50?"

We hadn't heard that a convention of the American Legion was being held in Brooklyn; but still, a recent first page headline in the Brooklyn edition of the New York News reads:

COMMON SENSE IN CHILD TRAINING.

ALL the rules of psychology and most of our emphasis upon child guidance will be wasted if—somewhere along the line—common sense is forgotten. How essential is this trait in all the affairs of life!

First of all, the physical demands of the infant must be met. He must be clothed, fed, and made comfortable. Then he must be amused and entertained. Later he will teach himself how to keep busy. If we wish to instruct him in some habit and inculcate it as one of the rules of life we will do it easier if we will make the experience a pleasant one.

Sooner or later a goodly amount of freedom can be permitted so that curiosity will be satisfied. Let him move things that are movable. He will learn speedily that the position of the piano cannot be changed to suit his whim. This will lead him to understand that while he may do as he pleases in many circumstances he must learn to obey in others.

We must not demand, however, that the tot shall be docile always—minding without protest. Courage must be developed and certainly no boy or girl should be shielded from every minor buffet or unpleasantness. In fact, some stress—even misunderstanding—may be helpful. Then it is that the youngster may be reasoned with—told the whys and the wherefores—with correct behavior pointed out.

Overindulgence creates more havoc than any other single error. The china doll little girl who is reared to have her way always will make a poor helpmeet when she marries. But the pride and love of mother prompts every sacrifice for the sake of her offspring. This ingrained trait is one of our most powerful and sacred human emotions and we must preserve it forever. But this does not signify that punishments shall not be forthcoming.

Wordy encounters dissipate harmony and the boy or girl of 5 or 6 who rules the household is a living demonstration of neglect in some quarter. Not that there should be cringing fear—but the word of both parents should be so honored that the response will be prompt.

Of all the disrupting elements to peace within the home, spats between husband and wife take the prize. Children recognize discord quickly and they will run to whichever side will offer the most comfort and petting. There can be no real affection or love where there is bickering.

Don't withhold commendation when it is genuine and well merited. In like manner—instead of scoldings for bad behavior—the little one will sense disapproval in a rather solemn, sober cast of countenance. Every one seeks approbation and, after a time, there will be no desire to bring cold looks to the faces of either parent. Making a joke out of misbehavior will destroy the lesson utterly.

The "I won't" lad is always a problem, but to make father or mother a despot in order to overcome this attitude may not cure the trouble. Perhaps there is some physical defect and the physician may help. If not, the backbone of all the elders may have to be strengthened before a negative attitude can be conquered. The woman who complains that she cannot manage Willie needs help. Unfortunately, there are a few adults who have never conquered themselves—who are not fit to be parents. For these, the understanding family doctor has much to offer.

After all, the rearing of children is a family job—governmental agencies, psychologists, mental hygienists, and others to the contrary. In some instances representatives of these groups may be helpful—importantly so—but they should not be called for in one home in ten thousand.

With all of his training the child should acquire naturalness and this characteristic will come if he is reasonably well managed. But some are ill and the first job is to restore them to health. A good doctor—one who understands parents and children alike—is a blessing.

SLEEP.

Mrs. D. R. writes:

1. Can a person sleep too much? 2. If so, what is the result? 3. How many hours are required for a man who does office work?

REPLY.

1. and 2. While it may do no harm physically, one would not wish to be known as a sluggard. 3. Eight hours of good healthful slumber for an adult should be sufficient. Some get along on less.

MILD TEMPERATURE IN CHILD.

D. A. writes: Our 5 year old—apparently in good health—runs a fluctuating temperature ranging from 98.6 to 99.6. What causes this condition?

REPLY.

Some variation is normal—even as high as 99.4. In many cases, the exact cause cannot be discovered—even after exhaustive tests. When no basis can be demonstrated, such rises are usually disregarded. Often they persist for months. While tuberculosis should be considered, some other mild infection may be at fault.

CALCIFIED VERTEBRAE.

I. T. writes: 1. What causes calcified vertebrae? 2. Is diet of any help?

REPLY.

1. Arthritis. 2. Yes—use a balanced menu and avoid an excess of starches and sugars. High vitamin, high mineral feedings are advised.

THE UNTRAINED BRIDE.

Chicago, March 9.—The letter signed "Fran" in the Voice of the People had great significance for me. If her advice is acted upon it will prove invaluable to those women who expect to become brides in the near future. It will also save them a lot of trouble and bitter experience.

I married a girl who knew absolutely nothing about housekeeping, and less about cooking. This was most aggravating to me, as my mother was a connoiseur in the culinary arts, and an exceptional housekeeper. I tried with gentleness and patience to impress on my wife that table cloths and sheets must be washed at least once a month and the house cleaned and dusted at least every two weeks. I explained to her that my mother washed all meats in hot water and soda before cooking, but her only response was that my dear mother was a screwball, and that I was a nut. She continued to scrub the meat with soap.

She had a mania for painting chairs and tables that never dried, with the result that when one sat on the chair it was hard to get up. I asked her to make a lemon pie for dinner, one day. She did, and when I finally broke thru the concrete emplacement that she called a crust, there were six lemons, just as she got them from the store.

She also was extravagant, thinking nothing of running our meat and grocery bill to five dollars a week. Mind often wins over matter. I might have succeeded, were it not for a very annoying incident that showed the utter carelessness of my wife. Tired mentally and physically, I threw myself on what I fondly imagined was the bed. I went right thru. My wife, unknown to me, had taken the spring out on the porch to paint it, and then fastened a quilt to the four posts of the bed so it would look neat in case visitors came

CAMPUS POLITICS.

Bloomer, Wis., March 5.—I accept the challenge of Illinois '26 in which he states, "I challenge any one to show me a single instance of the election of any class president who is not firmly intrenched in a fraternity."

Our son was elected president of the sophomore class, University of Wisconsin, in November, 1939, on the independent ticket. MRS. J. W. VAN CAMP.

MORE CAMPUS POLITICS.

Champaign, Ill., March 10.—I accept "Illinois '26's" challenge in his letter of Feb. 26 to show him not a single instance, but several instances, "of the election of any class officer or vice president, or the winner of any beauty prize or campus queen contest," who are not "firmly intrenched in a fraternity or sorority."

Attending the University of Illinois at the present time are:

If you, Illinois '26, must complain, please try first to obtain a true picture of the situation. Some people may believe your misstatements.

JACK CUMMINGS,
Illinois '41.

PAT AS MACHINE GUNNER.

Chicago, March 9.—I beg to differ with E. D. B., whose letter was entitled "Pat as Machine Gunner." As a machine gunner in the United States army I'll stand by Milton Caniff. The machine gun is fired with the left hand, and the bolt is pulled to the rear with the right hand. E. D. B., to my estimation, could stand a lesson or two about machine guns, and Milton Caniff would be well qualified as the teacher. FRANK W. SCHMUDDE.

FAITH IN RECOVERY.

Chicago, March 11.—I noticed in today's Voice of the People another example of the amusing optimism of the laissez-faire faith of recovery. The writer stated that at the passing of the New Deal the country would naturally recover from its depression. "Business will know that the coast is clear. A great buying wave will take place. Workers will go back to full time jobs with good pay." This is pure dreaming. The writer seems to assume that the mere presence of a Republican administration would cause employers to engage in a mad scramble for rehiring the unemployed.

As to the great buying wave, how can this occur without first the reduction of prices to a more encouraging level, or the raising of existing wages so as to increase the consumer's purchasing power? Would not working hours have to be drastically reduced so as to absorb our vast number of unemployed? Merely to have another 1929 business spurt, would not, contrary to popular belief, employ more than a fraction of the 10 million unemployed. Would not our debt mechanism have to be adjusted so as to follow physical production in a saner relationship than that which broke up in 1929?

An economic mechanism should be the people's servant, not its exploiter, which it has been up to now. Can any one fancy that this can be done except by following a definite national economic program? It appears very certain that a Republican administration would not follow such a course. Only an aroused public, aware of its real economic needs and of the fallacy of present politics, can accomplish this. S. R.

ISLANDS FOR DEBTS.

Chicago, March 8.—Mr. Roosevelt terms it "silly" to think of taking Bermuda and other islands in partial payment of English and French war debts. However, the President does not hesitate to throw United States citizens in jail when they fail to pay the government by way of income tax, nor does he utter a word of protest when homes are confiscated for past due mortgage payments by the HOLC. Maybe I'm old fashioned, but I believe all debtors should be treated equally. MARCELINE DUVALL.

THE FORGOTTEN MEN.

Chicago, March 8.—Thank you for today's fine editorials on utilities. The administration's policy against utility holding companies has hit many investors hard. Investors, of course, already know this only too well, but individually are helpless. It is only thru an aroused public spirit to overthrow the New Deal they can ever hope to break even.

CITIZENSHIP.

Chicago, March 7 [Friend of the People].—A friend of mine emigrated to this country from Mexico on May 7, 1923, as a Mexican citizen. He paid his immigration fee in conformity with the law but, in reality, he is not a Mexican but a Central American. What can be done about it? He has been a good resident and has a family of his own. Is there any possible way for him to become a citizen? B. L. M.

It is suggested that the subject call at this office with any papers he may have in his possession relating to his entry into the United States, in order that all the facts in his case may be ascertained to see if his record of entry is subject to correction in the particular mentioned or, if not, to see if he is eligible to apply for registry under the provisions of the act of March 2, 1929, as amended. If and when his immigration status is adjusted he may take appropriate steps toward citizenship.

FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,
Chicago District Director of Immigration and Naturalization.

FINAL CITIZENSHIP PAPERS.

Chicago, Feb. 21 [Friend of the People].—I was born in the year 1908 and arrived here in 1912 from Europe. Have been married since June, 1928, to an American citizen. I have been told by my husband that I became a citizen by marriage. Some friends told me that I had to apply for citizenship papers for myself. Kindly inform me who is right.

D. S.

Under the facts stated the inquirer did not become a citizen thru her marriage to a citizen as the same took place after Sept. 21, 1922. Under an act of congress approved Sept. 22, 1922, the citizenship of married women on and after the latter date is independent of that of their husbands. However, she may apply for final papers without a declaration of intention [first paper]. An appropriate application blank may be obtained by her in room 718, New Postoffice building, Chicago.

FRED J. SCHLOTFELDT,
District Director of Immigration and Naturalization, Chicago District.

TODAY IN HISTORY

March 14, 1681.

William Penn granted "a tract of land in America north of Maryland, bounded on the east by the Delaware, on the west limited as Maryland, and northward as far as plantable." The grant was in payment of a debt of 16,000 pounds, lent to Charles II. by Penn's father. Penn himself wished the new territory to be named simply "Sylvania," but the English king insisted that the Penn family name be included.

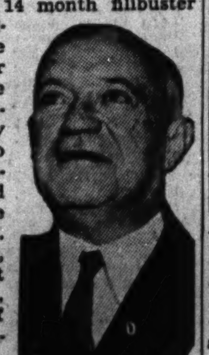
NEW DEAL CLEARS WAY FOR CHANGES IN LABOR BOARD

Roosevelt Orders "About Face" on Wagner Act.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 13. — Terminating its 14 month filibuster against amendments to the Wagner labor relations act, the house labor committee today voted, 17 to 1, to begin consideration of proposed changes in the law next Monday.



Senator Wagner.

Simultaneously, Senator Robert F. Wagner [D., N. Y.], author of the labor relations act, delivered a speech in the senate in which he expressed his willingness to vote for an amendment increasing the present three man labor board to five members.

Wagner's speech and the action of the house committee indicated a sudden about face on the part of the Roosevelt administration, which heretofore has refused to consider any change in the labor relations act.

Hope to Guide Changes.

The administration's strategy, as interpreted in congressional circles, is to sponsor and seek to control superficial modification of the law in an effort to prevent adoption of the drastic amendments proposed by Representative Howard W. Smith [D., Va.], chairman of the house committee investigating the act and its administration by the NLRB.

The administration is said to be fearful of permitting the Wagner act, as administered by the present board, to become an issue in the presidential and congressional campaigns this year.

When Representative Smith's bill was introduced last week Representative Mary T. Norton [D., N. J.], chairman of the house labor committee, said she would oppose not only the recommendations of the Smith committee but all other amendments to the act. She said she preferred to wait and let the people decide the issue in the elections this year.

White House Exerts Pressure.

Mrs. Norton, however, was summoned to the White House yesterday and today her committee adopted a different course.

"We hope to meet every day until we reach a decision on a bill," she said. "By and large, I would say a majority of the committee feels that the Smith amendments have gone too far, but they will be considered along with all proposed amendments."

Smith and others demanding a general overhauling of the Wagner act are not interested in the kind of bill reported by the labor committee. The rules committee is prepared to report a rule permitting any and all amendments, and the enacting clause of the bill is all the Smith forces want to bring before the house. Members of the rules committee had threatened to take the subject matter out of the hands of the labor committee unless it acted within a few weeks.

Seek to Mollify A. F. of L.

Senator Wagner also conferred with President Roosevelt before making his senate speech today. His proposal to add two members to the present board was intended to appease the American Federation of Labor, which advocates a five man board, but wants the present one abolished. However, since the A. F. of L. has no objection to William L. Leiserson, one of the present members, the administration supporters believe that the appointment of two additional members would undermine the A. F. of L. opposition.

The A. F. of L. contends that Chairman J. Warren Madden and Edwin S. Smith, the third member, are violently prejudiced in favor of John L. Lewis' Congress of Industrial Organizations and have attempted to destroy A. F. of L. unions.

The detective found no evidence of violence on the body of the victim. He found fragments of glass on the floor, but there were no fingerprints. Only dust, cobwebs, and dead flies on the window sills completed his findings. The coroner reported the victim had died sometime between midnight and noon of poison gas, probably tossed thru the transom in the glass bulb. Two enemies of the saloonkeeper were immediately suspected. One of these had been working in a nearby factory on the early night shift from 8 p. m. till 3 a. m. The other man worked in the same factory, but from 3 a. m. till 11 a. m. The detective immediately arrested one of these men on the basis of the above facts. Which did he select as the murderer?

Los Angeles, Cal., March 13 (AP).—Screen Actress Ginger Rogers was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce today after she testified Lew Ayres deserted her May 4, 1936. Her mother, Mrs. Lela Rogers, was her corroborating witness. Ayres made no appearance and Superior Judge Clement L. Shinn granted the decree by default. Miss Rogers sued under her married name of Virginia M. Ayer and named the defendant as Frederick Ayer. They were married here Nov. 14, 1934.

GOV. DICKINSON URGES TEACHERS SIGN DRY PLEDGE

Lansing, Mich., March 13 [Special].—Gov. Luren D. Dickinson, actively engaged thruout most of his 80 years in prohibition work, today advocated that all teachers in the public school system who give instruction in temperance education be required to take total abstinence oaths. His proposals met with some opposition in the department of public instructions. Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent, expressed the view that "many phases" of temperance instruction can be imparted successfully by persons with relatively liberal views.

Gov. Dickinson.

The governor said he was sure that pupils would be unimpressed by temperance lectures delivered by a teacher who attended a "wine party" the previous night.

Dickinson had been discussing the problems of temperance education with Mrs. Dore B. Whitney of Benton Harbor, president of the Michigan Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The governor contended that mere lip service to temperance ideals is insufficient to impress school children if they know their teachers "take a drink." Only teetotalism constitutes temperance in the eyes of youth, he claimed.

TWO SEIZED IN JEWEL ROBBERY.

Charles Wilkes, 19 years old, of 1547 North Talman avenue, and Walter Bonecki, 20, of 3254 Potomac avenue, were arrested yesterday in their homes at the request of St. Paul, Minn., police, who said they were wanted for a $3,000 jewelry store robbery.

MILK WAGON DRIVERS UNION ORDERED TO PAY DAMAGES IN STRIKE

New York, March 13 [Special].—The Milk Drivers' union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, was ordered today to pay damages to the Sheffield Farms company as a result of the one day strike last month which deprived 500,000 persons of their milk supply.

The amount of damages was not stipulated in the decision, announced at the office of Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the milk industry in the metropolitan area, but will be fixed after a hearing.

The decision was the first one rendered by Meyer in connection with a strike since he was named impartial chairman of labor relations for the entire milk industry in the metropolitan area on Jan. 3. Meyer, an attorney and a member of the state mediation board, has helped settle some of the city's most menacing labor disputes. His appointment as arbitration chairman, at a salary of $18,000 a year, was agreed on by representatives of both the milk distributors and the unions, and was mutually acclaimed by both groups. He was given full and final authority to settle all differences.

BAN ON PREMIXED CONCRETE PROBED BY U. S. AGENTS

Use 55 Million Cubic Yds. Elsewhere; None Here.

In the last 10 years 55 million cubic yards of premixed concrete have been used in construction jobs by more than 700 companies thruout the United States. None of this type of concrete—acknowledged by contractors to reduce building expenses and time—has been made or used in Chicago.

The reasons for this condition began to be unearthed yesterday by a corps of federal investigators under Leo F. Tierney, special assistant attorney general who is in charge of the investigation into the Chicago building industry. On Monday Tierney got subpenas ordering 20 firms dealing in mixed concrete and mobile mixing equipment to produce business records. He is reported to have obtained information leading to this development from F. Lynden Smith, head of the state department of public works, who died mysteriously in Springfield last Saturday.

Supervised State Construction.

Smith supervised all state highway maintenance and construction and other building projects in which huge quantities of concrete were used. Tierney is reported to have questioned him about contributions allegedly made to politicians and their connection with the use of concrete on state projects.

Heads of several firms are prepared to tell Tierney that the city's backwardness in using premixed concrete is due to the grip which Mike Carrozzo holds on this branch of the building industry.

Carrozzo, as boss of the International Hod Carriers, Building and Construction Laborers of America, has for many years consistently blocked attempts to use this concrete on various construction or paving jobs. Several contractors said yesterday that use of premixed concrete would result in considerable savings both to the contractor and the public, speedier construction, and in many cases better materials.

Mixed on Way to Job.

In premixing concrete the basic ingredients—sand, stone, cement, and water—are weighed and poured together [batched] in a central plant, usually located in the materials company yard. The aggregate is then dumped into a mixer mounted on a motor truck. The driver, before leaving, pulls a lever which causes the drum inside the mixer to revolve. By the time the truck arrives at the building site the concrete is mixed and ready to be poured into building forms.

In Chicago the basic materials usually are trucked separately to the building site, where the concrete is prepared in a stationary mixer. An operator who is a member of Carrozzo's union is assigned to the mixer at an average pay of $15 a day. His duty is to pull a switch to start the mixer and pull the same switch to stop it when the mixing process is completed.

Claim Premix Quality Is Better.

Additional time is lost and expenses mount because the city requires contractors to obtain permits to keep the equipment and materials at the building site, according to one contractor. He asserted, too, that premixed concrete is of better quality because ingredients are weighed more accurately.

If available in Chicago, premixed concrete would cost about $6.50 a cubic yard, another contractor said. This is about $2 less than the ultimate cost under the present system.

"On a five room house, for example," the contractor said, "from $75 to $100 would be saved by the builder on concrete alone. On a job involving 6,000 cubic yards the savings by eliminating a mixer operator would be about 4 cents a cubic yard—and that might mean the difference between profit and loss."

On larger jobs, such as bridge building, premixed concrete is an added asset to contractors, according to the American Concrete institute, because delays would occasion no lost time for concrete equipment.

Obviates Heating in Open.

Another mobile mixer advantage, according to the contractors, is that pouring can be started at any time of the day, entailing little or no overtime. It is especially effective in winter, as the necessity of heating materials on the job is removed.

Savings in road construction, it was stated, are less evident, especially in downstate areas, where considerable expense would be involved in erecting central "batch plants."

Carrozzo has admitted that use of premixed concrete cuts the contractor's labor costs. During a dispute in 1938 over use of mobile mixers on construction of the 103d street viaduct connecting Cottage Grove and Torrence avenues he said the prevailing system whereby men pushed wheelbarrows to transport ingredients to the stationary mixer, then used wheelbarrows to transport concrete from the mixer to the job was only half as fast as a mobile mixer system.

Points which still block agreement on the franchise are the length of the experimental fare period, compensation to be paid the city for use of the streets, who is to pay the the $9,000,000 cost of equipping the subway, and whether the city or company will pay for repaving of streets where buses are substituted for street cars.

SCHOOL DISTRICT TAX RATE RISES IN LAKE COUNTY

Total Assessment Cut Nearly 3 Millions.

Residents in 28 of Lake county's 41 school districts must pay higher tax rates for 1939 than they paid the year before. This was announced last night by Harold McNeill and Walter Smith of the tax department of County Clerk Jay B. Morse's office.

Bills with lower rates will go out to taxpayers in 10 districts. The rate will remain the same in two. Barrington's figure has not been determined. Parts of its school area is in Cook county and no Cook county figures are available yet.

Total Assessment Lower.

Lake county taxpayers will receive a reduction in their total assessment, however, which will offset in part the rise in the rates. This year the total assessed valuation is $79,827,820, less by $2,840,159 than the $82,667,979 last year. Of the reduction, $2,672,510 is on real estate and personal property.

Waukegan must pay the highest tax, $7.61 for each $100 assessed valuation. The greatest rate increase, however, was in Gurnee's district 56 and Zurich's district 95.

EXPECT TO FINISH CHICAGO SUBWAY EARLY NEXT YEAR

Philip Harrington, commissioner of subways, last night announced that Chicago's new subway tunnel, begun 15 months ago, is half completed and will be finished early in 1941. Harrington discussed the 46 million dollar project before 1,000 members of the Western Railway club at their annual banquet in the Hotel Sherman.

He said nearly 100 million riders a year are expected to use the two subways running under State and Dearborn streets. More than 40,000 persons, including workers and their families, will share in the 40 million dollars paid in wages for subway construction and for manufacture and transportation of supplies, he added.

Harrington urged the public to attend the first public inspection of the subway to be held on March 30 at Peoria street and Milwaukee avenue.

Stylish and Smart for Mature Woman

Simplicity is the outstanding characteristic of the new hairdresses, which means that they are particularly suitable for the mature woman. In this typical 1940 coiffure hair is brushed softly upward at front and sides in wide waves and arranged in undefined curls in the back. An abundance of small curls and a line that draws downward are both ageing and "cluttered" for the woman who won't see 35 again. This coiffure was created by the style committee of the Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers' association. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Open Chicago Artist Show at Institute Today

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

It is hard to be polite to the 44th edition of the annual Chicago Artists and Vicinity exhibition which opens today in the east wing galleries of the Art institute.

The exhibit makes a glorious field day for the Art institute school and for the WPA, but it is not representative of Chicago artists.

There are some 20 to 24 good paintings in the show; the rest are only significant because they are present and because they point the moral of our time. This is the type of art in favor, the kind which is being fostered by official recognition, and the only kind the young artist is being taught to do.

◆

The prize awards were announced at the artists' dinner. Here again the Art institute school carries off most of the honors. In fact this exhibition should be called a student and teacher show rather than a Chicago Artists' exhibition. The Art institute teachers come in for about as much fame as the youngsters. The responsibility is, as may be pointed out, upon the shoulders of the jury—Louis Betts, Alexander Brook, and Morris Kantor. [Mr. Betts, conservative, was in the minority, as both his fellow jurors are moderns]—who also gave the prizes. The Art institute of itself had no influence upon the actions of the jury.

However, if students and teachers were not permitted to send work to this particular exhibit then the difficulties which face us today would not be present. The students have their annual exhibition in June; this current exhibit should be kept for those who are out of school.

The Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Logan Art institute medal and $500 went to "West Side in Winter," by Lawrence Adams, an unimpressive picture of scarcely prize caliber; the Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Armstrong prize of $300 was awarded to "Corrine," by Ruth Anderson Wilber, who was graduted from the Art institute school in 1937.

The William H. Bartels prize of $300 was given to Glen Krause for his modern medley, "Composition." Mr. Krause was graduated from the Art institute school in 1936, being awarded the Edward L. Ryerson Traveling fellowship. He is now an instructor in the Art institute school; he teaches drawing.

Julio De Diego with his "The Perplexity of What to Do" [the surrealist touch to the title] won the Mr. and Mrs. Jule F. Brower prize of $300. Raymond Breinin was given the William and Bertha Clusmann prize of $200 for the still life, "Brown Hat."

◆

The Municipal Art league prize of $100 for portraiture went to Christian Abrahamsen for "Portrait Study," one of the distinguished pictures in the show. The award was made by three members of the Municipal Art league.

The Joseph N. Eisendrath prize of $100 was awarded to Bernard Simpson, a fourth year student of the Art institute school, for "Still Life." The Robert Rice Jenkins Memorial prize of $50 was given to Harold Kramer for "Side Street." Mr. Kramer is in his second year at the Art institute school. He has had prevous art training.

The Municipal Art league purchase prize of $200 for a painting to be given to a public school will be awarded by postcard ballot by the membership of the league.

EPISCOPAL EUCHARIST.

Cathedral Shelter, Washington boulevard and Peoria street.

"By the phrase 'militarizing Gethsemane' is meant to employ carnal weapons in spiritual warfare. The church's Gethsemanes, however, are not to be militarized; they are to remain places of prayer, consecration and suffering; herein lies the secret of the church's power.

"There are many attempts to safeguard the things of God thru the power of Cæsar. The sophisticated Athenian of today, whose ears constantly itch to hear some new things, reduces Christ to the level of mortal man. Then we become Peters and thru the sword of politics seek to coerce the critic into silence. When the critic talks we become alarmed, thinking that God's truth is falling down, and we beg the powers of the state to come to hold it up. Does our faith stand in the wisdom of man or in the power of God? If it is of God, we need not play politics to save it."

Lovely Clothes for Patricians Know No Date

BY REA SEEGER.

Gracious, patrician gowns, suits, ensembles, and negligees, all carefully designed and made of fine fabrics, are being shown by a former grand duchess. These clothes represent sophisticated elegance, clothes that are equal to the most demanding occasions, costumes that will never date. In short, these are gowns and ensembles for the gentlewoman.

In this collection will be found classics in black or navy blue and white, one color dresses that cling smoothly to the figure and have just the right amount of white accent. Deceptively simple one piece dresses can be worn for luncheon or for dress parade with the same fine distinction, because they are made with fine details, workmanship and suave streamlining.

◆

Beautifully fashioned suits are made of wool that is as supple as thick satin. These suits are exquisitely cut, both in gently flared skirt and handsome jacket. Both are seamed and fitted to make the most of fabric and silhouette.

Also shown are print silk dress and companion long wool coat. Small precise prints, against dark backgrounds, are used for the smart, distinguished dresses and the same print faces the lapels and tuxedo panels and the boutonniere of the coat.

In the same collection are negligees and foundations to complete a wardrobe. There's an angelic blue crêpe negligee with wide sleeves encrusted with bistre tinted Alencon lace that is the most perfect of flattering negligees.

Junior League Sets Evanston Art Show Date

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Evanston Junior league soon will be sending out invitations for its annual arts and interests exhibit, which is to be held on Saturday afternoon, March 30, at the Country club of Evanston. The committee chose a Saturday so that husbands of members and other masculine—or feminine—guests may come to the party.

There will be a talk by Francis Chapin, a Chicago artist, who has won prizes seven times at the Art institute, and who is to have a showing in New York next month. He will exhibit some of his pictures.

Mrs. Robert Elliott Jr., who is arts chairman and one of the league's most talented members, has on her committee Mrs. Bentley McCloud Jr., Mrs. Lindsay Beaton, Miss Dorothea Wing, Mrs. Myron Watkins, and Mrs. Chester Taylor, among others.

Mrs. Watkins is president of the league's Garden club, and in charge of its exhibit. There will be no photography class this year.

At the annual election this week Mrs. John A. Turner was elected president of the league. Other new officers are Mrs. David Sampsell and Mrs. Charles Price, vice presidents; Mrs. John C. Patterson, secretary; and Miss Katherine Biggert and Mrs. Henry P. C. W. Barber, general and charity treasurers, respectively.

Mardo Pattou Picks Wedding Attendants.

Joseph C. Belden arrived at home on Monday from Palm Beach to find that his fiancée, Miss Mardo Pattou, had completed her part of their bridal party. Mr. Belden, however, has not heard from some of the out of town friends whom he has asked to serve in the Church of the Holy Spirit in Lake Forest on April 20. Miss Pattou will become the bride of Mr. Belden at a 4 o'clock ceremony with a reception following at the Onwentsia club.

Miss Pattou and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brace Pattou, returned last week from a trip to Florida. They visited Mr. Pattou's mother in Naples and Mr. Belden and his mother, Mrs. Belden Sr., in Palm Beach.

Five of Miss Pattou's six attendants were her sister debutantes this winter. The sixth will be Mrs. Benjamin Atwood Smith II., of Gloucester, Mass., the former Barbara Mechem of Lake Forest. She will be the matron of honor. The maid of honor will be Miss Grace Shumway and the bridesmaids will be the Misses Caryl Harrison, Anne Stuart, Barbara Blossom, and Helen Mary Bryan. Mr. Belden and his bride will live in Lake Forest. His mother returned from her Florida home with Mr. Belden.

Many Prenuptial Parties for Sally Jane Crowder.

Miss Sally Jane Crowder is in the midst of a whirl of parties leading up to her marriage to Richard Vickery Wakeman on March 30. Mrs. John L. Irving gave a tea for her on Monday; Mrs. Irving Odell will give a recipe shower for Miss Crowder next Tuesday, and Miss Dorothy Wieboldt is giving a luncheon and theater party for her on Saturday.

Mrs. Robert Golding is giving a luncheon for Miss Crowder and another bride-to-be, Miss Lily Fleming, next Wednesday. Miss Fleming is engaged to Holt Maulsby of Baltimore. The John Hookers will give a luncheon for Miss Crowder on the day before the wedding. Miss Janet Musselman, who is to be a bridesmaid; her parents, Dr. and Mrs. George H. Musselman; Dr. and Mrs. Mark Trude, and Mrs. Gaar Stratton will give a luncheon on the day of the ceremony.

Mr. Wakeman, whose home is in Boston, and Miss Crowder were to have been married on April 20 at the Virginia home of Mr. and Mrs.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Tin Pan Alley.

Hollywood, Cal., March 13.—When "Over the Rainbow," from Mervyn Leroy's "Wizard of Oz," sold over 400,000 copies of sheet music at prices ranging from a quarter to 35 cents, Hollywood sat up and took notice. . . . Up to that time the movie pundits were of a mind to wipe the slate clean of all musical pictures, one after another having flopped with thuds that ranged all the way from dull thuds to abrupt thuds.

Then Nelson Eddy and Ilona Massey contributed "At the Balalaika," which took a lease on the "Hit Parade," and the movie makers agreed that maybe the musicals had more than meets the eye to recommend them. . . . So Hollywood is once again on speaking terms with Tin Pan alley.

I discussed the "pop" music renaissance yesterday with Harry Link, one of the shrewdest authorities in the complex business. . . . It is Expert Link's belief that these lean days for song writers were precipitated by that bedlam of noises loosely designated as "swing."

Observes Link: "Whenever the music industry comes to a point where music is dominated by DRUMMERS it means that melody has been abandoned. When melody is abandoned there is no music business, because the only ones who go daffy over drums are the kids of the country. Unfortunately the kids of the country haven't the buying capacity, so when band leaders cater to the youngsters they are catering to a noisy minority that drowns out the protests of the adults—and the adults are the ones who are the buyers."

In other words, Link blames the band leaders for the disruption of the music industry, but he adds that they learned a lesson which they won't soon forget. . . . He doubts that ever again will the bands permit the drummer to become Head Man.

He tells me that the current flush of health on Tin Pan alley's cheeks traces directly to the coin music machines of which there are perhaps 500,000 in auto camps, roadside restaurants, ice cream parlors, drive-in restaurants, and small cabarets.

These mechanical orchestras, which play any desired record in return for a coin, have so stimulated the record business, and indirectly the sales of sheet music, that the song writers are living in clover.

Now, whatever benefits Tin Pan alley also benefits Hollywood because the movie majors took over the alley lock, stock, and discords some years back. . . . M-G-M., for instance, owns Feist, Robbins, and Millers, a trio of big music publishing outfits.

Paramount owns Famous Music and a subsidiary called Paramount Music corporation. . . . Warner's bought out Harms, Remick and Witmark. . . . About the only huge music publishing outfit that has retained its independence is the Irving Berlin company.

"O, Johnny, O," avers Link, has taken its place with the top novelty songs ever sponsored by the alley "cats." . . . Popular 25 years ago, it was brought to life recently and had a terrific vogue. . . . Other novelty songs that rank with this one were "Yes, We Have No Bananas" and "The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round." . . . Authors of these spectacular successes never produced a second hit, oddly.

◆

The alley is studded with the records of those song writers who scored mightily with one enormous song hit and then never were able to repeat. . . . Most illustrious of the "one song" authors was Jimmy Walker, who grooved "Will You Love Me in December as You Do in May?" and never repeated.

The late Theodore Metz, a fine old gentleman, caught the ear drums of the country with "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" and thereafter was mute. . . . H. B. Danks, who penned "Silver Threads Among the Gold"; Maude Nugent, who clicked with "Sweet Rosie O'Grady"; Felix Arndt, who produced "Nola," and Zo Elliott, whose poignant "There's a Long, Long Trail" stirred the world, hit the jackpot once, and only once. . . . The author of "Dardanella," I believe, belongs in this curious little club of "one-songers."

As the years have passed, the alley has had to adapt itself to drastic changes in order to keep going. . . . In the old days song pluggers depended on theater screen slides to win a hearing for a song, and supplemented these promotional devices with back stage solicitations of such artistes as Nora Bayes, Sophie Tucker, Al Jolson, Blossom Seeley, and, if they had a novelty song, Eddie Cantor. . . . If these performers would consent to introduce a song the success of it was assured.

Today, however, the song pluggers must get the movies or the radio to put a song across. . . . Link tells me that the goals of all song pluggers today are Bing Crosby and Kate Smith. . . . If either will introduce a song it is "in."

Tin Pan alley, unlike the headquarters of any other industry, is confined to 10 blocks, ranging from 45th street to 55th street on the west side of New York. . . . In that small area songs either are initiated or killed, and there is no appeal from the decision of those second story offices in which tinny pianos pound out the melodies churned up by tens of thousands of song writers.

March 14, 1940.

An excellent day for those who can apply themselves to detail and routine. Keep everything under control. Fourteen is a combination of the aggressive and original 1 [one] and the analytical and conventional 4, making the erratic number 5, contradictory and changeable. The year 1940 being a 5 year universally but a 4 year for those born on this date, the year will undoubtedly be mixed, calling for steady guidance and strict adherence to duty and practical, routine issues. Avoid the sensational. Stick to the rules.

Lively Decals Help Decorate Eggs for Easter

BY LOUISE BARGELT.

Gayly decorated egg and rabbits have been associated with Easter Sunday for many a long year. It is an old world custom that seems to grow more popular. Very small tots still pin their faith to the good white Easter bunny who will come in the night and hide brightly colored eggs around the house.

Now it seems that it's quite a simple matter to transfer decalcomania pictures of all kinds to the smooth surfaces of hard boiled eggs! It's merely a matter of cutting a pattern out of a sheet and dipping it in water so that the picture can be slid off the backing-paper onto the egg.

In this way you can hunt for eggs which are not only brightly colored but are as brightly decorated—with pups and chicks, ducks, and bunnies and wooly lambs!

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

The precise valuation of a hand is particularly telling in two distinct divisions of contract—slam bidding and sacrifice bidding. Where games are concerned, in rubber bridge if not in duplicate, a close approximation is good enough, since it is usually a winning procedure to stretch slightly to reach a game contract rather than approach to within a trick of it and "hang."

In sacrifice bidding, if the potential loss has been calculated accurately, there will be a saving, no matter what happens. And then, every once in a while, as a sort of special reward for the "sacrificers," something will go wrong with the defense and the contract will actually be made! As in today's hand:

East, dealer.
East-West vulnerable.

♣A Q 4

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	1 spade	2 hearts	2 spades
4 hearts	4 spades	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

South had no hope of making his contract, but he correctly figured that, since he was not vulnerable and his partner had given him a free raise, the penalty could not be severe. And he further decided that there was entirely too good a chance that the opponents, if left alone, would win their vulnerable game and rubber [as indeed they would have without difficulty].

West toyed wistfully with the singleton club, but finally decided in favor of a heart lead. So he opened the queen and continued for two more rounds. That third continuation was fatal! Declarer ruffed and then carefully calculated the various trump possibilities. If West had the Q 9 x x, as his double indicated he was apt to have, there was no hope of avoiding a trump loser, but if he had roughly that holding, without the nine, it would be clear sailing. In any event there was no better plan available than the optimistic one of playing East for the singleton nine. On that theory declarer laid down the spade jack. West properly played low, but when the nine dropped from East's hand declarer gave a whoop of joy. He next led up to dummy's A-8 and, when West again played low, finessed the eight. After that it was a simple matter to cash the ace, return to his hand with a high club, draw the lone queen of trumps with the king, and then run off four more club tricks for his doubled contract.

Of course either a diamond or a club shift after the first lead would have left declarer with no immediate entry to his hand after winning the initial trump finesse, but that would not have detracted from the excellence of South's sacrifice bid. At the worst he could have gone down only two tricks, which still would have been a worth-while save.

Road to Fame.

While Igor Stravinsky was in Chicago as guest conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra he spent many leisure hours at the home of a friend who owns a parrot. Stravinsky was delighted with the bird, whose acquaintance he had made on an earlier visit some five years ago.

"I am going to compose a song for Polly," he announced one day after he had been talking to the parrot. "Polly will live a hundred years and whistle my song. Thus my piece will endure and I shall be famous," added the most celebrated composer of modern times.

Luncheon Story.

The Very Rev. Austin Pardue, dean of St. Paul's Episcopal cathedral, Buffalo, N. Y., formerly a Chicagoan, who is here this week to speak on the Lenten noonday program of the Church club of Chicago, told a story, at a luncheon in his honor the other day, of a luncheon in England last summer.

Dean Pardue met Lord and Lady Astor in London and later went to dine at her town house. Her two sons, the duchess of Athlone, and the first secretary of the German embassy and his wife were other guests, but when they sat down to table the chair at Lady Astor's right was vacant.

"As I was wondering who was expected, the door swung open and in barged—and I use the term advisedly—George Bernard Shaw," said Dean Pardue. "If I had worried about the correctness of my own attire"—he had worn clerical clothes—"my fears were quieted immediately. Shaw had on a pair of old green pants which bagged in all directions, a brown tweed coat which was out at the elbows, and a tie which looked as if it had been left out in the rain all night."

The conversation was exceptionally brilliant, Dean Pardue said, with a notably witty exchange of badinage between Lady Astor and Mr. Shaw. He was at that time writing his play, Geneva, which was produced on Broadway earlier this season. Dean Pardue saw the play in New York after his return home.

Translation.

Janet Fairbank recently sang in Indianapolis with the Indianapolis Symphony orchestra, presenting a concert version of Cavalleria Rusticana. Members of her family went to Indianapolis for the occasion, and at a gathering afterwards there was a discussion of opera in English.

"It would be funny to think of Wagner in English," some one said. "Yes, how would you say Ho-yo-to-ho (Brünnhilde's call to the Valkyries) in English," gagged another.

"That's easy—Hi-Yo Silver," flashed Kellogg Fairbank.

Strengthen the Back if You'd Achieve Poise

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

We continue with our short course in poise, ease, and grace. We could advance any number of mental graces and physical mannerisms in the interest of a more poised and charming individual, but we think that they belong later when a disciplined body is well accomplished. In fact, we have the opinion that there is little mental poise or graceful physical gesture without the initial body disciplining.

We already have spoken of the walk. We emphasized the importance of cultivating abdominal muscle strength to the point of being able to carry one's self flat in this sector.

But, we repeat, some exercises must be done to strengthen muscles before they can or will stand on their own and do their rightful job. As said, the abdominal muscle strengthening comes first. After it comes the back work. Not back breaking, understand. Exercises simple of execution and not too strenuous are our favorites, because they show better results simply because they are done.

In the development, then, of this poise for which we are struggling we take up some back muscle strengthening and straightening work. Nothing could be easier or simpler than what we now recommend for doing daily, four or five times during the day. First, with weight on the balls of the feet, slightly on the heels, raise arms forward and up over head to fullest extent. Stretch the entire body upward inhaling as the arms move up and rising on the toes. Then lower the arms to the sides of the body, forcibly exhaling as they move downward, keeping the entire body stretched.

Second exercise for strengthening back: Feet apart, arms at sides. Raise arms to front horizontally. Keep on raising arms thru vertical to rearward position, bending the knees slightly, and stretching.

SYNOPSIS.

Framed by his enemy, Santee Bales, Sam Teacher, outlaw cowboy, shoots the bank robber dressed to resemble him. The United States commissioner offers him the governor's full pardon for all the crimes accredited to him if he will persuade obstinate Matt Drury to sell the railroad the right of way thru one of his canyons. Sam accepts—on his own high terms of $25,000, in addition to full pardon. He knows the governor needs the railroad to get votes and Drury's money to finance his next campaign. Sam gets a job on Drury's ranch and uses the name of Jim Melody so the other cowboys won't know his identity. Defending a horse, Sam gets into a fight with Drury's worthless son, Steve. Instead of firing Sam, Drury accepts Sam's advice to give Steve a small stake and kick him out, and to make his spoiled but pretty daughter, Celia, manage the house. Steve, mad with his dad, goes down to the village saloon and gets into a poker game with Santee Bales.

A NEW PARTNERSHIP.

Santee and young Drury moved over to the table where the house man and the other partner were sitting, and the Texan introduced them. His companion was slighter, older and a suspicious looking man. None of them seemed to restore his spirits.

At the start he won. He was a reckless player to begin with, and now he played heady, intuitive poker. Santee, his head settled on his thick shoulders, lost for a while and then started to win. The two punchers and the house man lost all the way, and by supper time Drury, who suggested that they raise the limit, and the two punchers unaccountably agreed. Back in the saloon the evening session set in with a group of quiet idlers watching the game and drinking and gambling at the other tables.

Santee, with the raised stakes, started winning from the first. The slight puncher, who had lost all the way, was getting surly now, and several times he and Drury were at the point of words.

Drury kept losing steadily now. Once he turned to Santee and said, "What's that black of mine worth?"

"Four hundred," Santee said, and it was a generous figure.

Drury nodded and kept playing, and kept losing, and the slight puncher kept getting more belligerent. The blowoff didn't come until late in the evening, however. Steve Drury put down a full house, three aces and a pair of fives, to claim a big pot. Santee threw down his hand. The tall puncher swore and threw in his hand. But the slight puncher only looked at Drury's cards, then rose. Without a word he spread out his hand. He had a full house, too, three sevens and a pair of aces.

"I been wonderin' when I'd catch you, fella," he said slowly to Steve. "I don't mind a five ace deck, but I hate to get it throwed up to me in a full house."

His hand streaked for his gun. Drury lunged away and Santee, who started moving the moment the last word was out of the puncher's mouth, dived across the table. He grabbed the man's wrist just as his body hit him, and both of them went down over the back of the chair, and then he drove a fist into his belly. The puncher gasped, tried to get up, and Santee knocked him down again. Then he rose to his feet, picked the puncher up and knocked him clear over the table, upsetting it and scattering the chips all over the saloon. The puncher didn't move from the floor.

When he looked young Drury had the other puncher covered with his gun.

"Pick up that saddle strap and get out of here before you both get your necks stretched," Santee said to the Texan.

The Texan, without a word, did as he was bid. He dragged his partner out of the saloon door, and soon afterward they heard them ride off.

Drury, his face a little pale, looked over at Santee.

"That was pretty close," he said.

"A couple of tinhorns," Santee sneered. "They had it framed before we ever started playin'."

Santee only laughed and said, "Let's have a drink."

At the bar, when the room was quieted, Drury said, "I owe you money."

"That's right."

"How much?"

"That horse and $500, I make it."

Drury looked uncomfortable. But some inherited honesty made him come clean with the whole story. "I dunno, Bales. I'm in trouble with my old man."

"It'll wash out."

Drury shook his head. "He may pay this gamblin' debt for me. I dunno. If he does, it's the last one he'll ever pay. He kicked me out this afternoon. Said he'd give me a small stake and that's all."

Santee looked sympathetic, but Drury evidently did not want to talk about it. Santee took another tack. "Well, in that case you were a fool for gambling."

"I was."

"Own any horses? I'm a horse trader."

"I've got a big string," Drury told him reluctantly.

He felt Santee looking sharply at him, and he glanced over at him. "What's the matter?"

"You're kicked out of your dad's house and you own a string of horses. Are they as good horses as that black?"

"Better. He's only fair."

Santee laughed quietly, looking at his drink.

"What's the matter?" Drury asked.

"Ever been in business, Drury?"

"No. Why?"

"You could go into business right now."

"Now?"

"You've got a string. The Utes back of your ranch are full of wild horses."

"What of it?"

"Why, all you need to catch wild horses is a string of broke ones to ride 'em with."

"You mean I ought to start catchin' and breakin' horses for a livin'?"

"Why not?"

"It's hard work," Drury said slowly.

"Sure, but you won't do it. Look here." Santee first called for drinks, and when they came he said, "I've got an investment in you, a gamblin' debt, haven't I? You want to pay it back?"

"I never welshed yet," Drury said quickly.

"All right. Then suppose we go in partnership. I put up the money for wages for a dozen men. You put up their mounts as your share. I'm a horse trader, so I can sell everything the crew breaks out for us. Don't that make sense?"

Drury's face changed a little, and he smiled thru his swollen lips. Suddenly his smile faded. "That's fine," he said, "only we need a place."

"That's right."

"Then he'd be pleased, I reckon, if you asked for a piece of land instead of money. Lord knows he's got enough land to spare."

"Sure," Drury said. "Sure. He'd do that."

Santee said carefully, "Of course, you'd have the right to choose what land you wanted. You'd want it as far from him as you could get it. You'd also want it on the water. And I'd pick up a place back in the canyon country where you'd be close to where the stuff runs."

"There's plenty of places like that."

"Good," Santee said. "Finish your drink and we'll hunt up a lawyer. You and me will be partners"

"Santee to you, Steve," Santee said magnanimously, "and it's not a favor. I've got money sunk in you and I'm going to get it out. Fifty-fifty proposition. When I've taken the debt out of the profit I'll sell out to you or stick with you, whichever you want."

By midnight that night Santee was in possession of a legal document stating that he and Steve Drury were partners. The most important clause in the document, however, was one which young Drury had not even bothered to question. It stated that in case of the death of either partner the whole property was to revert to the survivor.

Santee said good-by to Drury at the Chamisa, and then headed back toward the hotel on the far corner. Somewhere along the darkened storefronts he saw two figures in the shadows and he walked up to them.

"Everything all right, Santee?" a man asked. It was the man with a Texas drawl. The man Santee had hit was with him.

"Fine," Santee said. "Fine."

"How did it look to you?"

"Convinced everybody in the saloon," Santee said.

"Dream Hero" Futile Hope; Be Practical

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

History repeats itself in our so-called young moderns. We refer to the way some of our young women today have of establishing a mental version of an ideal matrimonial prospect and holding out for it and him, to the loss of some excellent fiance and husband material.

Such a plan of action may have served years and generations ago, but we doubt that as many marriages would have occurred if the majority of women then weren't willing to compromise with the ideal version of what a mate should be.

It seems so out of the picture today with the close camaraderie of the sexes, the working side by side in business places, the everyday revelations that men are men and not super beings, to go on hugging the ideal version, hoping to dream him into existence.

The plain truth is that a far more endurable pal and sweetheart, husband and lover is born of that everyday, nice chap working in an adjoining office, or living in the next block.

"Inky" inspires the above with her plaint that she meets many young men who try to date her, but she can't see them for dust. She wants a man who is handsome, has great brain power, greater talent for financial accomplishment, to say nothing of the taste in dress she asks from him. The dream never will materialize.

It would be hard for the modern youngster to believe that an orange in the toe of grandmother's Christmas stocking was something special in the way of a sweetmeat—and that oranges once were a treat reserved only for special occasions.

Citrus fruits are still a treat, but we don't need to wait for a special occasion to serve them nowadays. They're as inexpensive as other fruits today. We know now that they're our best dietary source of vitamin C, and they reach their seasonal peak of production in the winter when other fruits are comparatively scarce. Which points, all added up, mean that citrus fruits should be putting in a regular appearance at the dining room table these days.

Oranges and lemons particularly are good candidates for the pudding dish. They have a chummy way with eggs, milk and cream that can't be ignored when you're looking for dessert ideas that are as good as they are good for you.

ORANGE AND LEMON SPONGE PUDDING.
[Serves 6.]

1½ tablespoons gelatin
¼ cup cold water
⅝ cup boiling water
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
1 cup sugar
1 cup orange juice
⅓ cup lemon juice
3 egg whites, beaten stiff

Soften gelatin in the cold water. Add grated orange and lemon rind to boiling water and simmer gently for about 10 minutes. Add gelatin and sugar; stir until dissolved. Cool slightly and add fruit juices. Chill until thickened. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and turn into individual molds. Chill until firm.

LEMON CHIFFON PUDDING.
[Serves 4.]

5 tablespoons flour
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons butter
2 eggs, separated
¼ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup milk

Cream the flour, sugar, and butter together. Add beaten egg yolks, lemon juice and rind, and the milk. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into an eight inch baking dish or individual custard cups and set in a pan of warm water. Bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for 40 to 45 minutes, or until firm. The baked pudding will have a cake top covering a layer of custard.

ORANGE BRITTLE WHIP.
[Serves 6.]

1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 cup peanut brittle, crushed
1 cup orange sections, cut in pieces

Fold peanut brittle and orange sections into the whipped cream. Chill thoroly and pile in sherbet glasses to serve. Garnish with more orange sections.

ORANGE FLOATING ISLANDS.
[Serves 8.]

3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
2 cups scalded milk
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup orange sections
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
¼ cup confectioners' sugar

Combine egg yolks, grated orange rind, salt and sugar, and gradually add hot milk, stirring constantly. Cook over boiling water until mixture coats a metal spoon, about five minutes. Add vanilla and cool quickly. Arrange orange sections in dessert dishes and cover with custard. Fold sugar into stiffly beaten egg whites and drop by tablespoonfuls into boiling water. Cover and simmer about five minutes. Lift meringue from water and place on top of custard. Chill thoroly before serving.

All Study, No Friendship, Is Bad for Child

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

In my opinion there is no reason why a boy's or girl's life shouldn't be balanced during school days just as much as later on. And by "balanced" I mean containing space for other things than classroom work and home study.

I see no reason why a young person shouldn't have time, during the years devoted to his schooling, for other forms of education outside of classroom studies, for leisure, and for play and sociability. We expect, when we become men and women, to balance our lives in this way, yet a surprisingly large number of parents [and educators] expect these formative years to be devoted entirely to school and home study. They think pleasure and social life will distract a boy and girl too much, that they will have plenty of time for that later on. And especially do they object to "dates" and "mixed parties."

This is a mistake from several angles. One is that it's more normal and wholesome for young people of high school age to have friendships, to begin to circulate around in the world, and to be interested in those of the opposite sex.

The other angle is, in a sense, more important. It has to do with young people learning early a certain measure of social ease.

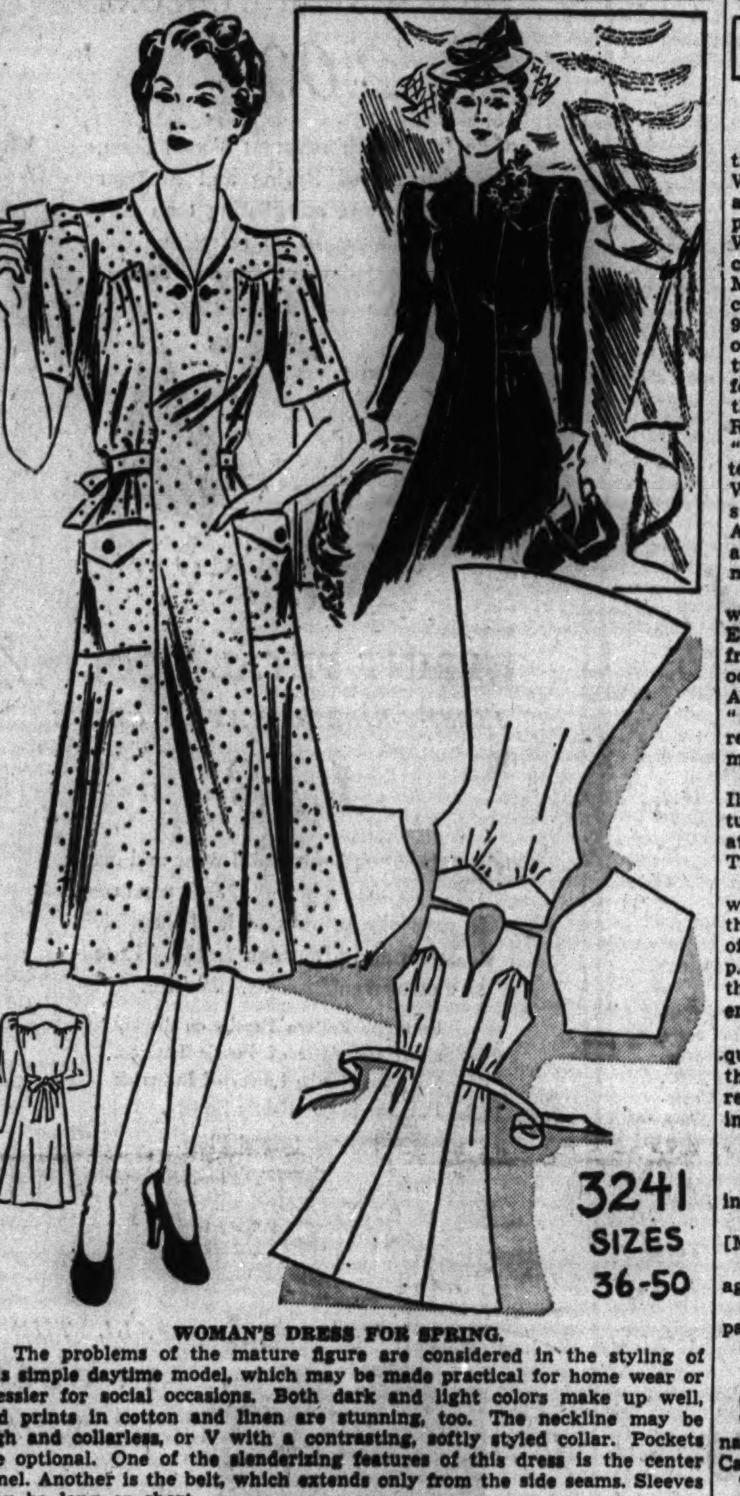
Styled for Mature Figures



WOMAN'S DRESS FOR SPRING.

The problems of the mature figure are considered in the styling of this simple daytime model, which may be made practical for home wear or dressier for social occasions. Both dark and light colors make up well, and prints in cotton and linen are stunning, too. The neckline may be high and collarless, or V with a contrasting, softly styled collar. Pockets are optional. One of the slenderizing features of this dress is the center panel. Another is the belt, which extends only from the side seams. Sleeves may be long or short.

Style No. 3241 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40. 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch material for short sleeved version.

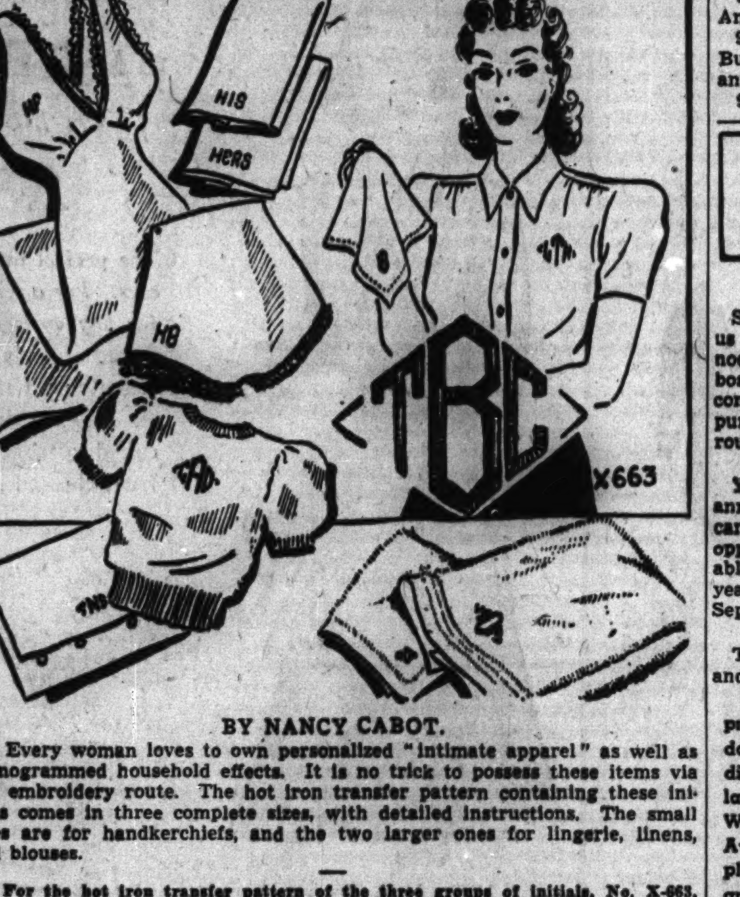
Three Groups of Initials



BY NANCY CABOT.

Every woman loves to own personalized "intimate apparel" as well as monogrammed household effects. It is no trick to possess these items via the embroidery route. The hot iron transfer pattern containing these initials comes in three complete sizes, with detailed instructions. The small ones are for handkerchiefs, and the two larger ones for lingerie, linens, and blouses.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the three groups of initials, No. X-663, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Find High Intelligence Rate Is Same for Negro, White Pupils

Proof that high intelligence occurs with the same frequency in Negro and white children was submitted yesterday in a survey completed by Dr. Paul Witty, professor of education at Northwestern university, and Dr. Martin Jenkins.

Based on a study of 8,400 Negro children in the Chicago public schools, Drs. Witty and Jenkins conducted their survey in grades three to seven. Of these students, a total of 103 children was found with I. Q. ratings above 120, and 29 of them had ratings above 140.

As in the case of gifted white children, the Negro children of superior intelligence were found to be healthier and physically more sound than the average. The average child was 2.1 inches in height and 5.3 pounds in weight above the norms for his chronological age.

WILSON'S
Tender Made
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
Ham
A QUALITY PRODUCT
Ten days till Easter, and none too soon to start planning the menu for that great spring festival. Traditionally, the menu must include a whole ham. For economy, flavor and sheer tenderness, I do not hesitate to recommend that this be a Wilson Tender Made Ham, bone-in. It makes the best eating I know of, and I am credited with having done a fair amount of culinary sampling in my day.
George Rector
Food Consultant Wilson & Co.
Why Not Serve PAID-FOR Pounds?
Ordinary hams come out of the oven anywhere from two to three pounds lighter than they went in. Not so with Wilson's Tender Made Ham. There is virtually no oven shrinkage. You save the eating equivalent of two tender, succulent Tender Made Ham steaks that make such a hit with the men folks.
NO TEDIOUS COOKING
Cooking a whole ham used to be a lengthy operation, cutting into yards and yards of precious time. With Wilson's Tender Made Ham, you just slice and serve. It is ready to serve or just heat and eat.
To serve hot, allow only 5 minutes to the pound, in a moderate oven (350° F.). Have the ham at room temperature when put in the oven.
THE HAM OF A THOUSAND USES

30 GOLDEN GLOVERS GO EAST FOR INTERCITY BOUTS

CHICAGO TEAM TO RESUME DRILL IN NEW YORK

Boxers Anxious for Action Monday.

BY HOWARD BARRY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Elkhart, Ind., March 13.—Chicago's Golden Gloves fighters headed eastward tonight, keyed up in anticipation of the adventures that await them in Madison Square Garden, where they'll meet New York's team Monday night in the 13th annual intercity matches.

Thirty boxers, together with a retinue of coaches and trainers, were aboard as the train pulled out of Chicago this afternoon. All the boys have come thru their preliminary work in excellent condition and are now looking forward to one last drive for fighting assignments as soon as drills are resumed tomorrow in New York. Only 16 members of the squad of 30 will take the ring against the easterners. Coach Johnny Behr will withhold his selections until the last day of training, so the boys are engaged in terrifically close competition for places.

Listen to Tall Tales.

Despite this rivalry in the gymnasium, the youngsters showed themselves the best of friends as they visited back and forth while the train sped eastward tonight. The boys who were making their first trip to New York listened eagerly while Walter Cavalieri, Cornelius Young and some of the other veterans told them what to expect in Manhattan. Tho the boys concentrate on their boxing assignments while they're in their training quarters, they have such a lively interest in shows, sightseeing and other aspects of the trip that the coaches aren't a bit worried about them going stale.

Two members of the squad, Tony Ancona and Walter Cavalieri, have a score to settle with the New Yorkers, and a third, Cornelius Young, is aiming to get even for a stroke of hard luck which kept him at the ringside instead of inside the ropes on his last visit to the east.

Cavalieri Wants Revenge.

As a member of the 1938 squad Cavalieri lost a close decision to Bobby Carroll of New York. Walter is hoping for a chance to get even, but he still has to contend with two other strong flyweights before he can get the assignment to join Chicago's champion, Harold Dade, in the battle with the easterners. Walter's rivals are Vic Saccoia, last year's titleholder, and Sam Stinson, who knocked out Saccoia in this season's tournament.

As champion of the lightweights Ancona is scheduled to face the boy who beat him in last year's intercity bouts in Chicago. This opponent is Ray Robinson. Both were featherweights last year, but now they've not only put on weight but also improved greatly in fighting ability. So the bout should be even better this time. Robinson was considered the standout of the New York tournament, scoring nine knockouts in 10 bouts. He is a fast, rugged Negro who can shoot hard left hooks to the body and follow up with thumping rights to the jaw.

Young's Injured Eye Heals.

For a time this season Young's followers feared that he might be a victim of the hard luck that dogged him previously. A broken nose was what kept him out of the 1938 bouts. This year he incurred a cut over one of his eyes, but the injury has now healed so satisfactorily that his handlers anticipate no trouble with it in the intercity matches. Young's job will be to meet Ted Wint, a rangy heavyweight who stands up straight and strikes with a hard, looping right.

The squad is scheduled to reach New York at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The boys will go to the New Yorker hotel and, once they are established in their quarters, will have a little leisure until time for the afternoon workout. This will be held in Stillman's gymnasium at 3 o'clock.

Three rounds of sparring are on the schedule tomorrow, two on Friday and one Saturday. The boys will do their road work in Central park.

Colorado Is Victor, 52-37, Over De Paul

New York, March 13 [Special].—A fast breaking Colorado university quintet, champion of the Rocky Mountain conference for the last three years, blasted De Paul university of Chicago from the national invitation basketball tournal before 10,000 in Madison Square Garden tonight, 52 to 37.

The Bisons staged a whirlwind first half attack that left the Blue Demons stunned and on the short end of a 31 to 14 count at the intermission. When they regained their poise to play Colorado on better than even terms in the second half it was too late.

Knocking DePaul off balance at the start, the Golden Buffaloes pitched in long ones and then broke thru quickly for shots under the basket. They also took the rebounds.

De Paul was handicapped by the loss of its star center, Elmer Gainer, who was forced to retire early as a result of an ankle injury suffered Monday. To make the luck worse, his substitute, Chet Tollstam, was taken to Polyclinic hospital at the end of the first half with a possible arm fracture.

In the other semi-final Duquesne University of Pittsburgh beat the Oklahoma Aggies, 34 to 30. The teams seldom were more than a point or two apart. Oklahoma led, 19 to 18, at the half. Lineups:

Johnny Coulon, former bantamweight champion, is observing his 18th year as a gymnasium proprietor on East 63d street. . . . Breadon hopes to have a showdown on the matter at the winter meetings when he will try to induce Commissioner Landis, President William Harridge of the American league, and President Ford Frick of the National to indorse the fan vote. . . . Purdue's two basketball victories over Illinois this season evened up the all time count, which now stands at 30 apiece.

Tony Lawless, Fenwick High school coach, and Bob Schumann, St. Xavier, Louisville, Ky., are the only ones in the 16 year history of Loyola's National Catholic Prep Basketball tournament who have played on a championship team and later returned as coach of title winning quintets. . . . Lawless was a guard on the Spalding team of Peoria, which won the first meet in 1924 and his Fenwick squad, led by Don Kruger, now of Northwestern, gained the title in 1937. . . . Schumann played on the victorious St. Xavier team in 1926 and his 1935 and 1938 quintets triumphed in the national meet. . . . Gedeon was the Big Ten hurdles champion and Gee starred in basketball, as well as baseball. . . . In a game against Toledo university he struck out 20 while holding the opponents hitless.

Crane Faces Champaign in First of 8 Games.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., March 13.—Nineteen thousand times or more the turnstiles will click tomorrow at the portals of George Huff Memorial gymnasium on the University of Illinois campus. When the day is done all seats will have been filled and emptied three different times, and occupants thereof will look back in review upon the elation of eight victorious prep basketball teams and the disappointment of eight others.

Tomorrow is the opening day of the 33d annual state tournament conducted by the Illinois High School Athletic association. From 10 o'clock in the morning until 10:30 at night a rush of youthful athletes up and down the court will take place. Intermissions of scarcely more than 60 minutes at noon and 90 in the evening will offer dyed in the wool fans their only opportunities to grab a bite to eat and to stretch their legs.

All Teams Ready.

From all points of the compass fans began to converge upon Champaign and Urbana tonight. By daybreak carloads of enthusiastic rooters, flaunting banners, pennants, and whitewash inscriptions, will furnish the last minute rush. The 16 contesting teams checked in this afternoon.

On the south wall of the gymnasium, for the fourth year in a row, hangs a map of the state 18 feet in height, with each of the 16 cities and towns represented as the only ones thereon. Each is designated by an electric light.

All 16 will be burning shortly before 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Then, when the first game starts, 14 will be lighted constantly while those of Crane Tech of Chicago and Champlain flash alternately. At the completion of each contest the loser's light will be extinguished for the remainder of the tournament. Finally, at approximately 9:30 Saturday night, only the champions' bulb will glow.

Dundee, 1938 Champion, Back.

The chapter for this year's lesson is as different from 1938 as the map alterations of Europe during the same period. Only Paris, Moline, and Champaign of last year's "Sweet 16" return. And of all the 24 schools which accounted for the 32 previous championships only Dundee is here, battling against tremendous odds in an effort to regain the title won in 1938.

Dundee is one of the four entrants from the northeast sector. Its neighbor, 32 miles to the north, is Hebron, smallest of the 161 with 101 students and the team with the best record. From the same territory comes Bloom of Chicago Heights and Crane Tech of Chicago, largest of them all with an enrollment of 5,832. Moline represents the northwest and Streator the north central area.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Jay Bozeman, the young California billiardist who, like many leading golf professionals, plays best when he's not feeling good, was in terrible shape yesterday afternoon. He was feeling so bad, in fact, that the best he could do in his world three cushion match against Arthur Rubin of New York at Bensinger's South Wabash avenue rooms was a 50 to 8 victory, scored in 30 innings in 46 minutes, the briefest performance of the tournament.

Mr. Rubin, who only Monday night knocked over the champion, Welker Cochran, and the other nine artists in the show are hoping that Master Bozeman recovers his health. Otherwise, it is obvious from the manner of his work yesterday that he is going on to his first world's championship.

Best Game of Tourney.

The red headed, bespectacled lad from Vallejo, Cal., put on one of the greatest shows ever seen in a world tourney, and before he was thru, had most of the existing records for big time play tottering on their standards.

There was, first of all, the 30 innings he required to finish the job. It set a best game mark for the tournament, breaking the 38 hung up by Willie Hoppe of New York last Monday night, and only seven over the 10 year record of Johnny Layton. Altho he couldn't run out in the 23d inning, as Layton did in 1930 against Charley Jordan, Jay did mark that frame by running 10, second high of this tournament.

They Come Out Fighting.

If Bozeman supplied the thrills for the afternoon gallery, then Layton and Joe Chamaco, national champion from Mexico City, gave the evening house the battle of the tournament. If Referee Charley McElligott had said, "Come out fighting," the two couldn't have put on a harder and more stirring bout. Chamaco finally won, 50 to 49, in 56 innings. The match was the longest of the tourney, lasting 2 hours and 49 minutes.

Bozeman not only had things all

Ends Holdout Siege by Agreeing to Terms.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 13.—Manager Gabby Hartnett and his main kibitzer, Clarence Rowland, spent today waiting for the boat to the mainland and a wire from Pitcher Dizzy Dean accepting terms for 1940. Dean had notified Chicago friends of his intention to sign and Rowland, the Cubs' talent scout and front office man, in a telephone conversation with Dean at Dallas, Tex., asked the holdout to confirm his capitulation by wire.

Just before the boat sailed Hartnett and Rowland were rewarded for their patience. Dizzy wired that he would arrive in Los Angeles Sunday. This will be followed by the signing ceremony unless Dean changes his changeable mind.

He May Mean Business Now.

Rowland has been stuck with Dean for two years, for it was he who persuaded Owner P. K. Wrigley to buy Diz for $185,000 and four able bodied ball players. The dramatic stroke has had its compensations during the last two years, but most everybody knows of the disappointments attached.

Cub officials here said that twice previously this winter Diz orally had consented to terms and had failed to keep his promises to sign. Diz, however, has had time to cool out.

It has been suspected by other players here for the three week exercise period which ended yesterday that Diz actually was signed in Chicago a month ago and that the holdout was framed to give the once great star a chance to fulfill baseball commitments in Jackson, Miss., and to get his spring plowing done on his Dallas farm.

Diz Is His Own Master.

If Dean was excused from the Catalina training period, the holdout technique would be the only possible one consistent with attempts at maintaining a moral policy.

Ever since Diz joined the Cubs he has done pretty much as he pleased. The only attempt to curb him was made last July when Hartnett sent him home, accompanied by Mrs. Dean, immediately following the famous incident of "the lunging telephone table" in the Cub hotel in New York where the Deans were relaxing while the playing members of the team were engaged in playing a series in Brooklyn.

Rowland did not tell other officials of his purported conversation with Dean until he learned this morning from Vice President Charles [Boots] Weber that Diz had told of his anticipated signing. Here Rowland denied that Diz had signed in Chicago a month or six weeks ago, claiming it was his [Rowland's] genius in such matters that had brought Dean's holdout siege to an end.

Leiber Lone Holdout.

Dean's surrender leaves Hank Leiber, center fielder, as the lone Cub holdout. He is sitting it out in silence in his Phoenix, Ariz., home. If he does not come to terms in the meantime, he doubtless will be contacted when the Cubs play the White Sox March 30 and 31 in Phoenix.

In the confusion here today anent a golf tournament in which Manager Hartnett was scheduled to star, the flurry over the getaway to the mainland, the imminent ordeal of facing the White Sox, and the Dean excitement, no one seemed to know whether Diz will be asked to go into training immediately

Even tho he trained at Avalon three weeks and in Los Angeles two weeks last year, Diz did no pitching until he went two innings in San Antonio, more than six weeks after he began training, after a fashion.

Altho all aflutter about Dean's proposed signing, Hartnett had to calm himself enough to contemplate the series with the White Sox, which opens in Los Angeles tomorrow.

Bill Lee, Claude Passeau, and Ken Raffensberger are scheduled to pitch the opener for the Cubs.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 13.—The White Sox dusted off some of their city series tricks today and tomorrow in Los Angeles will endeavor to make use of some of them in the renewal of warfare with their soft touch enemies—the Cubs.

Resumption of hostilities with Chicago's National league contingent will mark the start of spring barnstorming which embraces 31 battles covering several thousand miles of territory. It also will provide the Dykes ensemble with 15 opportunities to prove their city series triumph over the Cubs last fall was no fluke.

Inauguration of the exhibition schedule also means the end of the daily camp routine and for that the athletes are thankful, partly because the running, throwing, and hitting monotony is over and partly because they have attained excellent condition without the cost of even one serious injury.

Solters in Cleanup Rôle.

When the Sox square off tomorrow they'll line up in regular fashion except for pitchers, but the batting arrangement will be slightly different than Manager Dykes' original guess. However, the alteration is merely an experiment. The boss' first batting order had Taft Wright, ex-Senator fly chaser, in the No. 4 cleanup post. As the result of the revision Wright has been dropped to sixth and Julius Solters, left fielder obtained from the Browns for Rip Radcliff, has shouldered the cleanup responsibilities.

Solters hit only .265 with the Browns last season, but the manager has charged that off to discontent and erased the .265 in favor of the approximate .350 the man hit for the Indians a few years back. If Solters doesn't do much cleaning up he'll be dropped to seventh and Wright returned to No. 4.

Dykes Not Perturbed.

Information from the Cub camp that Manager Hartnett is so concerned about victory in the opening struggle that he is going to employ his very best pitchers didn't even arouse the interest of the Sox general. Dykes still intends to have his pitching handled by rookies, probably figuring that if he can win with them he'll have fuel for a week of heckling, most of which will bounce into Hartnett's ears. The freshman trio picked for the occasion will be Orval Grove, Jess Dobernic, and Vallie Eaves. The intention is to give them three innings each.

Most of the regulars in other positions will be treated to three or four innings. Bob Kennedy will replace McNair at third, Jim Webb will sub for Appling at short, Don Kolloway for Hayes at second and possibly Lewis Leiter, a rookie first baseman, for Kuhel. If Dykes makes a complete shift in his starting outfield he'll have to give one of the places to Coach Mule Haas, who wants to get back into an active rôle. There are only two other extra fly chasers, Larry Rosenthal and Hal Cromer.

Face Regulars Tomorrow.

On Friday and Saturday the Cubs will have to look at a somewhat tougher array of pitchers. The Friday game will see Bill Dietrich, Johnny Rigney, and Harry Boyles, a rookie, in action. The present program provides that Eddie [Lefty] Smith, Jack Knott, and Pete Appleton, obtained from Washington, work on Saturday.

The Sox will be in Hollywood, playing the Coast league team there, on Sunday and old Ted Lyons thinks he'll be good enough for at least a brief appearance in that game.

Tom Turner, who apparently is going to stick as No. 2 catcher, won't be able to share in tomorrow's affair and probably not for several days thereafter. He's still crippled by his charley horse.

ARON TO BATTLE VAN KLAVEREN IN BOUT TONIGHT

Risks Ranking as No. 1 Welter Contender.

Milt Aron will jeopardize his ranking as No. 1 welterweight contender in a 10 round bout tonight against Bep Van Klaveren of Rotterdam, Holland, in the Coliseum, 15th street and Wabash avenue.

Altho the stipulated weight is 155 pounds, Van Klaveren will be closer to the welterweight limit. Even so, weight of the boxers is unimportant. The fact remains that Bep is no soft touch and a defeat for Aron at this time will cost him considerable prestige and a possible title match with Champion Henry Armstrong.

Van Klaveren may not win, but he'll be dangerous as long as he is on his feet. Bep, a chunky man, who fights in a crouch, is a punishing hitter. In close quarters he shoots hard lefts and rights to the body. His pet weapon, however, is a right which he whips over to the jaw when least expected. It will be a powerful asset against Aron, who has a tendency to drop his left hand when stepping out of a clinch. In addition the Dutch fighter possesses unusual strength for his weight.

Milt Seeks 13th Straight.

However, Aron, who is searching for his 13th straight victory, is a glutton for punishment. The rangy Chicagoan can shed punches because he is always in excellent condition. The present is no exception, but there is no telling when Aron's fine recuperative powers will desert him.

Last Dec. 27 Milt survived several knockdowns suffered at the hands of Fritzie Zivic of Pittsburgh to score an eight round knockout. It was this achievement which caused the National Boxing association to designate Aron as the foremost welter challenger, a position which puts him next in line for a championship match. In case Van Klaveren scores an upset, Aron's rating may be restored to Zivic by the N. B. A.

Zivic Opposes Barbara.

Zivic, who knocked out Saverio Turiello in one round recently, first must dispose of Johnny Barbara, improved Chicago boxer. Zivic and Barbara will be opponents in a 10 round secondary feature tonight. If Barbara displays the form he showed when he stopped Joe Sutka, Wyandotte, Mich., middleweight, several weeks ago, Zivic may be embarrassed no end.

In a third contest of 10 rounds Lem Franklin, 1937 international Golden Gloves heavyweight champion, will attempt to dethrone Willie Reddish of Philadelphia as ninth leading contender. Franklin, one of the hardest punchers in the game, will be encountering a clever boxer in Reddish.

There will be a six round curtain raiser between Frank Greene and Marion Mosley, local heavyweights.

The Armour Tech track team defeated Elmhurst college last night, 59 to 36. Capt. John Cerovski of Armour lead the scoring with two firsts, while Egan, a hurdler, took the honors for the Elmhurst team.

CHUCK FENSKE WILL APPEAR IN ARMOUR GAMES

Charles [Chuck] Fenske, brilliant Wisconsin distance runner, will appear in a special race during the 12th annual Armour Tech relay games Saturday afternoon and evening in the University of Chicago fieldhouse. Fenske first appeared in the Armour games two years ago and set the present record for that tournament's mile of 4:08.9. He will run a shorter distance in Saturday's games when he will make an attempt to break the world's indoor record for the three-quarter mile distance.

Fenske will shoot for the indoor three-quarter mile mark established in New York City March 19, 1925, by Lloyd Hahn. Hahn's record is 3:03.4.

Tom Jones, Wisconsin track coach, said yesterday that Ed Smith, Big Ten champion hurdler and present record holder of the 70 yard high hurdle event for the Armour relays, would not compete in Saturday's games. Smith set the record for the 70 yard high hurdles in 1938. Joe Finch of Northwestern, who won the hurdle event last year, will defend his title. Donald Olsen of Illinois and his teammate, Dick Reising, and Bob Shurilla of Marquette are other strong contenders in the high hurdles.

In the university low hurdle event Shurilla will defend the title he won last year.

MARQUETTE COMING.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 13 [Special].—Coach Conrad M. Jennings of the Marquette university track team today abandoned plans to divide his squad for the Butler and Armour relays this week-end and instead, decided to concentrate on the Armour meet in Chicago. Marquette, which has won its last nine dual meets as well as the Central Collegiate outdoor and indoor titles, will be represented at Armour in the sprint medley, two mile, and one mile relay races, and in several special events.

Foxx Clouts 480 Ft. Homer Against Giants

Winter Haven, Fla., March 13 [Special].—Jimmy Foxx, the home run king of the American league, paced the Boston Red Sox to a 7 to 3 victory over the New York Giants today by belting a home run that sailed far over a chicken wire fence in left field, over the bleachers behind the fence, over a flame-vine wall behind the bleachers, and over a distant city street into a school yard 480 feet away.

The Giants looked pretty scrubby alongside the Red Sox, who won 11 out of 19 games against the Yankees last year. The Red Sox were husky gents in trim fitting uniforms. They ran mostly to broad shoulders, long arms, square chins, and loud, coarse voices. Bill Terry's boys were thinner, smaller, and more beaten down.

Manuel Salvo was the victim of Boston's power. He was touched for one run in the first inning on Bobby Doerr's double, and another in the second on Stan Spence's double. In the third, Ted Williams hit a two bagger, then Foxx teed off. Score:

New York [N. L.]..000 000 003—3 9 1

PHILS OPEN WITH VICTORY.

Miami Beach, Fla., March 13 (AP).—The Philadelphia Phillies opened their exhibition season today with a 5 to 3 victory over the Syracuse Chiefs. The Phillies got their first rate pitching from Kirby Higbe, Ike Pearson, and Rookie Roy Bruner.

Syracuse [Int.]........000 300 000—3 3 5
Philadelphia [N. L.].101 200 01*—5 4 2

Batteries—Rambert, Angels, Zachar and Bottarini, Richards, Lenn; Higbe, Pearson, Bruner and Warren, Atwood.

REDS WHIP CARDS AGAIN.

Tampa, Fla., March 13 (AP).—Rookie Mike McCormick, with two triples and a double, led Cincinnati to a 7 to 1 triumph over St. Louis today, the Reds' second straight over the Cardinals.

Lloyd Dietz held the Cards hitless the first three innings while the Reds failed to reach Lon Warneke until the third. Cincinnati scored once in the fourth, four more in the sixth, and one each in the seventh and eighth.

St. Louis [N. L.]...000 100 000—1 3 1
Cincinnati [N. L.]...000 104 11*—7 13 1

POFAHL IMPRESSES GRIFFITH.

Orlando, Fla., March 13 (AP).—Manager Bucky Harris of the Senators today enthused the throwing arm of Jimmy Pofahl, rookie shortstop.

"His arm will do," said Harris of the $40,000 Minneapolis player. "He'll be able to go to his right and still throw out runners because he gets the ball away faster than most shortstops."

FELLER LOSES CAMP GAME.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 13 (AP).—Bob Feller was charged with a 2 to 0 defeat today in his first mound appearance of the training season. He worked three innings of a seven inning intra-squad game.

Carleton Stops Yankees, but Dodgers Lose

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 13 (AP).—Joe Gordon hit a home run and two singles today as the New York Yankees overpowered the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5 to 2. Both the Dodgers' runs came in the seventh after Rookie Charley Stanceau and Lefty Lee Grissolm had scattered five hits in the first six innings. Tex Carleton did just as well for Brooklyn in his three inning trick, fanning six and allowing only one hit. Score:

Brooklyn [N. L.]...000 000 200—2 11 1

HOLLYWOOD BEATS A'S, 4-2.

Anaheim, Cal., March 13 (AP).—The Philadelphia Athletics lacked base running ability and offensive power today and dropped their second exhibition game of the season to the Hollywood Stars, 4 to 2. The A's collected eight hits but wasted all except two. The Pacific coast leaguers fared better with their eight.

Hollywood [P. C.]....010 012 000—4 8 0
Philadelphia [A.]....000 000 110—2 8 2

TIGERS DOWN BEES, 6-4.

Bradenton, Fla., March 13 (AP).—The Boston Bees slugged as well as the Detroit Tigers today, but American leaguers won a 6 to 4 victory thru the medium of four unearned runs off Rookie A. Javery in the second inning. Les Scarsella led the Bees' attack with two doubles, while Hank Greenberg's triple was the best of Detroit's hits. Hank dropped an easy fly to give the Bees their only unearned run. Score:

Detroit ....040 000 200—6 9 1
Boston [N. L.] ......000 120 010—4 9 2

IRA FLAGSTEAD, FORMER MAJOR LEAGUER, DIES

Olympia, Wash., March 13 (AP).—Ira Flagstead, 46, former major league baseball player, died at his home today. He had been ill since August.

Flagstead played with Detroit from 1919 to 1923 and with the Boston Red Sox from 1923 to 1928. In 1925 he was a contender for the American league's most valuable player award. He was named Boston's outstanding player in that year. In 10 years in the American league Flagstead appeared in 1,112 games and compiled a lifetime hitting average of .293.

Returning home after the 1928 season with Boston, where fans presented him with $1,000 in gold, a new automobile, and other gifts, Flagstead was striken and remained ill for several weeks.

Returning to the majors, he failed to show his previous form and was shunted to Washington, Pittsburgh, Portland, and Seattle, and finally retired.

LEO HAS A BIG HURDLE BEFORE NATIONAL MEET

Plays St. Philip Saturday for Catholic Title.

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

Stan Patrick.

There are two objectives in the minds of Leo High school's senior basketball players. The first is their game with St. Philip for the Chicago Catholic league title in De La Salle gymnasium, 35th street and Michigan avenue, Saturday night. The second is the national Catholic championship tournament, which gets under way in Loyola university gymnasium on March 27.

Leo, runner-up to Central Catholic of Fort Wayne, Ind., in the national meet last year accepted an invitation to return to the Loyola tournament yesterday. When the south siders lost to the Hoosiers, 44 to 37, it marked the second time the Chicagoans had failed in their quest for the United States crown during the coaching régime of Vince Dowd. In 1938 they were eliminated by La Salle of Cumberland, Md., 24 to 19.

Leo Is Confident.

Coach Dowd and the players, however, are certain they will overcome the runner-up jinx this season. Leo finished second in the south division race of the Catholic league last year, and barely rated an invitation to the national tournament. The south siders now are confident they will enter the meet as Chicago champions, and that four of the five players who led Leo to the 1939 national finals will give St. Philip a convincing demonstration of their ability Saturday night.

Leading Leo's sharpshooters will be Stan Patrick, senior center, and one of the outstanding players in the league. The others include Norman Hawkey and Bill Hunt, forwards, and Jim Farrell and Henry Baranowski, guards. Patrick is the only player on the squad over six feet tall. Baranowski several weeks ago replaced Walter Mullen, veteran guard, who was injured. However, Coach Dowd plans to use Mullen for a short period against the west siders.

Fort Wayne to Return.

Leo this season has scored 21 victories and was beaten six times. The south siders suffered their first setback in the semi-finals of the St. George preseason tournament, losing to Fenwick, 26 to 25. Other squads which boast victories over the south side champions are Central Catholic of Fort Wayne, Loras of Dubuque, Ia.; Quigley, Weber, and De Paul.

Leo is the fourth quintet to definitely enter the national tournament. Other teams which have accepted invitations are Fort Wayne, the defending champions; Trinity High of Bloomington, Ill., and St. Mary's of Menasha, Wis. St. Philip, north section, winner, also has been invited to the Loyola meet and its acceptance will be announced soon.

Deckard, Maki to Run 3 Mile Match Race

Tommy Deckard, former Indiana university distance star, will meet Taisto Maki, Finnish distance runner, now touring the United States, in a three mile match race as the feature event on tomorrow night's Central A. A. U. championships at University of Chicago fieldhouse. Entire receipts of the meet will be turned over to the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc.

Officials decided on a match race late yesterday when Walter Mehl, University of Wisconsin, and Joe McCluskey, New York A. C., telegraphed they could not accept invitations to engage in the race. Mehl will meet Maki in Kansas City next Monday night and is training for that event. McCluskey was scheduled to run in a New York meet Saturday night.

No Peace for Maki.

Altho a peace treaty was signed and fighting ceased between Russian and Finnish troops, yesterday was no day of celebration for Maki. Instead, he was put thru two hard training sessions at the 132d Regiment armory on Madison avenue, under direction of Paavo Nurmi, former world champion distance star. Nurmi appears pleased with Maki's condition, but will send his protégé thru a final double workout today. Maki will confine his exercise to a long walk the day of the race.

Nurmi believes Maki will slice several seconds off his time of 14:15.3 for three miles at San Francisco last week. That race was run over a slow track. With this match race over cinders, instead of boards, and Maki nearing top form, Nurmi predicts he will go the three mile route under 14 minutes Friday night, and critics say he will have to be that fast to beat his Indiana foe.

Deckard is training at Bloomington, Ind., under direction of Coach E. S. Hayes. He will arrive in Chicago tomorrow morning.

Because there are 16 events on Friday's program the meet will get under way at 7:30 p. m. The advance sale of tickets has been brisk.

GAMES TODAY.
Championship Flight.
Platteville vs. Shawano.
Marshfield vs. Neenah.
Consolation Flight.
Delavan vs. Rice Lake.
Madison Central vs. Sturgeon Bay.

Madison, Wis., March 13 [Special].—Rhinelander, the defending champion, and Shorewood of Milwaukee, both early favorites for the 1940 title, were eliminated in the quarter-finals of the 25th annual Wisconsin High school basketball tournament in the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse today.

Rhinelander fell before a fast driving Platteville team, 31 to 29, and Shorewood faded in the last quarter of its game with Marshfield to go down to defeat, 20 to 16.

Neenah Game a Thriller.

Neenah furnished the major thrill of today's play by coming from far behind to defeat Superior East, 28 to 23. Superior East swept into an 8 to 1 lead during the first quarter and held a 20 to 7 advantage at the half. Neenah, however, broke loose with 10 points in the third quarter and 11 in the last period, while Superior East was being held to a basket and a free throw.

Rhinelander was unable to get its offensive working and trailed Platteville thruout the game.

Marshfield Uses 5 Players.

Shawano won its berth in the championship semi-finals with an easy victory over Eau Claire, 27 to 15, after taking a 14 to 10 lead in the first half. Bill Reed was the big gun in the Shawano attack, scoring six baskets and as many free throws.

Marshfield made a blazing rally in the last quarter to eliminate Shorewood after trailing, 14 to 11, at the end of the third period. Jack Connaughty, Marshfield center, led a nine point fourth quarter attack to send the northerners into the semi-finals while Shorewood was being held to a single field goal. The starting five played the entire game for Marshfield.

Report Finland May Try to Hold Olympic Games

[Copyright: 1940: By the New York Times.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 13.—Swedish sports circles expect Finland will attempt to hold the Olympic games in Helsingfors this summer as scheduled. There has been no confirmation from Finland, but according to sports leaders closely acquainted with Mayor Fraenkel and other Finnish officials they have always declared their determination to hold the games.

16 Prep Fives Battle Today for State Title

portion are Rushville, Beardstown, and Lewistown from the Illinois river valley. A thumb would cover them all on a small map, the longest distance between any of the three being only 34 miles. All are members of the Spoon River conference. Taylorville and Champaign are the central Illinois contenders. Paris and Casey are in east central Illinois, Granite City in the southwest near St. Louis, Salem and Herrin from Little Egypt, as southern Illinois is known.

Whichever wins the title will uphold the tradition that no Illinois champion shall be undefeated. Danville came the closest to a perfect season but lost to Decatur in the state tourney final of 1936. Dundee bettered this record in reverse two years ago, losing its season opener by one point and then sweeping 34 straight for the championship.

One of the feature first round games involves two comparative neighbors, Paris and Taylorville, meeting for the second time, with Taylorville seeking revenge. In none of the other engagements have the rivals met this season.

Tomorrow's schedule and the coaches of the teams:

Herrin [Russell Emery] vs. Bloom [Cecil M. Sarff], 2 p. m.

BOZEMAN RUNS OVER RUBIN, 50 TO 8, IN CUE MEET

his own way, but also left little for Rubin in the way of opportunities. Art scored in only six innings, getting pairs in the fourth and 29th, and singles in the 8th, 14th, 15th, and 19th.

Bozeman, who won the lag, picked up two off of that, three in the fourth and five in the 12th. From the 16th thru the 23d his card read 3-2-3-2-3-3-1-10, a chain of 27 billiards in eight innings.

Hoppe Wins Second.

At 12:30 o'clock this morning Hoppe, the master of them all, clicked off his final billiard for a 50 to 43 decision over Art Thurnblad of Kenosha, Wis., in a match that went 58 innings. It was Hoppe's second victory in two matches and the third straight tough loss for Thurnblad, who had previously scored 47 and 44 points in losing to Cochran and Chamaco. Thurnblad fought from behind most of the way, taking a 38 to 33 lead on his high run of six in the 48th. He was still in front, 42 to 40, when Hoppe decided on a six of his own and the advantage that he closed out with pairs in the 57th and 58th. Scores by innings:

Sooner or later, you'll surely try Phillies. Then why not now? Smokers, themselves, have made it "America's No. 1 Cigar". How can you be sure you aren't missing a lot of extra smoking enjoyment, if you haven't tried the cigar most men prefer?

HERE'S SOMETHING TO CONSIDER. Phillies is guaranteed exactly the same cigar today, for only 5¢, that was good enough to become the country's biggest selling brand at 10¢.

only 5¢

HERE'S SOMETHING ELSE: Smokers walk up to cigar counters day after day and lay down more money for Phillies than for any other cigar. There must be a reason.

NEW YORK CLEARS WAY TO LEGALIZE PARI-MUTUELS

Final Draft Due Today; No Decision on Bookies.

Albany, N. Y., March 13 [Special].—Moving toward early passage of a law to permit pari-mutuel betting this year at New York horse race tracks, the assembly ways and means committee agreed on details of a complete bill today.

The two month legislative wrangle over mutuels, which were authorized by a referendum at last November's elections, is to end after the senate finance committee drafts its bill tomorrow, and any differences are ironed out in conference. The desperate need for revenue to balance the state budget is believed chiefly responsible for getting a bill passed now.

The assembly bill calls for a 10 per cent take, to be shared equally by the state and the tracks. Breakage, also to be shared equally, is to be figured to the nearest lower nickel instead of nearest dime, as originally proposed. For example, if the mutuels figure a horse's winning price is $8.68, the better will receive $8.65 instead of $8.60.

Bookies' Fate Undecided.

One matter not settled by the assembly was whether or not to permit the continuance of bookies under protection of the new law.

Admission is fixed at $2 exclusive of tax to discourage betting at the tracks by those who cannot afford such a luxury. This represents a compromise between the $1.50 admission first proposed and much higher figures suggested.

The racing season is to be from April 15 to Nov. 15, and a provision requiring the state racing commission to assign all track dates has been eliminated. This means competition between Saratoga and New York city area tracks during August is possible.

The bill places administration of pari-mutuel betting in the hands of the state tax commission, rather than the state racing commission. Approximately $60,000 is appropriated for administrative purposes.

Members of the state legislature, who have had passes in the past, presumably are covered by the phrase "public officers present in performance of their duties."

Make Provision for Changes.

The bill as agreed upon is a permanent bill, but the committee voted to authorize a legislative investigating committee to study the subject and to report to the 1941 session of the legislature on necessary amendments in the light of actual workings of pari-mutuel betting.

Harness racing, covered in a separate bill, is to be governed by a commission of three members, appointed by the secretary of state with the consent of the governor. At least one member shall be a director of the United States Trotting association. The present state appropriation for state fairs is increased from $250,000 a year to $400,000 instead of $600,000 as first proposed.

Pari-mutuel betting at state fairs would be prohibited, but the commission would be allowed to license seven tracks for harness racing at which pari-mutuel betting would be allowed.

PIKER ELECTED NORTHWESTERN TRACK CAPTAIN

Myron Piker, Big Ten indoor sprint champion, was elected captain of Northwestern university's track team yesterday. Piker, who hails from Hamilton, O., is a junior in the college of liberal arts. He won both the indoor and outdoor conference sprint titles as a sophomore last year and climaxed the 1940 indoor season by winning the 60 yard dash in the Big Ten indoor championships last week. He holds the Northwestern record for both the 60 and 100 yard dashes.

Give Flinchum One More Day as Apprentice

TROPICAL PARK.

Classic Beauty and Berwyn.........$197.30

OAKLAWN.

Guess What and Lady Thirteen.......$122.10

Miami, Fla., March 13 (AP). — Roy Jack Flinchum, a tiny lad with a frank, open face, will ride for the last time as an apprentice jockey tomorrow.

Roy Flinchum.

"He's lost his bug!" was the way fellow thorobred pilots expressed it, and they keenly awaited a demonstration of the sensational young Miamisburg, O., rider's ability as a senior.

Losing the "bug" simply means removal of the asterisk which denotes the apprentice from before the jockey's printed name. Friday, a year and a day after Flinchum's first victory as a rider, he automatically becomes a senior.

This gave the youngster one more day than he expected as an apprentice. The Jockey club, which had ordered him to start as a senior tomorrow, gave a revised interpretation of rules which will bring the change in status one day later.

Loses Weight Allowances.

The important thing about losing the "bug" is that he no longer can claim the five pound apprentice allowance. So important is this step that many promising young fellows are little heard of thereafter. In every race horses are handicapped or required to carry a certain weight. In some events, such as the Kentucky Derby, all entries carry identical weights. But in day in, day out racing entries are assigned weights according to their records.

The plan is to handicap so that at the start all the horses have an equal chance to win. The difference in the jockey's and the assigned weights is made up in bags of lead pellets.

Far Ahead in Winners.

An apprentice is given a five pound allowance because he is considered to have less experience than a senior. The lifting of five pounds from horses carrying apprentices with the ability of young Flinchum sometimes results in sensational rides.

Flinchum has been sensational. Far and away the leading jockey of the Florida winter meet, he has booted 67 winners home at Tropical and Hialeah Parks, 14 victories ahead of the next high rider, Eddie Arcaro, a top ranking veteran.

Under the management of his father, Roy Jack Flinchum Sr., the youth is making plans for a busy summer. He expects to ride Woolford Farm's Prompt Pay in the Kentucky Derby.

CARDINALS WARN MEDWICK OF BAN UNLESS HE SIGNS

St. Louis, Mo., March 13 (AP).—Joe Medwick tonight said he has received a letter from Vice President Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals, warning him of possible ineligibility if he failed to sign his contract.

The slugging outfielder and former National league batting champion, who quit the Cardinal camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., a week ago, wants a $2,000 salary cut he took last year restored to the $20,000 he received in 1938.

Rickey apparently was referring to the rule which says any player who fails to report to his club within 10 days after the opening of its championship season shall not be eligible to play in any league games until authorized by the league president or baseball commisisoner.

The Michelobs tied Monarch for fourth place by taking two from the latter. Ambrosia defeated Power House twice.

The three-game victory moved the Pabsts into a fourth place tie with the Pepsi-Colas who won two from Jones & Baumrucker. They passed the Logan Squares who dropped a set to the Clarks. The Rovicks maintained their two-game lead by winning three from Schlitz-Morgan while the runner-up Budweisers took three from the Marios.

The Sparta Falstaffs, professional soccer champions, will make another bid for a national title when they meet the Chryslers of Detroit Sunday in the Sparta stadium, 21st street and Kostner avenue, in the national cup western semi-finals. Leading the Sparta attack will be Jimmy MacDermott, star center forward and leading goal scorer of the west.

HAWKS PREPARE FOR FINAL GAMES OF LEAGUE PLAY

Manager Paul Thompson had every member of the Blackhawk hockey team on the ice of the Chicago Arena yesterday afternoon for a light workout. Earl Seibert and Art Wiebe are the particular worries right now of Thompson.

Both are badly needed for the Stanley cup playoffs which get under way in Toronto next Tuesday. Thompson said that the two big defense players would not be taken to Detroit for tomorrow's game. Neither will they play against the Red Wings in the season's final clash in the Stadium Sunday, unless their ailing knees respond favorably today.

INT. NICKEL NET EARNINGS UP TO $2.39 A SHARE

War Brings Capacity Operations.

Robert C. Stanley.

The International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., world's largest producer of nickel, in 1939 had a net profit of $36,847,266, equal, after preferred dividend requirements, to $2.39 a share on common stock, Robert C. Stanley, chairman and president reported yesterday to stockholders.

In 1938 the company had a net profit of $32,399,470, equal to $2.09 a share. The 1937 earnings set an all-time high at $50,299,623, or $3.81 a share.

Profit for the last quarter of 1939 was $10,262,660, equal to 60 cents a share, compared with $8,115,095, or 53 cents a share, in the corresponding 1938 period.

Company on Wartime Basis.

Altho it operates in various parts of the world, International Nickel's greatest activity is in Canada. Consequently the war has had an important affect on its business. Stanley said that after war was declared in September there was a general readjustment of all activities to conform with wartime conditions.

"The government's export business is vital to the Canadian nickel industry," Stanley said. "Government authorities have been extremely cooperative and thru a system of control permits consumers of nickel in export markets have been adequately supplied.

"No exports of any of the company's nickel, copper, or platinum metals are being made to any destination outside of the British market without government sanction. The company's mines and works were operated continuously at or near capacity."

Expects Continuous Outlet.

Commenting on the outlook, Stanley said that regardless of the length of the war it may be assumed that the Canadian and British governments will provide an outlet for a substantial part of the company's products.

"From the long range point of view, however," he continued, "the company should not rely solely on the empire's markets but must now anticipate and consider conditions which all industry must face when the war is over. The most effective safeguard at that time against unemployment and paralysis of industry generally would be a firmly established export trade such as the company always has enjoyed and desires to augment."

Consumption at Peak.

Stanley said that world consumption of nickel increased to a new peak of 256,000,000 pounds in 1939. International's sales totaled 210,194,135 pounds, a new record. The increase occurred largely in the United States market, altho British empire markets showed substantial gains.

Copper sales by the company reached a new high with a total of 324,850,921 pounds. Sales of the platinum group of metals, including platinum, palladium, iridium, rhodium, and ruthenium, totaled 240,778 ounces, also a new high. World consumption of these metals in 1939 was about 500,000 ounces.

Stanley said the company's financial statements are in terms of the United States dollar as in the past.

Reports from New York stated that altho no word has been received about International Nickel's properties in Finland, maps of the territory which Finland has ceded to Russia under the peace terms indicate that the properties will remain in Finland.

CALIFORNIA FIRM ACQUIRES MARTIN ENGINE BUSINESS

Los Angeles, Cal., March 13 [Special].—Acquisition of the entire Glenn L. Martin Motors company engine business by the Phillips Aviation company here was announced today. James A. Phillips Jr., president, said the Phillips company has obtained all patents and rights from the Martin company.

Production will begin immediately on a 120 horse power four cylinder motor, which has been renamed the "Phillips 333." Expansion into production of several other models is projected by the Phillips concern with other patents obtained. Production tools developed by Martin already have arrived at the Phillips plant, which occupies 20,000 square feet on a 20 acre tract at the Metropolitan airport, Van Nuys.

Fletcher Urges Enactment of Transport Bill

R. V. Fletcher.

Passage of the transportation bill now pending in congress may help alleviate the railroad problem by ending the chaos resulting from the failure to apply the same principles of federal control to all transport agencies. This statement was made yesterday by R. V. Fletcher, vice president and general counsel of the Association of American Railroads at the 41st annual convention of the American Railway Engineering association in the Palmer House.

Fletcher said that while the railroad want equality of treatment, they are not advocating any legislation that will give them an undue advantage over competitive forms of transportation.

No Substitute for Traffic.

"It is not pretended that enactment of the transportation bill will solve the railroad problem," Fletcher asserted, "in the sense that it will transform an industry bristling with difficulties into one which is happy and prosperous. Nothing can take the place of a real revival in business. No legislation can be suggested which will supply needed traffic or restore the railroads to their former prosperity."

Fletcher said the transportation bill improves the present law with respect to consolidations, thru which the roads hope to cut operating costs. The bill, as it stands in the senate, substitutes for the difficult Interstate Commerce commission requirements now in effect the simple standard of whether a consolidation would be in the public interest.

Criticizes Labor Amendment.

Fletcher criticized an amendment inserted in the house bill requiring that there be no displacement of employés or impairment of their service rights in consolidations. "Obviously, if railroads are consolidated some unemployment will result and some of the seniority rights of employés will be impaired," he asserted.

Fletcher declared the railroads favor provisions in the bill that would place the inland waterways under federal control and require them to publish rates if they are common carriers, and to file minimum rates if they are contract carriers.

Two Chicagoans were elected directors of the association. They are J. G. Palmer, engineer of maintenance and construction for the Baltimore and Ohio Chicago Terminal railroad, and Armstrong Chinn, chief engineer for the Alton.

SEC SETS DATE FOR HEARING ON DAYTON POWER

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission, an official said today, will hear oral arguments April 5 on the question of "arm's length bargaining" in the underwriting of $25,000,000 of 3 per cent first mortgage bonds, due in 1970, issued by Dayton Power and Light company.

A decision in the Dayton Power case would be the first under SEC rules governing the relationship between underwriters and security issuers.

Morgan Stanley & Co. of New York was the chief underwriter. Its fees have been impounded pending a decision as to whether it stood in such relationship to the utility as to have made liable an absence of free competition in arranging sale of the bonds.

EASTERN RAILROADS SCALE SCHEDULE TO LOWER RATE LEVELS

Passenger department officials of eastern railroads were busy yesterday preparing new schedules containing fare reductions authorized on Tuesday. The reductions are on a sliding scale, depending on distance. The maximum reduction is ½ cent a mile for distances of 500 miles or more, which brings the rate to 1½ cents a mile.

First class rates covering Pullman accommodations are not affected, remaining at 3 cents a mile. A 2 cent rate applies for 100 miles or less. The Interstate Commerce commission in February ordered the eastern roads to reduce their coach fares from 2½ to 2 cents a mile, effective March 25.

	One way.		Round trip.
	Old.	New.	Old.	New.
Cincinnati	$ 7.36	$ 5.90	$12.50	$10.65
Detroit	7.11	5.70	12.10	10.30
New York	22.69	18.20	30.90	27.25
Philadelphia	20.44	16.40	28.75	24.55
Pittsburgh	11.73	9.40	18.70	15.10
Washington	19.27	15.45	27.60	23.15

Western railroad fares, which were reduced in 1933 from the old 3.6 cents per mile rate, remain at 3 cents a mile for one way first class travel and 2 cents in coaches. The round trip rates are 1.8 cents a mile for coach and 2.25 cents for first class travel.

'MO.-KAN.' SUIT CONTESTS PIPE LINE ELECTION

Wilmington, Del., March 13 (AP).—A bill of complaint against the conduct of elections at the annual meeting of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line company stockholders last Monday has been filed in Chancery court by the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company.

Missouri-Kansas, known by stock traders as "Mo.-Kan," which claims ownership of 339,275 of the 807,367 shares of Panhandle common stock outstanding, named as defendants the Panhandle company and these individuals: J. D. Creveling, Louis F. Sperry, Joseph J. Bodell, David Boyd-Smith, Hubert E. Howard, Geoffrey Mellor, and William C. Trighman.

The bill said they elected directors at the meeting, but that Creveling, who presided, did not seat them. Creveling refused to recognize the election of officers and is continuing in the office of president himself, the bill charged.

Panhandle stockholders voted down a resolution that would return stock control to Missouri-Kansas.

PLAN ALLOWING EXCHANGE FIRMS TO INCORPORATE

New York, March 13 (AP).—A New York Stock exchange committee recommended today member firms be allowed to organize and operate affiliated corporations to underwrite security issues. The governing board scheduled the proposal for consideration March 27.

The committee emphasized any such moves should be wholly on a voluntary basis and experimental. Member firms now are organized as private partnerships, making partners individually liable to meet the firm obligations. The incorporation trend in the financial field recently was marked by the decision of J. P. Morgan & Co. to shift from a private partnership to a state chartered corporation.

The exchange report cited figures published by the Securities and Exchange commission showing stock exchange firms in the year ended June 30, 1939, underwrote at least 46 per cent of the registered securities offered for sale that year.

Pound Rallies After Dive Due to Huge Sales

Crumbling under a second day of heavy selling, British currency slumped yesterday in the unofficial foreign exchange market in New York to the lowest value in terms of American dollars since 1933. The pound sterling lost as much as 6¼ cents when it was traded at $3.70¾, but rallied to close unchanged at $3.77.

The drop was attributed to continued selling of British currency bought in unofficial or "free" markets below the Bank of England rate of $4.03½ fixed by the British treasury. Unloading of this "black" [unofficial] sterling by foreign exchange dealers started early this week after the Bank of England last Saturday decreed new foreign exchange measures to halt the drain of sterling into the "free" markets.

Rule Bans Free Market.

The new regulations become effective March 25 and will forbid British exporters to accept in payment any sterling not purchased at the official rate. Heretofore, American and other importers of British goods have bought sterling in the "free" at rates ranging as much as 15 cents below the official rate.

The tighter controls were imposed to plug the leak of sterling into the unofficial markets from foreigners holding sterling balances in London or receiving dividends and interest on British securities in sterling. The foreigners sold this sterling in the free markets at lower prices than the official rate because they could not convert their sterling into dollars or other currencies without special permission from the Bank of England.

Foreigners Unloading Sterling.

With the prospect of the "free" markets in the pound disappearing as a result of the new drastic restrictions, these foreigners were reported unloading their sterling before March 25. The American importers most affected by the new exchange regulations are those industries using British rubber, tin, jute, and furs.

Interpretation of the Finnish-Russian peace as a tactical defeat for the empires was said to have also caused the weakness in the British currency.

The Canadian dollar also recovered from morning losses and closed ¼ cent higher at 82⅛ cents in terms of the United States dollar. The belga and the Netherlands guilder each declined 0.02 cent; the Swiss franc, 0.01 cent, and the French franc, 0.00⅛.

Exchange, Board of Trade to Close on Good Friday

INTEREST RATE TUMBLES ON BANK DEPOSITS

Hits 1.4 Per Cent in Chicago Area.

Interest rates paid on bank deposits in 1939 in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district were the lowest in history, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday.

The reserve bank said that the average rate of interest paid by banks last year on time deposits was 1.4 per cent. This is the lowest average annual rate recorded since the establishment of the federal reserve system in 1913. Comparable figures for the period prior to 1913 are not available, but it was stated by officials of the reserve bank that the 1939 rate was lower than the rates prevailing in the years before 1913.

No Demands for Loans.

The principal factor in bringing about the cut in interest on deposits was the lack of demand for commercial loans and the small return available to banks on such loans. The majority of banks are carrying substantial amounts of idle funds on which no return is being earned.

Only time deposits were used in calculating the average rate paid in 1939. Banks are no longer permitted to pay interest on demand deposits.

Ten years ago interest rates on time deposits averaged about 3 per cent. In the early 1920s the interest rates were as high as 4 per cent. The rate has been falling steadily as a result of the easy money policy that has been pursued by the federal government.

Interest Chief Income Source.

The reserve bank's study showed that the chief source bank income was interest and discounts on loans. These accounted for 50.5 of the total current earnings of the 777 banks included in the study. Other sources of income were interest and dividends on investments, which accounted for 31.3 per cent of the total earnings; service charges, which contributed 7.4 per cent, and miscellaneous earnings which represented 10.8 per cent of the total. The big banks derived a larger part of their earnings from investments than the small institutions. Banks with deposits of $50,000,000 or more realized only 30 per cent of their earnings from loans and discounts and 46.6 per cent from investments. Banks with deposits of $250,000 or less obtained 63.1 per cent from loans and only 23.3 per cent from investments.

Net earnings of all the reporting banks averaged 8.4 per cent on total capital accounts [capital, surplus, and reserves]. Dividends paid out to stockholders, however, amounted to only 2.2 per cent of total capital accounts.

About one-third of the total assets of the reporting banks were in cash, the study disclosed. The remaining assets were divided as follows: 32 per cent in loans, 34.4 per cent in securities; 2.2 per cent in real estate, and 0.1 per cent in "other assets."

Walt Disney's First Public Stock Issue Is Registered

Washington, D. C., March 13 [Special].—Walt Disney Productions, the corporate progenitor of such famed characters as Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck, passed from a family enterprise into the realm of big business today when it filed with the Securities and Exchange commission notice of intention to raise about $4,000,000 of new capital.

The filing of a registration statement covering 150,000 shares of $25 par value 6 per cent convertible preferred stock is preliminary to the first public offering of Disney securities. In addition, 5,000 shares are to be sold to company officers and employés.

The Disney family retains control of the organization, however, thru the ownership of all common stock. Walter E. Disney owns 106,500 shares, Lillian B. Disney 106,500 shares, Roy O. Disney 71,000 shares, and Edna F. Disney, 71,000 shares.

"Snow White" Brings Fame.

The enterprise has attained wide recognition for such full length productions as "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and "Pinocchio." It was disclosed that "Snow White" grossed $4,677,863 up to Dec. 31, 1939.

Possible adverse factors were cited along with the story of success. One was that the family enterprise is largely the personal creation of Walter E. Disney, president and founder, and that loss of his services might imperil the venture.

With this in mind, the statement said, "the company will undertake to insure the life of Mr. Disney for $1,500,000." He is now 38 years old.

The effect of foreign wars also was cited since a "substantial portion of the company's revenues in the past have been derived without the United States.

The underwriters who will first introduce "Mickey Mouse" to Wall street trading were listed as Kidder, Peabody & Co., Harriman Ripley & Co., both of New York, and Pacific Capital Corporation of Los Angeles."

Proceeds of the financing will be used to pay promissory notes held by Bank of America Trust and Savings association of California. The bank loan was used for construction of new plant facilities at Burbank, Cal.

The registration statement reveal salaries for the year ended Sept. 30, 1939, were: Walter E. Disney, president, $108,298; Roy O. Disney, executive vice president, $54,185; Gunther R. Lessing, vice president, $14,335; Edward M. Francis, treasurer, $8,099, and George E. Morris, secretary, $9,711.

Foreign Source of Income.

The statement disclosed that on Monday the company entered into an agreement employing Walter E. Disney as executive production manager at $2,000 a week, and Roy O. Disney as business manager at $1,000 a week. Traveling expenses are included in the contracts, which run for seven years.

Net income was reported as $218,575 for the fiscal year 1935; $78,755 for 1936; $140,627 for 1937, and $918,412 for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1938, when the three former companies were consolidated. Net income of the present company was $1,250,130 for the year ended Sept. 30, 1939, and $64,346 for the three months ended Dec. 31, 1939.

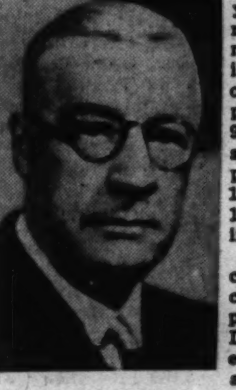
Bill to Allocate TVA Cash to States Approved

Washington, D. C., March 13 [Special.]—A bill to allocate 10 per cent of the revenues of the Tennessee Valley authority to compensate state for loss of taxes on land taken under federal jurisdiction in the course of its operations was given a unanimously favorable report today by the senate agriculture committee. The bill was sponsored by Senator George Norris. As drawn, the bill would graduate proposed compensatory payments to states, downward from 10 per cent to 5 per cent over a period of five years.

WAR REDUCES PROFIT OF SWIFT ARGENTINE FIRM

Foreign Trade Loss Cuts Earnings.

Compania Swift Internacional, meat packers with offices in Buenos Aires, Argentina, yesterday reported net earnings for 1939 of 14,813,913 pesos, or 9.87 pesos a share, compared with 17,182,016, or 11.45 pesos, in 1938.



Harry McLerie.

At the 22.7 cents exchange rate prevailing Dec. 31, the earnings amounted to $3,362,758, or $2.24 a share, against $3,917,499, or $2.61, the previous year.

"Current operations are on a profitable basis," Harry McLerie, the president, said in his report to shareholders, "but with present abnormal and distressing conditions in Europe no accurate forecast of prospects is possible."

Loss Charged to Income.

The loss on conversion of Argentine pesos of the net current investments in foreign currencies amounted to 4,439,904 pesos and was written off against income of the year, he said.

Asserting the company's business has been affected considerably by the European war, McLerie said that shortly after the outbreak of hostilities the British government requisitioned all meat supplies in the United Kingdom and began negotiations for meat contracts with Argentina, Uruguay, and Brazil.

Until these contracts were completed, regular shipments were continued at the request of the British government, and a satisfactory settlement was made later. The company now is operating under contracts for agreed periods. In Australia and New Zealand, he added, the output at all plants has been sold at satisfac-

Chicago, the Telephone City

MORE telephone apparatus (switchboards, telephone instruments, etc.) is made in Chicago than in any other city in the world. Over 60 per cent of the world's supply is manufactured in this city. The annual production of telephone apparatus all over the earth is valued at $110,000,000 of which $68,000,000 is produced in Chicago.

In addition to the telephones actually manufactured in Chicago, the companies whose principal plants are here, through subsidiaries operating in England, France, Belgium, Australia, Japan, China and many other foreign countries, project their genius in the designing and making of telephone apparatus into almost every corner of the globe.

Chicago, the Wonder City—The commercial progress of Chicago is one of the marvels of the century. In common with other financial institutions, the growth of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank is largely dependent on the growth of Chicago. And the growth of Chicago rests on the faith and vision of its citizens. In a series of advertisements, of which this is the Twelfth, we are trying to set forth a few of the achievements of this great city. Chicago will continue to contribute to the benefit of its citizens in proportion to their faith in its future.

New York Stocks.

New York, March 13 (AP).—Aviation stocks, hardest hit by the first Russo-Finnish truce reports, came back strongly today to steady a hesitant market. The backbone of the movement came from buying in the shares of commercial air lines—Pan American Airways, American Air Lines, Transcontinental and Western Air, and United Air Lines—companies with no "war baby" connotations.

Their rise carried Curtiss-Wright A and Douglas quotations upward, practically wiping out the effects of the sudden selloff of aircraft makers' shares which occurred yesterday.

Market sentiment on the prospects of new European calls for supplies from the United States was indicated mainly by commodities, which weakened.

Stocks at higher levels included Chrysler, Goodyear, Sears-Roebuck, Safeway Stores, du Pont, International Telephone, American Telephone, Southern Railway, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit, Standard Oil of New Jersey, and Loft. On the downside were Dow Chemical, United States Steel, Bethlehem, Harvester, Westinghouse, Union Carbide, and Santa Fe.

New York Bonds.

New York, March 13 (AP).—Scandinavian loans celebrated the Russian-Finnish peace pact with new gains in the bond market today.

Finland 6s led the procession with a 12 point rise to 80. Ahead 2 to around 5 at the close were Copenhagen 5s of '52, Denmark 4½s, 5½s, and 6s, and Norway 4¼s, 4½s and 6s. Some foreign issues were a bit backward, notably Australia 4½s and new South Wales 5s of '58, which gave up 1 to 2 points.

Domestic corporate issues were mixed.

The United States government list again scored a fair number of moderate advances in light trading. A few treasuries moved up ¼ point.

Chicago Stocks.

For the second consecutive day United Air Lines stock yesterday established a new 1940 high on the Chicago Stock exchange, advancing ⅛ point to 18. Volume leaders included Middle West, down ¼ at 7⅞; Chicago corporation, unchanged at 1⅝, and North American Car, up ¼ at 4¾. Price trends of the 90 issues were mixed. Sales amounted to 15,000 shares.

Dollar volume of transactions on the exchange during February was $11,334,000, or 7.5 per cent larger than in February, 1939, and 25.5 per cent less than for January, 1940.

Bank Stocks.

Declines predominated in bank stock trading yesterday. Northern Trust and First National each declined 2 points, closing at bids of 565 and 240, respectively. City National was off a point at 110, and Chicago Title and Trust fell ½ point to 118. Other issues were steady.

NEW YORK STOCK TRANSACTIONS

WHEAT, OTHER GRAINS DECLINE ON FINNS' PEACE

Signing of the treaty of peace between Finland and Russia and rumors that efforts would be made by Pope Pius XII. to bring about a general European peace led to general selling of all grain futures on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday.

Wheat prices declined 2¼ cents at one time and while there was a moderate rally from the bottom on unfavorable crop comments closing trades were 1⅛ to 1⅝ cents lower. Corn was ⅛ cent lower; oats, unchanged to ½ cent lower, and soy beans declined 1½ cents.

Light rain or snow fell over a wide area in the winter wheat belt with a forecast for fair and warmer in the southwest. Wheat traders, however, paid less attention to crop comments that for several days due to the change in the political situation in Record stocks of lard in cold storage on March 1, as officially reported, led to general commission house liquidation in lard futures, and closing sales were 15 to 17½ cents lower. May sold at a new low price since August, 1939, and came within about ½ cent a pound of the seasonal low level.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Trading restricted by unfavorable weather conditions. BUTTER—Firmer; receipts, 8,592 tubs. EGGS—Steady to ¼c higher; receipts, 20,402 cases. POULTRY—Steady to firm; receipts, 10 trucks. Commodities

Most commodity markets marked time yesterday as traders sought to digest the implications of the Finnish-Russian peace. Buying was kept to a minimum and prices declined.

Virtually no export business was closed in the metal markets. Trading remained largely nominal at the prices obtaining Tuesday. Export copper was quoted at 11.65 cents for spot shipment.

Speculative selling and hedge liquidation aided in lowering the price of sugar futures. World contracts found only small support from Cuban buying and prices dropped ½ to 1½ points. Duty free raw sugar sold at 2.81 cents when an eastern refiner took 2,000 tons of Philippines and 35,000 bags of Puerto Ricos on that basis. Cubas were nominally quoted at 2.85 cents, duty paid.

Thrown back for moderate losses were such war-favored comodities as rubber and Straits tin. Quotations on cocoa, wool tops, cottonseed oil, and Santos coffee also declined.

CLIENTS' LOSSES SAVED COMPANY, SEC CHARGES

Instalment Certificate Plan Told Congress.

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission told congress today that losses to investors thru failure to keep up instalment payments in a certain type of investment contract provided the income which enabled a company to continue as "a going concern."

The disclosure was made in a report on companies which issue "face amount instalment certificates" and is a part of the SEC's broad study of investment trusts and investment companies.

Investigating Two Firms.

The report said there were only three major companies in this type of business and its study was limited almost entirely to two of them, Investors Syndicate with gross assets of $92,599,349 on Dec. 31, 1936, and Fidelity Investment association, with $29,449,919 in gross assets on that date.

These certificates studied were described as "in essence, simply unsecured obligations of the companies which issue them to pay a specified sum to the holder at a specified future date, provided the purchaser, promptly and without any delinquency, makes all the payments required by these contracts or certificates."

Survey Covers 10 Years.

In the survey of Investors Syndicate, covering the 10 year period 1927-1936, the commission said:

"The capital loss of $13,735,000 sustained by the holders of lapsed and surrendered certificates represents their actual contribution to the company, a contribution which has enabled the corporation to continue as a going concern, inasmuch as its net income from its investment sources has been inadequate for that purpose."

The report said the experience of purchasers of Fidelity Investment association certificates "appears to have been unsatisfactory, as a whole."

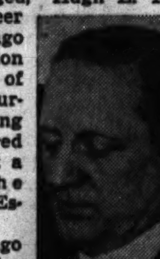
MORRO CASTLE OWNERS UPHELD IN DAMAGE SUIT

New York, March 13 [Special].—Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard ruled today that the Morro Castle disaster, in which 81 passengers and 34 crew members died, was caused by the "negligence of the officers and crew" and that the ship's owners should be reimbursed by the Continental Insurance Company of the City of New York. The Morro Castle burned off the New Jersey coast in September, 1934.

Judge Goddard entered his opinion in a suit by the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship company against the insurance company. Claims of $13,500,000 were filed against the steamship company and were settled for $890,000. Counsel fees and other expenses brought the cost to $1,114,267. The steamship company asked for an award of this sum with interest.

Judge Goddard decided the amount of damages to be awarded should be determined by a commissioner of the court, unless an amount were agreed upon by the litigants.

CHICAGO'S 'HAYWIRE' ZONING PLAN MUST BE CHANGED, SAYS YOUNG



Hugh E. Young.

Chicago's zoning "is haywire and must be changed," Hugh E. Young, chief engineer for the Chicago Plan commission and director of the land use survey now being made, declared yesterday at a meeting of the Chicago Real Estate board.

"The Chicago Plan commission," he said, "will use the "land use" survey data in connection with three things which the city council has authorized, empowered, and directed the plan commission to do. They are:

"2. In developing plans and recommendations for rezoning Chicago to be officially adopted by the city.

"3. In developing plans and recommendations for preventing good neighborhoods from becoming blighted; for the redemption and rebuilding of areas which are now blighted; and for the clearance of slum areas."

COTTON FUTURES RECEDE UNDER HEAVY SELLING

Closing Prices Down 8 to 21 Points.

New York, March 13 (AP).—Cotton futures dropped with a bang today in one of the fastest sessions in weeks. Climaxing the price swing was a last-minute rally of around 10 points in the old March delivery, but at the finish the list was still down 8 to 21 points.

A severe slump in overseas markets—Liverpool broke the 25 point allowed limit—released a flood of foreign liquidation by operators taking advantage of price differences between here and abroad. Bombay alone was rumored to have sold about 15,000 bales.

Announcement by Milo Perkins, chief of the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, there would be no export subsidy on cotton for the remainder of the present fiscal year spiked rumors apparently originating in Liverpool that the subsidy would be paid. Futures prices follow:

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By HOMER NEISZ

Ice Blankets the Farm.

March 13, 1940.

SLEET, fine snow, and rain that froze as it fell covered the countryside last night and this morning with a huge blanket of thin ice. All the timber and dead vegetation in the fields, and the fences, buildings, and telephone wires at the Du Page county farm are decorated like Christmas trees. Ice and icicles are everywhere.

So far the coatings of ice are not heavy enough to damage trees and shrubs, altho the branches are bent down under the weight of ice.

Automobiles without chains must be driven carefully on the farm lanes and side roads. Traffic on the main highways around the farm is light today, and what there is moves much slower than usual.

Stock's Routine Upset.

The ice upset the daily routine of most of the farm animals and poultry. The horses have not been allowed out of the stables. Some of the lambs ventured outside the sheep barn early this morning into a nearby orchard where dead grass under the ice helped them to get sure footing. By noon all were back in the barn. They were content merely to look out the south door.

Turkeys roosting in trees in the poultry yard got more than their share of the ice. Their feathers were covered with it. The flockmaster heard a crash in one of the trees just before daybreak. He investigated and found that one old turkey gobbler, sheathed in ice, had become too heavy for the small limb on which he was roosting. The limb had broken off and the gobbler, unable to spread his ice laden wings and sail down to an easy landing, had crashed in the corner of the fence. Minus the usual dignity of such proud birds, the old gobbler sat by the fence until daylight and then made his way cautiously across the poultry yard to a shed and waited for his heavy armor to melt.

Others Fare Better.

The other turkeys came down from the trees after daylight, making slightly more dignified landings, and went into a huddle with the gobbler in the shed. Some of them came out later in the day when most of the ice had melted off their feathers. Others just stuck their heads out the door and made low "turkey talk" sounds to those outside.

The Plymouth Rock hens have spent the day inside the laying house. Only the beef steers in the cattle feeding yard have gone about their daily routine as usual. The concrete feed yard is covered to a depth of about a foot with chopped-up hay for bedding. This makes it easy for the animals to stay on their feet while walking around the feed bunks and hay racks.

Farm work today was confined mainly to odd jobs indoors. Some of the men spent the day oiling and repairing work harness inside the tool shed.

OIL EXECUTIVE RIPS MEXICO FOR PROPERTY GRAB

Output Tumbles as Costs Soar, Says Hinshaw.

New York, March 13 [Special].—Mexico is following the Russian way of trying to solve her problems, and with the same lack of success, David Hinshaw, speaking for the Standard Oil company [New Jersey] told the Municipal Bond club at a luncheon today. Production is down, living costs are up, and capital either has been confiscated, fled the country or remains in Mexico in a precarious state, he said.

Mexico's "political and economic spree" has included confiscation of railroad, oil, agrarian, mine, and other United States owned properties valued in excess of $1,000,000,000, he said, with payments to date of only $1,000,000 for these seizures.

Americans' Stake Large.

"United States citizens have a substantial interest in the $510,000,000 of Mexican securities which are now selling for about 1 cent on the dollar," Hinshaw said.

"The government is heavily overdrawn at the Bank of Mexico. How much longer Uncle Sam will be able to finance Mexico's political spree is yet to be determined." [The United States government has purchased large quantities of silver produced in Mexico.]

Since Mexico took over all oil properties in April, 1938, Hinshaw continued, the number of workers has increased 25.1 per cent, costs have risen 52.1 per cent, and production has dropped 17.5 per cent.

Terms Process 'Labor Squeeze.'

He described the process which preceded taking over of the oil properties as a "labor squeeze."

"The union obtained a strangle hold over all employés and undermined the authority of the management," Hinshaw said. "Each demand served as a springboard for ever higher demands, not only for higher wages but for greater participation in the management of the business. In this manner the way was paved for final confiscation of the oil properties."

WEATHER SENDS EGG FUTURES TO NEW 1940 HIGHS

Egg futures quotations, spurred by advancing cash prices and unseasonal weather reports, climbed to new highs for 1940 on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday.

The October contract opened at 18.9 cents a dozen, 0.1 cent above the previous seasonal high of 18.8 cents, which it reached Tuesday, and pushed ahead to 19.05 for a new peak. Closing sales were at 19 cents a dozen.

The two other future deliveries, March and April, were bid higher than their previous peaks for 1940 at 17.55 and 17.6 cents, respectively, but no sellers accepted offers.

In the cash market, buyers offered ¾ cent a dozen over previous closing prices on some grades of eggs, but also found no holders willing to sell. Carlots of firsts and extra firsts each rose ¼ cent to 17 and 16¾ cents, respectively.

FRUEHAUF FIRM APPLIES TO SELL TRAILER STOCK

Washington, D. C., March 13 [Special].—Fruehauf Trailer company of Detroit, Mich., today filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange commission covering 40,000 shares 5 per cent convertible $100 par preferred stock, and 111,200 shares common stock, $1 par. The common will be reserved for conversion of the preferred.

The $4,000,000 principal amount of preferred stock registered will be offered publicly by an underwriting group headed by Lehman Brothers of New York City, and Watling, Lerchen & Co. of Detroit.

A portion of the net proceeds will be used to redeem the company's 4½ per cent sinking fund debenture notes due April 1, 1947, this amount estimated at $1,306,000. The balance will be used for general corporate purposes and for working capital.

MARTIN INSISTS ON PUBLIC RIGHT TO RISK MONEY

Rochester, N. Y., March 13 (AP).—While accepting regulation, the New York Stock exchange will fight any interference, maintaining that risk has been eliminated from security trading, William M. C. Martin, exchange president, said today.

Martin told the Rochester Chamber of Commerce the growth of business is dependent on the assumption of risk and that business faced a dark future "if the philosophy of government is to be the complete protection of the public" from such risks.

He declared creation of the Securities and Exchange commission and of a new stock exchange administration had fostered an erroneous belief that "investors can't lose any money." The customer has the right to know the risk he's taking, Martin added.

GOSS QUITS LAND BANK; ASSAILS LENDING POLICY

Washington, D. C., March 13 [Special].—Resignation of A. S. Goss, land bank commissioner of the Farm Credit administration, was announced by the White House today culminating a series of changes that followed the FCA's absorption into the department of agriculture under terms of the government reorganization plan.

In an interview Goss deplored what he said was a trend "toward a type of so-called credit in which personal responsibility is denied, loans are made to everybody, no adequate margin of safety is provided, and the government pays the loss whenever the borrower wants to quit paying."

"Farmers should never forget," he said, "that lending them more money and getting them deeper into debt is no substitute for lack of income, and that under sound farm conditions with fair prices, mortgage credit ceases to be a grievous problem." He added that farmers had "built up an independent credit standing almost equal to that of the government itself" which they "should not lightly surrender."

NBC PETITION ASKS TELEVISION UNIT FOR CHICAGO

The National Broadcasting company announced yesterday that it was filing applications with the communications commission for permits to build television stations in Chicago, Philadelphia, and Washington. The announcement was made in New York. Engineers of the mid-west division of NBC, while admitting that television was contemplated by the network in Chicago, said they had not been informed that applications had been filed.

The network several years ago obtained options on the use of the Civic Opera and Board of Trade towers for television purposes. The chain has been using the Civic Opera tower for short-wave broadcasting activities.

The proposed route would add 766 miles to the TWA system.

The British handle the French government requirements under a buying agreement, he explained. All contracts with the two governments are on an f. o. b. basis, with the buyer assuming all risks of shipment. Contract prices are considered fair, he added, and should enable the company to continue operations with a reasonable margin of profit.

"Business with other European countries," he said, "is adversely affected, but we continue to trade with buyers in neutral countries, largely on an f. o. b. plant basis, buyer arranging the necessary freight with payment made before shipment."

Compania Swift Internacional was incorporated June 26, 1918, in Argentina to take over the plants and business of Swift & Co. in Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil, Paraguay and Australia.

The $21,042,211 profit of Allied Chemical and Dye corporation for 1939 was incorrectly reported as equal to $91.50 a common share in yesterday's issue. The figure should have been $9.50.

The company, reduced long term bank loans from $750,000 to $500,000, purchased a pressure treating plant in Oklahoma for creosote application to poles, ties, and lumber, and acquired control of the Midwest Manufacturing company, Galesburg, Ill., whose chief product is electric refrigerator boxes.

Report of the Northern Indiana Public Service company for 1939 showed a net income of $2,366,039, or 54 cents a share, against $1,873,219, or 27 cents a share, the year previous. Therms of gas sold increased 9.07 per cent, and kilowatt hour sales of electricity gained 14.43 per cent during the year over 1938, Dean H. Mitchell, the president, said.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Hog prices rose 10 to 20 cents to the highest level since the middle of last week in yesterday's "weather market." Icy highways curtailed the movement of hogs to all leading packing centers in the middle west and resulted in a scramble for supplies at the Chicago stockyards.

The 11 leading markets received only 54,000 head, one of the smallest Wednesday totals of the season.

Both the top and the average for the day advanced 15 cents to $5.55 and $5.20, respectively. Advances were sharpest in the best grades of butchers weighing 230 to 270 pounds.

The scant supply of lambs was bid in at 10 to 15 cents higher rates in yesterday's brisk trade.

Despite the weather and condition of the highways, 10,000 cattle got thru to the market, including more steers and yearlings than buyers wanted. The market for these was draggy and barely steady to 15 cents lower. Spots in the common, medium, and better grades were off as much as 25 cents. Heifers sold steady to 25 cents lower. Calves advanced 25 to 50 cents.

JUDGE DISMISSES $44,000,000 SUIT FOR ACCOUNTING

New York, March 13 (AP).—Supreme Court Justice Aron Steuer today dismissed a suit for an accounting of more than $44,000,000 from two securities firms—H. M. Byllesby & Co. and Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co.—six other corporations, and 32 individuals.

The suit was filed by former United States Senator Daniel O. Hastings, appointed special trustee for the Standard Gas and Electric company by the Federal District court of Delaware. Hastings charged the defendants enriched themselves by wasting and diverting assets of the corporation between 1923 and 1930.

CHICAGO BANKS CONTINUE USUAL DIVIDEND RATES

Harris Trust Authorizes Payment of $2.50.

Dividend announcements yesterday included declarations by Chicago banks and trust companies. All were regular dividends.

Directors of the Harris Trust and Savings bank declared the regular $2.50 quarterly dividend.

Chicago Title and Trust company authorized the usual dividend of $1.50 a share. A quarterly payment of the same amount was announced by the Halsted Exchange National bank. These payments will all be made on April 1.

CHARGES BOSSES DREW BULK OF PENSION FUNDS

Washington, D. C., March 13 (AP).—The Federal Power commission, investigating the effect of service fees on consumer rates of operating companies of the Associated Gas and Electric system, heard today that "enormous charges were expended" on pension and insurance plans set up for employés of the utility empire.

Lambert McCallister, commission counsel, made the statement in offering a group of reports prepared by accountants on the operations of the pension and insurance plans. The reports showed three former executives received $1,307 out of monthly payments of $1,983 paid to 21 employés pensioned in 1939.

McAllister submitted a statement showing J. I. Mange, former president of Associated Gas and Electric, drew a monthly pension of $559; Charles H. Greenidge, identified as a former $36,000-a-year executive of the Utility Management corporation, one of the system service companies, got a monthly pension of $448, and Thomas A. Moffat, a former $27,000-a-year system executive, a monthly pension of $300. Pensions of other employés ranged from $15 to $65.

BANK OF AMERICA VOTES DIVIDENDS, RAISES SURPLUS

San Francisco, Cal., March 13 (AP).—Bank of America directors have ordered two quarterly dividends of 60 cents each, continuing the annual rate of $2.40 a share. The first dividend will be paid March 30 to stockholders of record March 15, and the next three months later.

The directorate also increased the bank's surplus to $44,500,000 by taking $500,000 from undivided profits and putting it into surplus.

The action came as conferences between officials of the bank and the federal treasury department were under way, presumably considering policies of the bank.

For more than a year preceding the bank-treasury talks in Washington treasury officials had been reported bringing pressure on bank directors to discontinue the dividend and devote earnings to writing down property investments and building up capital. No comment accompanied the dividend announcement.

United Biscuit Studies $4,400,000 Refunding

New York, March 13 [Special].—The refunding of $4,400,000 of 15 year 5 per cent debentures due in 1950 and $1,600,000 bank loans of United Biscuit Company of America, of Chicago, is now under active consideration, it was learned here today. The proposed financing also is expected to provide for a still undetermined amount of new capital. The financial group which offered the debentures in 1935, headed by Goldman, Sachs & Co., is expected to underwrite the new issue.

CORPORATIONS LIST BIG GAIN IN STOCKHOLDERS

Rise Is Called Means of Distributing Wealth.

New York, March 13 (AP).—Stockholders in a dozen big American corporations have increased from 280,000 to 2,272,000 since their shares were listed on the New York Stock exchange.

Describing it as a method of distributing wealth, the stock exchange called attention to this trend today in its monthly publication, The Exchange.

The exchange also reported stocks listed on its board paid in cash dividends last year $2,154,940,257, equal to $30 for every individual more than 21 years old in the United State.

Cited as No. 1 exhibit of the movement toward wider distribution of securities was the growth in American Telephone and Telegraph company's stockholders from 8,000 when it appeared on the exchange in 1901 to the latest figure of 636,800.

Steel Shows Big Increase.

The Pennsylvania railroad, which was listed in 1900, saw its common stock holders increase from 28,408 to 209,346. United States Steel, making its stock exchange bow in 1901, ran the stockholders' total to 164,176 from 13,918.

Runner-up to American Telephone, the General Motors list soared from 473 in 1916 to 364,590.

Gains in Other Companies.

Others in the group were: Radio Corporation of America, 229,842, compared with 26,223 when listed in 1924; Chrysler, 49,181, against 2,140 in 1925; American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation, 52,385, against 12,285 in 1929; General Foods, 65,620, against 22,030 in 1929; Standard Brands, 118,000, against 50,613 in 1929; Commonwealth and Southern corporation, 163,272, compared with 38,408 in 1929; Commonwealth Edison, 87,700, against 69,482 in 1937.

American Telephone, it was noted, had 942,375 shares outstanding when it applied for listing in June, 1901, and in 12 subsequent applications expanded the stock to 18,686,000 shares. Average holdings of American Telephone today are only 29 shares, compared with 118 in 1901, while the average for General Motors dropped from 1,000 in 1916 to 119.

INTERSTATE SALES UP.

Interstate Home Equipment Company, Inc., reports sales of $1,912,259 for the quarter ended Jan. 31, 1940, the first quarter of the company's fiscal year. This compares with sales of $1,700,040 in the corresponding period a year ago and is an increase of $212,218.82.

CHEMICALS FOR INDUSTRY.

Monsanto Chemical company seems to me to have a highly diversified line of products. I should like to have a report on the company and a comparison of profits in the last few years.—H. N.

Answer: Beginning as a manufacturer of saccharin in 1901 near East St. Louis, Ill., the Monsanto Chemical company in 1918 expanded into the production of acids and other heavy chemicals. Its operations continued to widen and they now touch nearly every phase of commercial chemistry.

Monsanto is the foremost manufacturer of medicinal and fine chemicals in this country and is one of the world's largest producers of synthetic organic chemicals. More than 300 different products are made in the company's 10 domestic and two English plants. These products are consumed either within the company itself or sold to other manufacturers for raw materials.

Leading consumer of Monsanto chemicals is the food industry, which takes about 12 per cent of the firm's total domestic sales. The drug and pharmaceutical trade is the second largest customer among 40 industries using Monsanto chemicals and accounts for about one-tenth of the sales. The glass industry is the third largest outlet.

Basic raw materials used in Monsanto processes are coal tar products, sulphur, pyrites, salt, sodium nitrate, phosphate rock and bauxite. By-products are used again to derive other chemicals.

Capitalization of Monsanto consists of 100,000 shares of $4.50 cumulative preferred stock of no par value and 1,241,712 shares of $10 par common stock. The company has no funded debt.

1935	$3,843,000	$3.85	$1.50
1936	4,469,000	4.01	3.00
1937	4,999,000	4.40	3.00
1938	3,151,000	2.35	2.00
1939	5,546,000	4.01	3.00

A dividend of 50 cents a common share will be paid tomorrow on stock of record March 1. Dividends on the preferred stock are being disbursed semiannually.

6. The man on the shift from 8 p. m. till 3 a. m. The flies in the window indicated the murder was committed in the daytime. If the poison gas had been tossed into the room at night the flies probably would have been on the ceiling and not in the windows. The man working the 3 a. m. to 11 a. m. shift therefore was dismissed as a suspect.

The four maps below illustrate the ebb and flow of Russian domination over the Baltic region in the last two centures. The czars incorporated the entire territory of Finland into their nation in 1809 and held it until after the world war, when modern Finland came into being. Comparison of the top and bottom maps shows how nearly soviet Russia's acquisitions under the treaty ending the latest war parallel what she held in the Baltic under Peter the Great. Livonia and Esthonia of his time are the modern Latvia and Estonia, which the Reds now dominate, and Courland, which was then independent, was made up of territory now in Lithuania and Latvia.
